Police Press Search For Touhy Killers

Gang Boss Gunned Down 23 Days After Parole

CHICAGO (AP)—Police pressed their search today for the shotgun killers of Roger Touhy, notorious prohibition era gang leader, who was slain from ambush last night.

Police said they had no leads in connection with the slaying of the 61-year-old Touhy who was cut down by six shotgun blasts by two assailants.

ROGER TOUHY
Six shotgun blasts

His violent death came 23 days after his parole from Stateville Prison where he had served nearly 26 years for a kidnapping he said he did not commit.

He died on the operating table in St. Anne's Hospital after telling police he did not know the assassins. Police said they had no leads immediately.

AT SISTER'S HOME

Touhy, known as "The Terrible" during his gangland reign in the 1920s, was shot as he was about to enter the home of his sister, Ethel Alesia.

With him was Walter Miller, 62, a retired police sergeant and a principal defense witness at Touhy's trial for the kidnaping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, a one-time confidence man. Miller was seriously wounded in the back and arms. His condition was reported critical. Miller fired several shots at the slayers before he collapsed.

Factor, who lives in Beverly Hills, was in Chicago in connection with a libel suit against Touhy. Told that Touhy had been killed, he told a reporter: "I am very broken up about it. I hope they get the killer."

IN RESTAURANT

Factor said he was in a near North Side restaurant when he learned of the shooting.

"This really breaks me up," Factor said. "I'm very sorry to hear it. I just hope they find the killer."

Factor had sued Touhy and others for three million dollars in connection with publication of Touhy's biography, "The Stolen Years." He contended statements in the book libeled him.

In an ambulance on the way to the hospital, Touhy told policemen, "I'll be all right. I'm O.K."

However, he had lost much blood from a gaping wound in the left leg above the knee. Other pellets from the shotguns wounded him in the right leg below the knee.

City Manager Duerr Quits In Sausalito

Sausalito City Manager Donald A. Duerr today announced his resignation, effective Jan. 15.

He said he is leaving to accept a new job in Marin County. Duerr said he could not disclose at this time what his new position is, but it is not in municipal government.

Mayor Howard Sievers said in a press release: "The city council greatly regrets losing the services of a man who has done such an outstanding job the past four years . . . However, we are happy that he has this opportunity to advance his career, and we wish him well in his new endeavor."

IMMEDIATE STEPS

The mayor said "immediate steps" are being taken to find a replacement "as soon as possible."

Duerr, 38, is Sausalito's first city manager under a council-manager ordinance adopted in December, 1955.

Prior to service in Sausalito, he was an administrative assistant to the city manager at Glendale, and prior to that was in an administrative position with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation at Fresno.

Duerr said his decision was sudden and recent. He notified the mayor and each member of the council informally.

NO MEETING

The council's regularly scheduled meeting this week was not held because of a lack of a quorum.

He said his leavetaking is amicable in every way.

Duerr, a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley with a master of arts degree in political science and a major in public administration, said he would announce soon after

Ike Carries Crusade For Peace Into Africa

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

President Eisenhower took his peace crusade into Africa today and encouraged the continent's millions in their struggle for a better way of life of their own choosing.

The President whirled into Tunisia from sea aboard a helicopter and received a thundering ovation from a third of a million citizens in that staunchly pro-Western nation.

In a three-hour and 47-minute visit he drove through a six-mile valley of cheering humanity, talked for an hour and a half with President Habib Bourguiba and visited a cemetery containing the graves of 3,000 Americans slain in World War II.

Then he hustled back to the cruiser Des Moines by helicopter and set sail for France, where he will go ashore again tomorrow.

The communique issued by Eisenhower and Bourguiba made some points dear to the hearts of Tunisians and to many other Africans.

It expressed "grave anxiety" over the fact there has been no solution to the war in neighboring Algeria. It said the two presidents agreed that "achievement of self-determination by African and Asian peoples is one of the most important events of our times."

Eisenhower now has covered more than 14,000 of the 20,000 miles of his trip. He will go to Spain and Morocco after France and return home Dec. 22.

Muir Woods Has Water Worries

By DONALD G. DAVIS

In parched Marin there is a ridgeland above Mill Valley that, except for its flora and fauna, might as well be the Gobi Desert.

The area is Muir Woods Park. The some 600 residents live in daily fear of fire without the water pressure to fight a holocaust. Some of them don't dare install washing machines.

Some of the homes have no water at all during certain periods of the day.

It isn't just the dry season that causes their dilemma. Officials of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. say water pressure in the area, and the system of pipes serving the homes, has always been inadequate.

Turn on a hose, they say, and you're lucky if you get a few drops to moisten the inside of your eye.

Muir Woods residents consider their situation so critical they want two state parks and the Muir Woods National Monument closed to the public. The parks are Mt. Tamalpais and Stinson Beach.

Water for this ridge area, with its breathtaking views, comes from springs on Mt. Tamalpais. It is part of the Marin Municipal Water District. The district serves most of the rest of Marin's more populous areas from its steadily dwindling supply in man-made lakes.

Muir Woods water courses down from the springs to a big water tank named La Pachet atfer an engineer who laid out the residential development in 1913. Some of the pipes he put are still there.

The La Pachet system operates on a gravity system. Persons living downslope get their water just as it flows naturally through the pipes. Pressure varies from neighbor to neighbor.

The Newell Armsbys of 20 Washington Park avenue say the pressure in their pipes has never, in the four years they have lived there, been higher

WEATHER MAN GIVES 6-4 ODDS: RAIN TOMORROW

Rain, that scarce Northern California commodity, may reach Marin County and the rest of the Bay Area by tomorrow afternoon, the Weather Man predicted today.

Some rain was expected to begin the extreme northwest portions of the state today, and there was a 60 per cent chance of the Bay Area getting showers tomorrow, the forecast said.

The Weather Man hopefully detected a leak in the high pressure fence that was barring rainstorms from the state.

Tonight's low temperatures will be 43 to 51. Winds were expected to be from 8 to 15 miles per hour today.

Gale warnings were out from Pt. Arena northward and winds from 30 to 50 miles an hour were expected in that area late today and tomorrow.

Military Employees To Get Pay Raises

Approximately 400 civilian employees at Hamilton Air Force Base, plus an undetermined number at the Southern Marin forts and the Army Corps of Engineers' installation in Sausalito, will receive pay raises effective Jan. 9 and 10.

They are among 30,000 civilian workers at Bay Area military installations who will benefit by the raises which were announced yesterday in Washington by the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Those employees under Hamilton Field jurisdiction will take home their raises one day earlier than the remainder of the armed forces because of a difference in pay date schedules, said Frank McGill, base personnel officer.

CHANGES UNDER WAY

It was not possible at this time to indicate the average increase in terms of dollars, nor to estimate the total income the raises would represent locally, McGill said today, because of a change in grade and employee step schedules now under way at the base.

The raises at Hamilton amount to from one cent to 28 cents an hour, he said.

They apply only to the "blue collar" or "wage board" employees, which include unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled craftsmen. The raises are not applicable to the "white collar" or clerical, manegerial or professional help.

BELOW MARIN SCALE

Although the official announcement of the increases indicated that they would provide rates up to those paid for comparable work in private industry, a check of wages paid Marin County craftsmen revealed the civil service scales to be lower than prevailing Marin wages.

As a result of the pay increase, those Hamilton workers classified in Grade 10, Step 2, which includes steamfitters, were raised from $2.55 an hour to $2.94 an hour.

A spokesman for the Marin County building and construction trades said journeymen members of the plumbers, pipefitters and steamfitters locals are paid $4.14 an hour.

Those in the classification of laborer at Hamilton (Grade 2, Step 2) were granted increases from $2.19 an hour to $2.34 an hour.

Pay for members of the hodcarriers, construction and general laborers local 291 ranges from $2.86½ cents to $3.11½ cents an hour.

Thirteen Air Force employees at Mill Valley Air Force Station atop Mt. Tamalpais will benefit from the raises along with those at Hamilton.

The Army said it was impossible to give a breakdown as to how many civilian employees are affected at the Southern Marin forts. Nine hundred fifty in all are employed at the forts and the various Presidio of San Francisco installations, the Army said.

About two dozen are at the Army Corps of Engineers' installation in Sausalito, it was believed. This payroll is part of that for the Engineers' district in San Francisco.

Grandmother Saved By Ex-GI's Friend

LaRance Vante Sullivan, 28, who chose Red China and then changed his mind to return to Marin last year, today headed for Napa State Hospital for his fourth commitment since repatriation.

His 80-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Mary Bell Frost, who has been a mother to him most of his life, complained that Sullivan tried to choke her to death last night at her apartment in House 750, Marin City.

In an interview in the sheriff's office today, Sullivan groped for answers to the problems that have beset him since he returned from Communist China in April of 1958.

He named alcohol as the immediate problem. But behind that is the constant "ridicule" that he faces ever since he was branded a "turncoat," along with 21 other American soldiers captured in Korea by the Reds who chose the Communist way of life, then changed their minds.

"I've been made an issue coming and going. Everywhere I go, it's been more ridicule than anything else . . . I don't ask for nothing but my freedom. I try to understand people and want them to understand me," complained Sullivan.

"I believe in the desires, wishes and hopes of all people." That is the reason, he said, that he went to Red China after his capture in Korea.

Sullivan married Berniece Brown, 23, of Menlo Park in June of last year at a Marin City ceremony. He said they began quarreling, and he took to drinking. She had him committed three times to mental institutions. He was discharged

Fortner Youth Must Spend Yule In Custody

Clifford Fortner, 15-year-old confessed slayer of Lorna Lax, must spend Christmas in the Marin Juvenile Hall, Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled yesterday in denying an application by the boy's father, Norman Fortner, that he be granted Christmas at home.

What will happen to him in the New Year may be decided at a court hearing tentatively scheduled for Dec. 30 before Judge Keating. At that time, reports from the probation officer and doctors will be presented to the judge for his decision on whether Clifford should be tried in adult court for murder, or heard privately in juvenile proceedings.

Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher said his office is prepared to make a recommendation on what to do with the youth. If he is found to be a fit subject for juvenile proceedings, his sentence could range anywhere from immediate probation to commitment to the California Youth Authority.

If California Youth Authority takes jurisdiction, it could hold him or parole him.

At juvenile hall, Clifford is "mixing well with the others and causing no trouble at all," according to the superintendent.

The hall is already decorated with a Christmas tree and other trimmings. Christmas programs are set up for all of next week, climaxed with a Christmas dinner on Friday. Clothing and gifts have been donated as usual for the youngsters.

Fortner Youth Must Spend Yule In Custody

Clifford Fortner, 15-year-old confessed slayer of Lorna Lax, must spend Christmas in the Marin Juvenile Hall, Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled yesterday in denying an application by the boy's father, Norman Fortner, that he be granted Christmas at home.

What will happen to him in the New Year may be decided at a court hearing tentatively scheduled for Dec. 30 before Judge Keating. At that time, reports from the probation officer and doctors will be presented to the judge for his decision on whether Clifford should be tried in adult court for murder, or heard privately in juvenile proceedings.

Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher said his office is prepared to make a recommendation on what to do with the youth. If he is found to be a fit subject for juvenile proceedings, his sentence could range anywhere from immediate probation to commitment to the California Youth Authority.

If California Youth Authority takes jurisdiction, it could hold him or parole him.

At juvenile hall, Clifford is "mixing well with the others and causing no trouble at all," according to the superintendent.

The hall is already decorated with a Christmas tree and other trimmings. Christmas programs are set up for all of next week, climaxed with a Christmas dinner on Friday. Clothing and gifts have been donated as usual for the youngsters.

TOO BUSY TO WATCH

Pilot Didn't Know He'd Set Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—"I didn't know my speed. I was too busy watching my altitude."

The man who has flown a plane faster than anyone else in the world — 1,520.9 miles an hour—said that yesterday. Air Force Maj. Joseph W. Rogers, 35, flew into Washington for a news conference and to get a Distinguished Flying Cross for his feat.

The reason Rogers was so anxious about his altitude: To qualify for an international record, he had to keep his F106 jet fighter on level flight for two passes through an 18-kilometer course.

If the roaring jet had drifted up and down more than 50 meters (about 150 feet), the record claim would have been tossed out.

It was Rogers' first try to a speed record. He took off from Edwards Air Force Base Tuesday morning in the delta-winged all-weather fighter.

At 40,000 feet he turned on the powerful afterburner. The plane leaped to two and a third times the speed of sound while Rogers guided it through the measured course of a little more than 11 miles.

After a second pass a voice from the ground shouted in his earphones: "We made it. We've got enough."

That meant he had bettered the previous world record claim, made by the Soviets in October for an E66 fighter that flew 1,483 miles an hour.

The fastest previous U. S. flight was 1,404.9 miles an hour, set May 16, 1958 by Maj. Walter W. Irwin, then stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base.

MAJ. JOSEPH J. ROGERS
Altitude was his anxiety

Drivers Of State Cars Must Take Course In Safety

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has ordered all employees who drive state cars to take a safe driving course by June 30, 1961.

The governor said he hopes the program, to cost between $160,000 and $200,000, will cut the state's accident costs by 35 per cent.

Accidents involving state cars cost the state two and one-half million dollars a year. Damage claims, while not a charge to the state, cost another two million.

Car Flips; Man Unhurt

Wayne G. Dillaboy, 23, of South San Francisco, escaped injury last night when his car struck a divider strip on Highway 101 near Sir Francis Drake boulevard and overturned, the California Highway Patrol reported.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

A.F. Waste Charged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The General Accounting Office, Congress' watchdog on government spending, has charged the Air Force with wasting millions of dollars by failing to replace worn-out vehicles.

Government auditors said the annual repair bills on some old autos, trucks and buses owned by the Air Force are more than it would cost to replace them with new ones.

Incomes Set Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government reports showed today that personal incomes rose to a record high in November, posting the biggest advance in five months.

The Commerce Department said wages, salaries, and other income payments to individuals, increased by two and one-half billion dollars from October, to a record annual rate of $384,800,000,000.

Poison Investigation

MUNICH (UPI)—West German intelligence and counter-espionage authorities were said today to be investigating the reported attempt by Communists to mass-poison 1,200 employees of the anti-Red Radio Free Europe.

RFE officials said yesterday Communists agents, acting on orders of "a Communist diplomat stationed in Western Europe," put deadly atropine in salt shakers at the RFE cafeteria.

The German authorities investigating the case were presumed to be intelligence and counter-espionage personnel, whose headquarters are in a secluded forest area only a short distance from Radio Free Europe.

State Fire Loss Grave

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California has suffered 10 times more forest fire damage this year than in 1958, the U. S. Forest Service reported yesterday.

This year has been one of the worst in the last 30, with damage totaling 66 million dollars to the state's forests.

Seagull Attacks Castle

ST. MICHAEL'S MOUNT, England (UPI)—Lord St. Elevan reports a giant seagull has been attacking his castle, snatching hats off himself and his friends.

Guards Suspended

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—The state has suspended 11 state prison guards indicted on charges of abusing prisoners.

Twelve guards and two former guard officers were indicted by a federal grand jury at Jacksonville Tuesday on charges they violated the civil rights of 20 prisoners who had created disturbances in the maximum security building in May last year.

Copper Wage Pact

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Kennecott Copper Corp. and the Mine-Mill Workers Union reached accord on a two-year contract yesterday which is expected to pave the way for the early return to work of 11,500 copper workers in four Western states.

The agreement, which includes a wage package of 22.3 cents an hour, was reached on the 129th day of the strike against Kennecott holdings in Utah, Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico.

Cop Not Too Foxy

BRAINTREE, England (AP)—Claude Grimwood of nearby Wethersfield paid a five-pound ($14) fine for illegally setting traps for foxes. One of the traps caught the village policeman.

Cold Snap Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP)—Temperatures will average below normal for the season over most of the western half of the nation during the next 30 days, the Weather Bureau said yesterday.

Kidnap Suspects Jailed

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Two men and a girl suspected of kidnaping and robbing an elderly man and woman near Santa Cruz were arrested last night by Washoe County sheriff's deputies.

The suspects are Gene York, 26; Murl Lee, 21; and Sharon Johnson, 14. Deputies nabbed them in a Reno motel shortly before midnight.

Victims of the kidnaping and robbery were Mrs. Clara Hoeller, 78, of San Jose, and Peter Trimborn, 74, who lives in a guest cottage behind Mrs. Hoeller's home.

No Tax Cut Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Income tax reduction is unlikely in 1960.

The steady increase in federal spending, government need for every tax dollar, the monumental complexity of the tax laws, and deeply rooted congressional difference add up to a tax status quo for another year.

This became clear today as the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee neared the end of five weeks of hearings on future comprehensive revision of the tax laws.

Four Dies In Fire

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A grandmother and her daughter's three children burned to death here last night while the children's parents were at an automatic laundry.

The dead were Hattie Hardy, 70, and the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Yarborough: Anthony, 5; Denise, 3; and an 18-month-old male baby. Dist. Fire Chief Charles Adams could offer no immediate cause for the fire.

Plant Closing Defended

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman testified yesterday he padlocked a Wilson and Co. meat plant because "somebody was going to be killed" in picket line violence.

"People are today living who would now be dead" because Wilson' plant at Albert Lea, Minn., was closed and martial law declared in the southern Minnesota town, Freeman told a three-judge panel hearing a company demand that the plant be reopened.

Freeman ordered 200 national guardsmen into Albert Lea a week ago after as many as 1,000 striking meat workers massed on picket lines and stoned and spat upon nonstrikers leaving the plant.

Yemen Troops Desert

ADEN, Aden Protectorate (UPI)—The Iman Ahmed of Yemen sent a force of 2,500 soldiers, backed by Russian-made tanks, to fight against rebel Hashed tribes, but 800 troops deserted on reaching Hashed territory, according to reliable sources here. The sources said the deserters took 20 Soviet-made tanks with them.

Scooter Hits Car; Boy Hurt

George Francis Grant, 18, of 15 Willow avenue, Corte Madera, was hospitalized yesterday with cuts and bruises suffered when his motor scooter collided with a car in San Rafael.

Grant received cuts over his left eye, forehead and on his right knee when his scooter hit the right rear side of a car and sent him flying against the car window.

The accident occurred about 9:45 a.m. at Third and B streets.

Police Sgt. Louis Foster and Officer Thomas Cheetham said Mrs. Maxine L. Diercks of 1130 Butterfield road, San Anselmo, was headed north on B street. She stopped for the stop sign, then proceeded across. The car was nearly across Third street when Grant's scooter headed west on Third, crashed with the rear of the car.

Police issued no citation.

Grant's parents operate the Eat and Run cafe in Kentfield.

Sales Pitch

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — A Niagara County Court House secretary who bought a new bathing suit reported finding a note in the box that explained: "This puts all of you where it should be."

Judge Upholds Teacher Who Booted Pupil

VAN NUYS (AP)—A judge says a kick in the pants, properly used in the schools, "might solve some of our juvenile delinquency problems."

Municipal Judge Francis A. Cochran made that remark in dismissing charges against Rudy Ramos, 30, a high school history teacher fired for kicking a student for disciplinary purposes.

Ramos was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

"I don't see how a kick in the buttocks, when properly applied, without any apparent physical injury resulting therefrom, constitutes a deadly weapon," the judge said.

An estimated 1,200,000 amateur photographers do their own darkroom work.

State Piling Up Surplus—On Paper

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's state government is heading toward a "paper" surplus on June 30, 1960, of more than 73 million dollars.

Legislative analyst A. Alan Post told the Joint Senate-Assembly Budget Committee yesterday that a dramatic upturn in the economy was responsible.

He said sales tax collections, often used as a barometer of prosperity in the state, are up 30 to 33 million dollars from an estimate made only four months ago by the state Department of Finance. Other state money collections account for an over-all 37 million dollar increase in state revenue.

Personal income, which has a direct effect on the sales tax, was estimated at $40,037,000,000 during the third quarter of the year. This is an increase of 7.7 per cent over the third quarter of 1958.

But Assemblyman Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles), chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee which must adopt a state budget during the next Legislature, pointed out that all is not as cheerful as it seemed.

"This is only a paper surplus," he told the committee. "Some departments have substantial deficits." He pointed to the state Division of Beaches and Parks as an example.

Master Plan For Colleges Again Studied

BERKELEY (UPI) — Delegates from the University of California and the state Board of Education gathered here today to complete the most controversial sections of a proposed master plan for higher education in California.

The proposal, as outlined here last week, would require an amendment to the state Constitution. The Legislature and the voters would have to approve these far reaching changes:

1. A separate state college board with the same constitutional powers as the university's regents.

2. A coordinating council to sit as an adviser over both the colleges and the university, with power to publish its budget recommendations and send them to the governor.

3. Limited granting of the doctorate degree and wider research privileges for the state colleges.

If approved by a liaison committee today, the proposal goes tomorrow to a joint meeting of the Board of Education, acting for the colleges, and the university regents.

PRISON BAND CAN MARCH JUST SO FAR

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)—The Nevada State Prison band can take part in the South Lake Tahoe Winter-Carnival, but it will have to be in the end of the parade on the Nevada side.

"If we let them march the full length of the parade, they would be outside our jurisdiction and might keep on marching," Warden Jack Fogliani explained.

Experts Urge Streamlined Math Courses

SANTA BARBARA (UPI)—Top mathematicians have proposed that California high schools streamline their math courses by cutting away years and "obsolete" theories.

The mathematicians met here yesterday at the invitation of the state Department of Education and warned that schools "cannot focus on teaching rote mathematics skills."

They suggested that the present four-year course be compressed into three years and that the fourth year be devoted to present college courses, including analytical geometry, laws of probability, statistics and some calculus.

They also recommended that fast learners be separated from average students to allow them a better chance to learn at their own speed the mathematics which will be needed in the space age.

At the same time they proposed an end to separate study for geometry, algebra and trigonometry, and suggested that all three be studied as they relate to each other and to problems they are used to solve.

Abraham is the Hebrew name for "father of a multitude."

Guard Desegregated

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has ordered that the last segregated unit of the California National Guard be broken up.

Brown said yesterday that the unit, the 119th Military Police Battalion Headquarters Group in Los Angeles, is the last of some 280 national guard units in the state that is made up almost entirely of Negro personnel.

Aliens Must File Soon With U.S.

District Director H. D. Nice of the Immigration and Naturalization Service estimates that more than 204,000 aliens will report their address in the San Francisco District during January under the federal alien address report program. Of these, between 2,500 and 3,000 will be from Marin County.

All non-citizens, Nice said today, must file the address report except those in diplomatic status, foreign representatives of certain international organizations and those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers. Violators may be fined u. to $200, imprisoned for 30 days and deported.

Registration forms may be obtained at any post office.

State Piling Up Surplus—On Paper

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's state government is heading toward a "paper" surplus on June 30, 1960, of more than 73 million dollars.

Legislative analyst A. Alan Post told the Joint Senate-Assembly Budget Committee yesterday that a dramatic upturn in the economy was responsible.

He said sales tax collections, often used as a barometer of prosperity in the state, are up 30 to 33 million dollars from an estimate made only four months ago by the state Department of Finance. Other state money collections account for an over-all 37 million dollar increase in state revenue.

Personal income, which has a direct effect on the sales tax, was estimated at $40,037,000,000 during the third quarter of the year. This is an increase of 7.7 per cent over the third quarter of 1958.

But Assemblyman Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles), chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee which must adopt a state budget during the next Legislature, pointed out that all is not as cheerful as it seemed.

"This is only a paper surplus," he told the committee. "Some departments have substantial deficits." He pointed to the state Division of Beaches and Parks as an example.

Master Plan For Colleges Again Studied

BERKELEY (UPI) — Delegates from the University of California and the state Board of Education gathered here today to complete the most controversial sections of a proposed master plan for higher education in California.

The proposal, as outlined here last week, would require an amendment to the state Constitution. The Legislature and the voters would have to approve these far reaching changes:

1. A separate state college board with the same constitutional powers as the university's regents.

2. A coordinating council to sit as an adviser over both the colleges and the university, with power to publish its budget recommendations and send them to the governor.

3. Limited granting of the doctorate degree and wider research privileges for the state colleges.

If approved by a liaison committee today, the proposal goes tomorrow to a joint meeting of the Board of Education, acting for the colleges, and the university regents.

PRISON BAND CAN MARCH JUST SO FAR

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)—The Nevada State Prison band can take part in the South Lake Tahoe Winter Carnival, but it will have to be in the end of the parade on the Nevada side.

"If we let them march the full length of the parade, they would be outside our jurisdiction and might keep on marching," Warden Jack Fogliani explained.

Experts Urge Streamlined Math Courses

SANTA BARBARA (UPI)—Top mathematicians have proposed that California high schools streamline their math courses by cutting away years and "obsolete" theories.

The mathematicians met here yesterday at the invitation of the state Department of Education and warned that schools "cannot focus on teaching rote mathematics skills."

They suggested that the present four-year course be compressed into three years and that the fourth year be devoted to present college courses, including analytical geometry, laws of probability, statistics and some calculus.

They also recommended that fast learners be separated from average students to allow them a better chance to learn at their own speed the mathematics which will be needed in the space age.

At the same time they proposed an end to separate study for geometry, algebra and trigonometry, and suggested that all three be studied as they relate to each other and to problems they are used to solve.

Abraham is the Hebrew name for "father of a multitude."

Guard Desegregated

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has ordered that the last segregated unit of the California National Guard be broken up.

Brown said yesterday that the unit, the 119th Military Police Battalion Headquarters Group in Los Angeles, is the last of some 280 national guard units in the state that is made up almost entirely of Negro personnel.

Aliens Must File Soon With U.S.

NIKE-ZEUS TAKEOFF — The Army has released this photo of the takeoff of an early test model of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile. A Nike-Zeus was fired in a New Mexico test yesterday, but the second stage failed to function. The defense weapon is to be armed with a nuclear warhead and would be used to destroy missiles aimed at the United States. (AP Wirephoto)

Jupiter, Snark Missiles Launched Successfully

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Jupiter missile dropped a dummy warhead on an ocean target and a Snark flew a 2,000-mile round trip mission in successful launchings here yesterday.

A test model of the Army's Nike-Zeus missile was fired at the White Sands range in New Mexico, but the second stage failed. It was the third test of the huge weapon, which is intended to be armed with a nuclear warhead and to intercept and destroy missiles aimed at the United States.

The Jupiter, which soon will be deployed with NATO troops in Italy and Turkey, has been tested over various distances to prove its versatility.

The Snark traveled about 1,000 miles to the vicinity of Puerto Rico, then turned around and same back for a smooth landing at the cape. The 4½-hour flight was guided all the way from a ground station here.

The purpose of the Snark return flight is to recover an instrumentation package in the missile and to retrieve the rocket for future launchings as a money-saving factor.

Greater Latitude For School Boards Urged By Group

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California county school superintendents have proposed that local school districts be given the legal power to act on their own when not forbidden to do so by state law.

The superintendents made the proposal yesterday after a three-day meeting of the Assn. of California County Superintendents of Schools.

At present, the group said, districts must have each activity specifically authorized by state law. They also urged greater state and federal aid without reducing local control.

New Backers Are Claimed By Rockefeller

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, taking political soundings in the Southwest today, said he is receiving more promises of support if he becomes a candidate for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

He looks like a candidate—and an increasingly confident one.

Rockefeller headed for Texas today, nearing the end of an eight-state tour. The purpose, he says, is to help him decide whether to announce for the GOP nomination.

GOT ENCOURAGEMENT

Even in a tightly-controlled Republican luncheon in Milwaukee Tuesday, an affair dominated by adherents of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, he says he received encouragement.

"Some of them indicated they would support me," he said. "It was a small but heartening portion."

He gave a similar report after meetings in Indiana, earlier on this trip.

In both Wisconsin and Indiana—and in fact every state he is visiting—party leaders favor Nixon for the nomination.

CONCEDES EDGE

Rockefeller readily concedes Nixon has a big edge.

In Oklahoma City, he said "a high percentage of the party leaders, county chairmen and others—perhaps 70 per cent—are for Nixon."

Reporters asked whether he is considering trying for the nomination because of a belief that Nixon, if named, could win the presidential election.

"No, sir," Rockefeller said. "I deplore any tactics based on a Nixon-can't-win argument.

"He has been an outstanding vice president and has done a superb job."

Wandering tortoises carrying lighted candles on their shells provided illumination in many Turkish gardens in the middle of the 19th Century.

NOW THAT THEY KNOW, DOES IT NEED FIXING?

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—City officials scratched their heads when they uncovered a 50-year-old ordinance directing the mayor to authorize repairs "upon the willapus-wallapus at a cost not to exceed $85."

City Traffic Engineer Joe Heidenreich began making queries.

Someone told him a willapus-wallapus is a cake with caramel icing. No, said another, it's a fur-bearing animal. There were dozens of other guesses.

Then City Engineer George Gard came up with the right answer: A willapus-wallapus is an outmoded name for a steamroller.

Anti-Jewish Outbreak In Resort Town Probed

ELSINORE, Riverside County (UPI)—The state attorney general's office has launched an investigation into reports of anti-semitic acts at this small resort town.

An investigator arrived here yesterday after Assistant Atty. Gen. Charles A. O'Brien said in San Francisco he received several letters reporting the breaking of windows in synagogues and the painting of anti-Jewish signs on homes.

Police Chief Walter Bittle said an anti-semitic campaign began last spring and there persisted a feeting of unrest in this town of about 2,400 persons. Bittle said the unrest stems from the water situation. He said the town's attraction as a resort was based on its mineral water which contains a high content of natural fluoride.

The state Department of Health has sought to restrain Elsinore from using the natural well water which has as much as three or four parts-per-million of fluoride. The health department maximum for fluoride is one part-per-million, but hotel and baths owners were fighting to continue to have the natural water used for the town's water supply.

"Most of the hotels and baths are owned by persons of the Jewish faith, and there are persons who are against the heavy mineral water and blame the Jews for forcing it on the people," Bittle said.

School Permit Seekers Absent

Consideration of a request for a private school use permit was postponed to Jan. 5 by the Larkspur Planning Commission Tuesday night when the applicants, a San Francisco couple, failed to appear.

The application of James and Jaclyn Albright asks permission to establish a school in a house at 214 Magnolia avenue.

It does not mention what type of school is planned or what grades would be established. Yet it declares cryptically, "There is an intense need in the community for a school of this type and age bracket."

Commissioners John Vandall and Vaughn Marker did not attend the brief meeting.

Corte Maderan Fined For Drunken Driving

Butler Raymond Tullis, 57, of 5116 Paradise drive, Corte Madera, must pay a $200 fine and not drive for the next 60 days.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Tullis yesterday for his first drunken driving offense, which occurred in Larkspur on Dec. 4. Tullis was also put on probation for one year.

Storm Loses Punch As It Moves East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The late autumn rain and snow storm which stranded hundreds of travelers in New Mexico and flooded streams in Texas lost its punch as it moved eastward today.

The storm piled up 32 to 36 inches of snow in the area of Vaughn, N. M., and lesser amounts over 10,000 square miles of eastern New Mexico.

At Vaughn, a town of 1,400, at least 800 travelers were stranded yesterday.

Travelers spent most of the night in an auditorium in city hall on mattresses and blankets supplied by townspeople.

Highway crewmen worked the night through to clear three main snow-clogged routes which converge on Vauhn.

In eastern Texas, where rain fell for about 43 straight hours, the Weather Bureau said the Trinity, Sabine and Sulphur Rivers were flooding at points. No extensive damage was expected.

In West Texas, highway authorities reported U. S. 66 leading into the New Mexico snow area was impassable.

Principal minerals of Israel are limestone, sulphur, rock salt, gypsum and sandstones.

FRESNO PLANS TO RID ITSELF OF PIGEONS

FRESNO (AP)—The pigeons in downtown Fresno are going to be tranquilized right out of existence.

City and county health department, cooperating with the Central California Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, have agreed to administer a drug to the birds at their feeding places, then gather them us for disposition at an animal shelter.

The plan, which was pronounced successful in Burbank, will be carried out early in January.

Linda and her brother were born Dec. 3 at Marin General Hospital. The announcement incorrectly stated that they were twin sons.

Trujillo Plane Forces U.S. Aircraft Down

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (UPI) — The Air Force confirmed today that a U.S. military plane was forced down by Dominican Republic fighter planes Tuesday.

Eighth Air Force headquarters here said the C47 carrying a U.S. military attache was intercepted by fighter planes near the Dominican-Haiti border and forced to land at an airport in the Dominican Republic.

The plane was piloted by Lt. Col. Robert Foley, U.S. military attache to Venezuela, the Dominican Republic and Haiti. Maj. Gen. John G. Williams was co-pilot.

An Air Force spokesman here said he did not know whether the plane was fired on.

The spokesman said the plane was on a routine flight from Ciudad Trujillo in the Dominican Republic to Haiti when the incident occurred Tuesday. The plane later was allowed to resume its flight, the spokesman said.

Aluminum Firms Reach Agreement With Union

CHICAGO (UPI)—Five aluminum companies have reached a broad, general agreement with the United Steelworkers on over-all money terms of new labor contracts, two sources close to negotiations said today.

The sources, who declined to be identified, said bargaining teams are working out, on a company-by-company basis, details of how wage and fringe benefits will be spelled out for 33,000 industry production workers.

One source said the general agreement, roughed out by union president David J. McDonald and top industry executives in two days of "summit" conferences, provides for three-year contracts that will "closely follow" the pattern of the steelworkers recent agreement with can companies.

The can settlement called for a 21 cent an hour wage increase over three years and an additional seven to nine cents an hour in fringe benefits.

The source said negotiators still are trying to reconcile minor differences in wage structure from company to company and from one geographical region to another.

Another source told United Press International that speculation on the exact amount of the wage package is still "premature." He said the broad general agreement is "a blend between the can agreement, the Kaiser steel settlement and recent copper industry agreements.

Air Base's Disputed 'Buddy' System Ended

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Henceforth, noncommissioned officers at Forbes Air Force Base don't have to be buddies with men in the ranks. They have been officially relieved.

Brig. Gen. Ariel Neilsen, commander of the 21st Air Division, rescinded the buddy policy which, among other things, got a few senators up in the air.

Neilsen said in a prepared statement that the intent of his policy, and the procedures for carrying it out, had been misunderstood.

The order had divided each squadron at Forbes into groups of three to five airmen. A noncommissioned officer was assigned to each group as the leader or "buddy." Each noncom was charged to "know what the airman does with his off-duty time, whom he associates with, and to counsel him on the areas where he shows a weakness."

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.), chairman of the Senate Constitutional Rights Committee, demanded a full report on the policy from the secretary of the Air Force. He said he was concerned that the system might abridge constitutional rights of the airmen.

Former Nazi Quits Job At University

NEW YORK (UPI)—A naturalization examiner today questioned Dr. Edward Veith Sittler, an American who turned Nazi in World War II, about his fitness to become a U. S. citizen again.

The 43-year-old professor resigned yesterday from the faculty of Long Island University as the result of a furor which arose when the public learned of his past. A spokesman for the Immigration Service said today's hearing had been set far in advance and had no connection with events at the university.

Sittler filed a preliminary application for restoration of citizenship last month. If he comes through the interrogation at the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service all right, he probably will file a petition fo citizenship with the U. S. District Court here later today.

Sittler admits that he went to Germany as a student in 1937, stayed when war broke out in 1939 and renounced his U. S. citizenship. He says he joined the Nazi Party and was employed as a translator in a Nazi radio center but denies that he performed any propaganda services harmful to the United States.

GUESS HUBBY JUST DOESN'T CARE FOR HAM

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—A Bakersfield housewife charged with assault with a deadly weapon says she shot her husband because he preferred his girl friend's steak to her ham. Steak-loving W. C. Hayes was only slightly wounded.

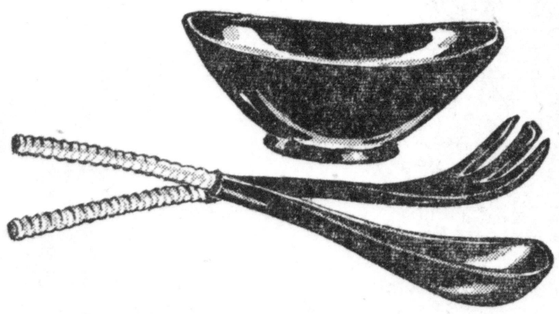

The Kern County sheriff's office reported Mrs. Viola Hayes, 36, said:

"I shot at that man seven times and only hit him once. I'm disappointed.

"I had baked ham and rolls on the table waiting for him, but he went over to his girl friend.

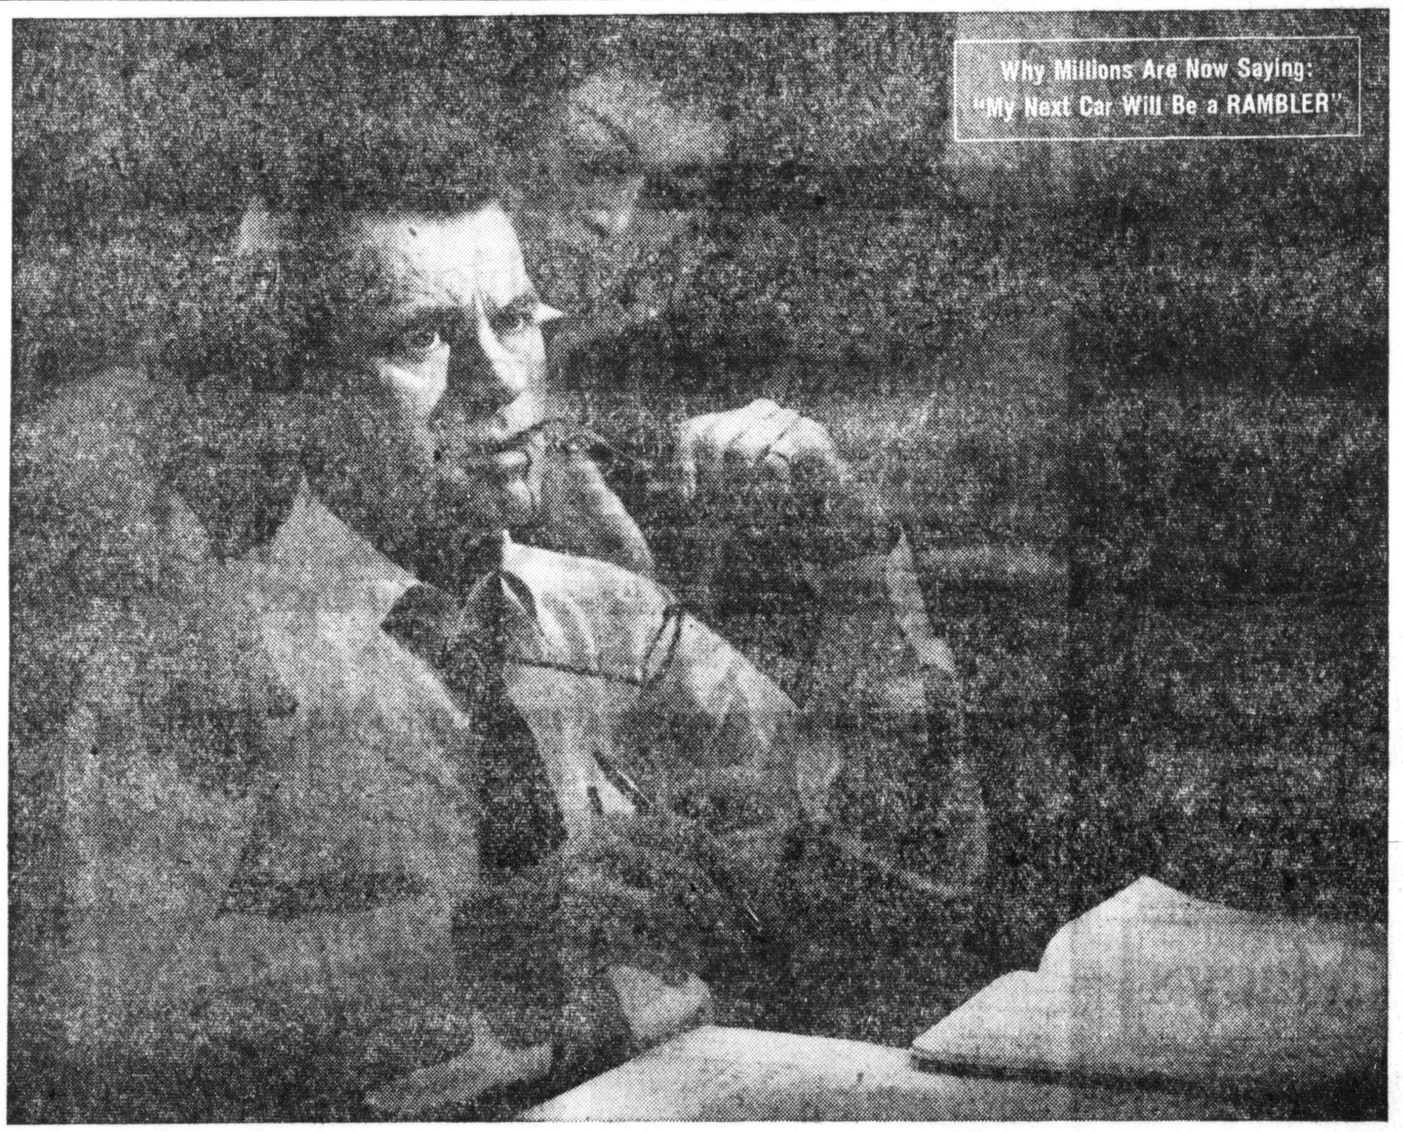

"Of course she had steak and he does like steak."

What will this year of the Big Turn do to your new car investment?
THE YEAR of the BIG TURN has begun.
Its significance should not be underestimated by any new car buyer.
For the BIG TURN is more than the about-face the biggest car manufacturers were forced to make as a result of Rambler's outstanding sales success.
More than the end of the big car size and horsepower race.
More than the introduction of imitations of Rambler.
More than the reduced number of big car makes and models.
The BIG TURN not only marks the beginning of the decline of big cars, it also casts the shadow of early obsolescence over any 1960 automobile built with old-fashioned, separate, bolted body and frame.
Some two years ago, Rambler was the only American car with modern aircraft-type Single Unit Construction*. All welded, it is stronger, permanently rattleproof.
Now, most cars have full or partial unit construction.
Soon all cars will be built this better, modern way.

What then will happen to the resale value of cars built the old way?
As to Rambler, both nationwide Official Used Car Guides show it has top resale value of all low-priced cars.
*Trademark American Motors
Since the introduction of the new U. S. small cars, Rambler popularity has soared.
At two auto shows where people could compare all makes side by side, surveys showed Rambler led all cars, big and small, in buying preference. At a third, Rambler was second only to the largest-selling car.
Because people see in Rambler the New Standard of Basic Excellence . . . the new yardstick by which car values are judged.
What is this New Standard of Basic Excellence? How can you be sure to make the safest car investment?
First, look for Single Unit Construction. Not old-fashioned bolted construction. Only thus can you be sure your 1960 car will not be obsolete in a year or two.
Look for "Deep-Dip" Rustproofing*. Most cars get only surface spraying. A few get "shallow dip." Only Rambler is submerged to the roof in rustproofing primer.
Look for true six-passenger room—ease of entrance for 6-footers. See that only Rambler gives you the Best of Both: big car room with small car handling ease.
Look for proved economy. Rambler's is certified by 25 billion owner-driven miles, as well as by official Mobilgas Economy Run and NASCAR records.
Look for a full choice of models. Rambler offers the widest choice of Compact* cars, including 16 station wagon models.
Look for quality of workmanship and materials. Compare Rambler's careful craftsmanship with cars costing hundreds of dollars more.
Look at prices. Rambler saves on every model. At least $238 on 6-cylinder economy wagons, for example.
In this year of the BIG TURN, with so many imitators of Rambler on the market, it is more important than ever to compare—to be sure you are making the wisest, safest car investment. See your Rambler dealer today!

How Rambler's Basic Excellence Brings You Balanced Qualities of Usefulness
Rambler is built to meet your specific needs—to give the ideal balance of qualities most useful to you:
● Highest quality ideally balanced with lowest prices. ● Fine performance ideally balanced with top economy. ● Big car comfort ideally balanced with small car handling ease. ● Greater strength ideally balanced with less bulk due to Single Unit Construction. ● Plus smart modern styling . . . "Deep-Dip" Rustproofing . . . widest choice of compact models . . . smoother "Deep-Coil" Ride . . . finest heating, ventilating . . . reclining seats . . . adjustable headrests.
That is why the No. 1 success is RAMBLER—world's largest builder of compact cars.

THE YEAR of the BIG TURN has begun.

Its significance should not be underestimated by any new car buyer.

For the BIG TURN is more than the about-face the biggest car manufacturers were forced to make as a result of Rambler's outstanding sales success.

More than the end of the big car size and horsepower race.

More than the introduction of imitations of Rambler.

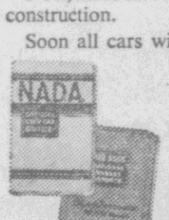

More than the reduced number of big car makes and models.

The BIG TURN not only marks the beginning of the decline of big cars, it also casts the shadow of early obsolescence over any 1960 automobile built with old-fashioned, separate, bolted body and frame.

Some two years ago, Rambler was the only American car with modern aircraft-type Single Unit Construction*. All welded, it is stronger, permanently rattleproof.

Now, most cars have full or partial unit construction.

Soon all cars will be built this better, modern way.

What then will happen to the resale value of cars built the old way?

As to Rambler, both nationwide Official Used Car Guides show it has top resale value of all low-priced cars.

Since the introduction of the new U. S. small cars, Rambler popularity has soared.

At two auto shows where people could compare all makes side by side, surveys showed Rambler led all cars, big and small, in buying preference. At a third, Rambler was second only to the largest-selling car.

Because people see in Rambler the New Standard of Basic Excellence . . . the new yardstick by which car values are judged.

What is this New Standard of Basic Excellence? How can you be sure to make the safest car investment?

First, look for Single Unit Construction. Not old-fashioned bolted construction. Only thus can you be sure your 1960 car will not be obsolete in a year or two.

Look for "Deep-Dip" Rustproofing*. Most cars get only surface spraying. A few get "shallow dip." Only Rambler is submerged to the roof in rustproofing primer.

Look for true six-passenger room—ease of entrance for 6-footers. See that only Rambler gives you the Best of Both: big car room with small car handling ease.

Look for proved economy. Rambler's is certified by 25 billion owner-driven miles, as well as by official Mobilgas Economy Run and NASCAR records.

Look for a full choice of models. Rambler offers the widest choice of Compact* cars, including 16 station wagon models.

Look for quality of workmanship and materials. Compare Rambler's careful craftsmanship with cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

Look at prices. Rambler saves on every model. At least $238 on 6-cylinder economy wagons, for example.

In this year of the BIG TURN, with so many imitators of Rambler on the market, it is more important than ever to compare—to be sure you are making the wisest, safest car investment. See your Rambler dealer today!

Analyst Opens Fire On Disaster Office

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post has opened fire on the state Disaster Office well in advance of the Legislature's 1960 budget session.

Post, the Legislature's chief financial adviser, told the Joint Legislative Budget Committee yesterday that the disaster office isn't prepared to cope with a nuclear attack on California.

His suggestion: Either give it the money to get ready, or slash it down to a skeleton force to direct operations against such natural disasters as floods, fires and earthquakes.

In ap review of 1960-61 budget requests by several agencies, Post also advised against fringe benefits for University of California employees, called for a shift in financing state parks and opposed manning all Highway Patrol Field offices 24 hours a day.

Assemblyman Jesse M Unruh (D-Los Angeles), chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, agreed with Post on the disaster office.

State Fund Goes Deeper Into Red

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's general fund was deeper in the red at the end of November but State Controller Alan Cranston said today he wasn't worried about it.

Cranston said expenditures for the month amounted to $154,222,032 while income totaled $142,423,730. He said this brings the total general fund indebtedness to $95,999,227 for the July-November period.

Why This Expensive Annual Rush For Auto Licenses?

Just after the Christmas rush is over, the state Department of Motor Vehicles is going to burden the postman with some 6½ million pieces of mail.

On or about Dec. 28, the department is going to send out the annual renewal notices for regular automobiles. You can pay your fees and get your new registration certificate any time between Jan. 4 and Feb. 4.

The crowding of the mails with 6½ million letters at one time is only a minor inconvenience. The real problem of those millions of renewal notices is in preparing them for mailing, and in processing them through their various steps thereafter.

This annual chore is an expensive operation which seems to us to be partly unnecessary.

California has decided that all automobile licenses should expire on the same date, Dec. 31. This makes a tremendous concentration of work for the Department of Motor Vehicles. Each year it puts hundreds of extra workers on the job just to perform the routine job of getting the notices out. And why all at once?

Perhaps when the state gave us new and different colored license plates each year, there was a reason—you couldn't split a license plate. But since we are more often than not getting paste-on tabs rather than plates, it seems to us it would be just as easy to issue the tabs to expire in March or June or September if that's when the motorist's license year would expire.

The advantages would be many-fold. No year-end rush; spread it around the year. Not only would the department be able to staff itself to handle work at approximately a steady year-around pace, but so too would the local offices. Most of you have suffered through the lines at the motor vehicle office in San Rafael to get new licenses.

It's not as though this were a new idea. We have no authorship. A number of other states use the idea to spread the licensing work. Some even issue plates with varying expiration date embossed right in them.

Yet every time the idea comes before the Legislature, it is pigeonholed. We can't understand why! We think that our new director of motor vehicles, Robert McCarthy, should give some thought to how it can be accomplished and how much money can be saved by the more efficient manner of handling.

Santa Has Troubles, Too

As if the elderly gentleman in the red suit with the big bag slung over his shoulder didn't have enough grief with telephone and light wires, he now has to worry about TV antennas.

There's also smog (very hard on reindeer accustomed to the crisp, clear air of the arctic); radar that sends fighter planes from either continent when something suspicious comes out of the North Pole region; the population explosion which makes more work for the old fellow; a rising Northern Lights electric bill due to higher taxes and increased Eskimo labor costs, and the prospect of possible support prices on reindeer moss, which may force Santa to sell his reindeer and get a foreign car.

No, Santa's lot is not an easy one. He has his problems too. But he wouldn't be our happy, old friend of the Yuletide season, if he didn't ignore the difficulties, fill his sleigh and bag and ride on Christmas Eve.

2 Secret Weapons May Account For Woman's Longer Life Span

NEW YORK (AP) — Wives live from five to 10 years longer than their husbands, and old maids outlast old bachelors by at least the same margin.

Science is still considerably puzzled by the reason for this.

It isn't satisfied with the ordinary man's explanation, which is:

"Men die sooner because they work themselves to death trying to please women by earning enough money to buy them what they think they want."

What is the real reason women are more durable than men?

One answer may be that women have two great secret weapons in the battle of life. They are self-respect and common sense. Men have these qualities, too, but not in so great a measure.

Let us take up self-respect first. It is a quality absolutely essential to human survival. Any human being without it withers and dies.

A girl is taught from birth to respect and take pride in herself, and she will cling stubbornly to this feeling against all the buffets of this world. She is helped perhaps by the smug knowledge that she is the reservoir of posterity.

A man doesn't have quite this same indestructible sense of worth and merit. His self-respect is a more fragile thing. So is his pride. If he sets himself too high a goal and fails to achieve it, he often gets a feeling of disillusionment and general worthlessness that hastens him to an untimely end.

LET US NOW consider common sense. The average man feels this is a quality he has in abundance and few women have at all. Actually it's the other way around. It's the women who have it and the men who don't.

This is best shown in how the two sexes deal with one of the greatest problems of life—the need to compromise. Life is, indeed, one long compromise.

MEN RARELY have the common sense to face up to this inescapable fact, because they are romanticists by nature. Women, being realists, do face up to this fact.

Think it over. Isn't the real reason women outlive men because they have these two great secret weapons of successful living—a greater self-respect and more common sense?

REMEMBER WHEN

10 YEARS AGO

John M. Stokely, engineer of Richmond and resident in San Rafael, announced that North Bay commuters had organized into five groups to fight for action on a three-point proposal of the Independent-Journal for putting a permanent end to interruptions in Richmond-San Rafael communications. They seek a hearing into the question of why the ferry franchise shouldn't be revoked because of frequent strikes, action by the California Toll Bridge Authority to construct a North Bay span, and if necessary some action by the supervisors to have the Authority take over the ferry line and run it until a bridge had been built.

20 YEARS AGO

A total of 4,500 Marin commuters to San Francisco were on record as willing to pay higher fares to keep the trains and ferries in service. This was brought out at the Railroad Commission's hearing on a Northwestern Pacific petition to abandon its Marin interurban service.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAYS

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Must Dispose Of School Misconduct

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In its report on misconduct of school officials in connection with tax increase campaigns, the Grand Jury has done a good service for the public and, in the long run, for our schools. This much-needed investigation and conservatively accurate disclosure of moral, ethic and civic misconduct by some school officials and their well-disciplined pressure bloc, at the time of their recent and wholly unprincipled campaign for tax increase for Tamalpais High School District, should be thoughtfully considered by all.

The representations they made were bad enough, but their subversive and unquestionably un-American acts of propagandizing our children in the schools, in some respects seeking to set them against their parents, are about as low as anyone can get. The offenders make themselves look foolish by implying that such a deliberate and responsible body as the Grand Jury would make these disclosures without careful investigation and clear proof.

Many of us parents already knew that everything the Grand Jury reported is factually accurate and very conservatively stated. Strong pressure was exerted on students — so much that some were nearly terrified lest it become known at school that their parents did not favor the tax increase. This is not conjecture. The writer, as a professional investigator for 15 years, long ago learned to distinguish between fact and rumor or whitewash.

Fascists, Nazis and modern Communists in other countries capitalized on this technique of propagandizing and subverting youth. It worked for them but they didn't have Grand Juries to contend with. One wonders just how their techniques came to be introduced here?

Our schools have courses entitled "Problems of American Democracy" ("PAD" for short). I suggest it be changed to "Principles of American Democracy" and taught accordingly. Incidentally, since when has our democracy become a "problem"? That does not sound like a thought that originated in this country.

The Grand Jury did a good job in ferreting out an unsavory and dangerous development for us. It's our job to dispose of it, not cover it up.

Metropolitan Water District Puts Pressure On Governor's Water Plan

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — More troubles have beset the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown. The board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District of Los Angeles has virtually demanded a conference with the governor on water contract principles.

The Metropolitan Board told the governor bluntly:

"Unless we have these proposed conferences with you well in advance of the legislative session next February 1, we will be in no position to say that we could sign a water contract with the state with any feeling of assurance that we would be doing justice to the water users and taxpayers of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California."

THE GOVERNOR has requested the board to meet first with Ralph Brody, special water counsel to the governor and deputy director of the state Department of Water Resources.

The board, in reply, said it would be glad to meet with Brody, but also would like to have Harvey Banks, director of the Department of Water Resources included in the discussions, as it has carried on negotiations with Banks for some time.

However, even with the conferences between the board, Brody and Banks, the board still wants to meet with the governor to be informed of his policy decisions in regard to the Feather River project and in fact, the entire state water development plan.

THE FEATHER RIVER project contemplates sending Northern California's water south through the Tehachapi mountains to Southern California. Metropolitan would be the biggest buy of water if it is so transported, and without Metropolitan as a prime customer, the whole project likely would be a financial fizzle.

The current argument goes back to the original contention of Metropolitan. This was that the district could find little reason to support the governor's program (on the November, 1960, general election ballot as a $1,750,000,000 bond issue) unless some type of firm contract is granted the south, preferably through a constitutional amendment which would assure the south a supply of water.

NORTHERN counties, however, are not anxious to support such a contract, both on the contention that they might need the water in later years for development in the north, and that there may not be sufficient surplus to guarantee a supply to the south every year.

The governor has announced that he hopes through a policy statement, which he indicated will be forthcoming shortly after the first of the year, to settle the controversy. However, it is pointed out that both governors and legislature change, and that such a policy statement would not be binding on subsequent legislatures, nor would it be binding on a future governor.

THE BOARD'S letter to the governor suggested strongly that additional legislation is necessary before it can support the bond issue.

This means that one of the largest forces in California water development will be urging the governor to open the special session of the legislature next year to water. The administration has been attempting to avoid this, but the odds grow the call will be opened to the subject of water.

Susan could read faster and better than any other kid in her class, but she was a chronic dawdler and couldn't seem to get to school on time in the morning. To punish her, her mother decreed that Susan could not borrow another single book from the school library. The 8-year-old chafed under this restriction for a week, then happily presented this note to the librarian: "Susan has been on time to school now five mornings straight so you can let her have all the books she wants. Love, My Mother."

Did Eisenhower Hear The People Or Just Diplomats Ask Baksheesh?

The other night, I watched a television news reel of President Eisenhower's visit to Pakistan and India.

Unfortunately, there was no sound track with the scenes of the Eisenhower entourage driving through streets of Karachi and New Delhi. So I never learned whether the President was greeted by the chant that assailed my ears wherever I went in that teeming land some 15 years ago: "Baksheesh, sahib! Baksheesh!"

My stint in India was as a member of the U.S. Army Air Forces in that not-so-recent embroilment known as World War II (in which Russia and China were our allies and Japan and Germany our foes).

FROM THE TIME we disembarked from an Army troopship at Bombay until, after helping the British retake Burma, we left Tezgaon airport to fly over the "little hump" to Liuchow, China, that cry followed us wherever there were people. And there are people almost everywhere in India.

"Baksheesh" means "gift." It is the Indian cry for alms.

In a land where three-fourths of the people lack enough to eat, where the average man's possessions consist of two yards of cloth, a pair of sandals and a few tools, it becomes a request that seems almost universal.

It followed our troop train across India from Bombay to Calcutta (now in East Pakistan). It was with us whenever we walked out in city or village. It pursued us from the roadside as we jeeped from Chittagong down the Arakan Road toward Dohazari and Cox's Bazaar.

THERE ARE some 250 languages in India. Most of them are in South India. I was never there, so cannot vouch for that part, but "baksheesh" was a word that crossed the language barriers in the northern two-thirds of that great peninsula — as it crossed the deep religious barrier that caused what was India to split into two nations.

We heard it at the doors of Moslem mosques in Dacca, and beside Hindu temples laved by the filthy but holy waters of the Ganges in the sacred city of Benares.

It persisted even at the burning ghats of Calcutta, where the Hindus cremate their dead upon little piles of wood (a minimum of sticks to do the job, for wood is scarce — and costly for a people who cannot even buy enough rice for the living).

Only the inflection changed. In Bihar and the Central Provinces, it oftenest sounded "sah bakSHEESH." Elsewhere it was usually "BAKsheesh sah'b."

At Dulikhet in the United Provinces, 9,000 feet high but only in the foothills of the mighty Himalayas, the word for "mister" became "saheeb."

TO ME, THAT cry came to epitomize overpopulated India and her miseries. It was as all-pervasive as the peculiar stench that always warned of the approach of a village well before one was within eyesight.

Whether or not President Eisenhower heard "baksheesh, sahib" from the roadsides on his visit, he heard its equivalent in more diplomatic language in the halls of state. This was evidenced in his speech, in which he urged a war on hunger and promised action to try to free U.S. foodstuff surpluses to feed the hungry of India and Pakistan — an obvious thing to do, for surely this is a mad world in which the taxpayers of one country pay storage charges on food that cannot be sold while friends in another country are starving.

EISENHOWER TIED the war on hunger to a crusade for peace. In this, he touched a responsive chord in his hosts.

There is another much-heard word in India. It is "salaam" — peace.

When friends meet there, they do not say "hello" or "how do you do." The greeting is "salaam ali kum" — which means, "Peace be with you."

Keep Your Eye On Kefauver To Get Best Dope On Demo Nominee

There is one name you don't want to banish from your mind when you sit down and really try to figure out whom the majority of the delegates to the Democratic convention are going to vote for on the last ballot.

I am most certainly referring to the tall Tennessean who has shaken more hands than Grover Whalen, addressed more party rallies than William Jennings Bryan, and knows intimately more living and voting Democrats than the three latest chairmen of the Democratic National Committee put together.

DON'T GET ME wrong. Sen. Estes Kefauver is not likely to be nominated for the presidency in 1960. He is not asking to be nominated. He is not expecting nomination.

But I suggest that he is going to have more than a little to say about who is going to be nominated. At the right time he is going to say it and it is entirely conceivable that by then the circumstances will be such that what Estes says and does will tilt the balance where he wants it to go.

Come next July at Los Angeles, Kefauver, who won all the primaries in 1952 when Adlai Stevenson wasn't trying and nearly unhorsed him in 1956 when Stevenson was trying, is not going to be on the outside looking in. This time he is going to be on the inside looking in.

THE FACT IS that this man Kefauver has got remarkable reservoirs of political influence.

Everybody knows that this time Estes is not an active, not a passive, hardly even a wistful candidate for the nomination. He figures to have trouble enough — but not too much — being renominated (meaning re-elected) to the Senate. And he can't run for national office without losing his Senate seat.

Despite the evidence that he is clearly out of the running, he continues to get 10 to 12 per cent of the support of the Democrats for the 1960 nomination. This is evidently the hard core of the We-Want-Estes - Under - All - Circumstances support within the Democratic party.

AND WHOM IS the Senator likely to support? He is prudently not saying. It's too soon. It would dilute his later influence.

He promises that his decision will not carry any vindictiveness, though he suffered some painful indignities at the 1952 convention and I have heard it said that Sen. Stuart Symington is the only contender who never visibly did him wrong.

This time Estes is being courted by everybody. It is balm in the wounds.

Why This Expensive Annual Rush For Auto Licenses?

Just after the Christmas rush is over, the state Department of Motor Vehicles is going to burden the postman with some 6½ million pieces of mail.

On or about Dec. 28, the department is going to send out the annual renewal notices for regular automobiles. You can pay your fees and get your new registration certificate any time between Jan. 4 and Feb. 4.

The crowding of the mails with 6½ million letters at one time is only a minor inconvenience. The real problem of those millions of renewal notices is in preparing them for mailing, and in processing them through their various steps thereafter.

This annual chore is an expensive operation which seems to us to be partly unnecessary.

California has decided that all automobile licenses should expire on the same date, Dec. 31. This makes a tremendous concentration of work for the Department of Motor Vehicles. Each year it puts hundreds of extra workers on the job just to perform the routine job of getting the notices out. And why all at once?

Perhaps when the state gave us new and different colored license plates each year, there was a reason—you couldn't split a license plate. But since we are more often than not getting paste-on tabs rather than plates, it seems to us it would be just as easy to issue the tabs to expire in March or June or September if that's when the motorist's license year would expire.

The advantages would be many-fold. No year-end rush; spread it around the year. Not only would the department be able to staff itself to handle work at approximately a steady year-around pace, but so too would the local offices. Most of you have suffered through the lines at the motor vehicle office in San Rafael to get new licenses.

It's not as though this were a new idea. We have no authorship. A number of other states use the idea to spread the licensing work. Some even issue plates with varying expiration date embossed right in them.

Yet every time the idea comes before the Legislature, it is pigeonholed. We can't understand why! We think that our new director of motor vehicles, Robert McCarthy, should give some thought to how it can be accomplished and how much money can be saved by the more efficient manner of handling.

Santa Has Troubles, Too

As if the elderly gentleman in the red suit with the big bag slung over his shoulder didn't have enough grief with telephone and light wires, he now has to worry about TV antennas.

There's also smog (very hard on reindeer accustomed to the crisp, clear air of the arctic); radar that sends fighter planes from either continent when something suspicious comes out of the North Pole region; the population explosion which makes more work for the old fellow; a rising Northern Lights electric bill due to higher taxes and increased Eskimo labor costs, and the prospect of possible support prices on reindeer moss, which may force Santa to sell his reindeer and get a foreign car.

No, Santa's lot is not an easy one. He has his problems too. But he wouldn't be our happy, old friend of the Yuletide season, if he didn't ignore the difficulties, fill his sleigh and bag and ride on Christmas Eve.

2 Secret Weapons May Account For Woman's Longer Life Span

NEW YORK (AP) — Wives live from five to 10 years longer than their husbands, and old maids outlast old bachelors by at least the same margin.

Science is still considerably puzzled by the reason for this.

It isn't satisfied with the ordinary man's explanation, which is:

"Men die sooner because they work themselves to death trying to please women by earning enough money to buy them what they think they want."

What is the real reason women are more durable than men?

One answer may be that women have two great secret weapons in the battle of life. They are self-respect and common sense. Men have these qualities, too, but not in so great a measure.

Let us take up self-respect first. It is a quality absolutely essential to human survival. Any human being without it withers and dies.

A girl is taught from birth to respect and take pride in herself, and she will cling stubbornly to this feeling against all the buffets of this world. She is helped perhaps by the smug knowledge that she is the reservoir of posterity.

A man doesn't have quite this same indestructible sense of worth and merit. His self-respect is a more fragile thing. So is his pride. If he sets himself too high a goal and fails to achieve it, he often gets a feeling of disillusionment and general worthlessness that hastens him to an untimely end.

LET US NOW consider common sense. The average man feels this is a quality he has in abundance and few women have at all. Actually it's the other way around. It's the women who have it and the men who don't.

This is best shown in how the two sexes deal with one of the greatest problems of life—the need to compromise. Life is, indeed, one long compromise.

MEN RARELY have the common sense to face up to this inescapable fact, because they are romanticists by nature. Women, being realists, do face up to this fact.

Think it over. Isn't the real reason women outlive men because they have these two great secret weapons of successful living—a greater self-respect and more common sense?

REMEMBER WHEN

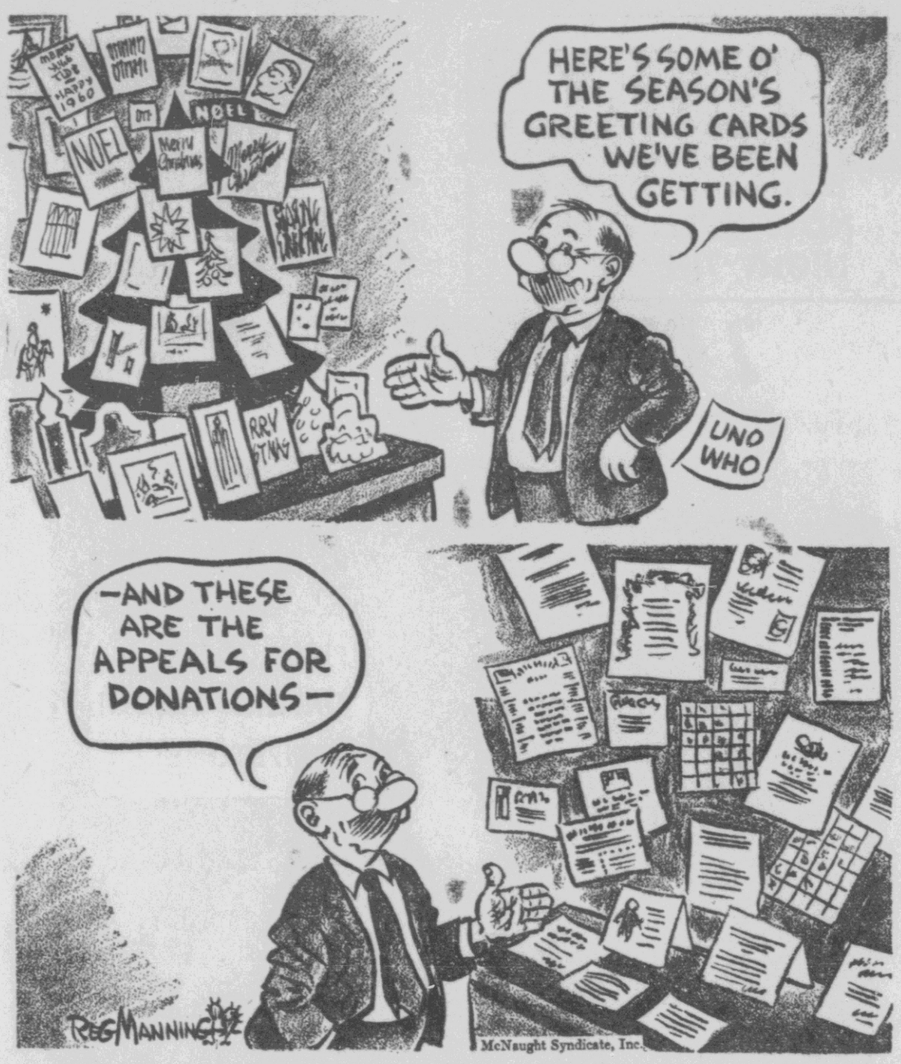

10 YEARS AGO

John M. Stokely, engineer of Richmond and resident in San Rafael, announced that North Bay commuters had organized into five groups to fight for action on a three-point proposal of the Independent-Journal for putting a permanent end to interruptions in Richmond-San Rafael communications. They seek a hearing into the question of why the ferry franchise shouldn't be revoked because of frequent strikes, action by the California Toll Bridge Authority to construct a North Bay span, and if necessary some action by the supervisors to have the Authority take over the ferry line and run it until a bridge had been built.

20 YEARS AGO

A total of 4,500 Marin commuters to San Francisco were on record as willing to pay higher fares to keep the trains and ferries in service. This was brought out at the Railroad Commission's hearing on a Northwestern Pacific petition to abandon its Marin interurban service.

CHRISTMAS DISPLAYS

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Must Dispose Of School Misconduct

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In its report on misconduct of school officials in connection with tax increase campaigns, the Grand Jury has done a good service for the public and, in the long run, for our schools. This much-needed investigation and conservatively accurate disclosure of moral, ethic and civic misconduct by some school officials and their well-disciplined pressure bloc, at the time of their recent and wholly unprincipled campaign for tax increase for Tamalpais High School District, should be thoughtfully considered by all.

The representations they made were bad enough, but their subversive and unquestionably un-American acts of propagandizing our children in the schools, in some respects seeking to set them against their parents, are about as low as anyone can get. The offenders make themselves look foolish by implying that such a deliberate and responsible body as the Grand Jury would make these disclosures without careful investigation and clear proof.

Many of us parents already knew that everything the Grand Jury reported is factually accurate and very conservatively stated. Strong pressure was exerted on students — so much that some were nearly terrified lest it become known at school that their parents did not favor the tax increase. This is not conjecture. The writer, as a professional investigator for 15 years, long ago learned to distinguish between fact and rumor or whitewash.

Fascists, Nazis and modern Communists in other countries capitalized on this technique of propagandizing and subverting youth. It worked for them but they didn't have Grand Juries to contend with. One wonders just how their techniques came to be introduced here?

Our schools have courses entitled "Problems of American Democracy" ("PAD" for short). I suggest it be changed to "Principles of American Democracy" and taught accordingly. Incidentally, since when has our democracy become a "problem"? That does not sound like a thought that originated in this country.

The Grand Jury did a good job in ferreting out an unsavory and dangerous development for us. It's our job to dispose of it, not cover it up.

Metropolitan Water District Puts Pressure On Governor's Water Plan

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — More troubles have beset the administration of Gov. Edmund G. Brown. The board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District of Los Angeles has virtually demanded a conference with the governor on water contract principles.

The Metropolitan Board told the governor bluntly:

"Unless we have these proposed conferences with you well in advance of the legislative session next February 1, we will be in no position to say that we could sign a water contract with the state with any feeling of assurance that we would be doing justice to the water users and taxpayers of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California."

THE GOVERNOR has requested the board to meet first with Ralph Brody, special water counsel to the governor and deputy director of the state Department of Water Resources.

The board, in reply, said it would be glad to meet with Brody, but also would like to have Harvey Banks, director of the Department of Water Resources included in the discussions, as it has carried on negotiations with Banks for some time.

However, even with the conferences between the board, Brody and Banks, the board still wants to meet with the governor to be informed of his policy decisions in regard to the Feather River project and in fact, the entire state water development plan.

THE FEATHER RIVER project contemplates sending Northern California's water south through the Tehachapi mountains to Southern California. Metropolitan would be the biggest buy of water if it is so transported, and without Metropolitan as a prime customer, the whole project likely would be a financial fizzle.

The current argument goes back to the original contention of Metropolitan. This was that the district could find little reason to support the governor's program (on the November, 1960, general election ballot as a $1,750,000,000 bond issue) unless some type of firm contract is granted the south, preferably through a constitutional amendment which would assure the south a supply of water.

NORTHERN counties, however, are not anxious to support such a contract, both on the contention that they might need the water in later years for development in the north, and that there may not be sufficient surplus to guarantee a supply to the south every year.

The governor has announced that he hopes through a policy statement, which he indicated will be forthcoming shortly after the first of the year, to settle the controversy. However, it is pointed out that both governors and legislature change, and that such a policy statement would not be binding on subsequent legislatures, nor would it be binding on a future governor.

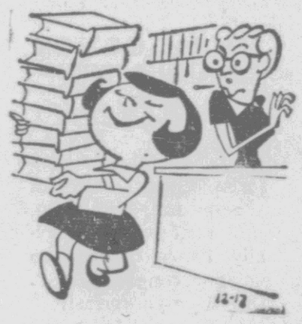

THE BOARD'S letter to the governor suggested strongly that additional legislation is necessary before it can support the bond issue.

This means that one of the largest forces in California water development will be urging the governor to open the special session of the legislature next year to water. The administration has been attempting to avoid this, but the odds grow the call will be opened to the subject of water.

Susan could read faster and better than any other kid in her class, but she was a chronic dawdler and couldn't seem to get to school on time in the morning. To punish her, her mother decreed that Susan could not borrow another single book from the school library. The 8-year-old chafed under this restriction for a week, then happily presented this note to the librarian: "Susan has been on time to school now five mornings straight so you can let her have all the books she wants. Did Eisenhower Hear The People Or Just Diplomats Ask Baksheesh?

The other night, I watched a television news reel of President Eisenhower's visit to Pakistan and India.

Unfortunately, there was no sound track with the scenes of the Eisenhower entourage driving through streets of Karachi and New Delhi. So I never learned whether the President was greeted by the chant that assailed my ears wherever I went in that teeming land some 15 years ago: "Baksheesh, sahib! Baksheesh!"

My stint in India was as a member of the U.S. Army Air Forces in that not-so-recent embroilment known as World War II (in which Russia and China were our allies and Japan and Germany our foes).

FROM THE TIME we disembarked from an Army troopship at Bombay until, after helping the British retake Burma, we left Tezgaon airport to fly over the "little hump" to Liuchow, China, that cry followed us wherever there were people. And there are people almost everywhere in India.

"Baksheesh" means "gift." It is the Indian cry for alms.

In a land where three-fourths of the people lack enough to eat, where the average man's possessions consist of two yards of cloth, a pair of sandals and a few tools, it becomes a request that seems almost universal.

It followed our troop train across India from Bombay to Calcutta (now in East Pakistan). It was with us whenever we walked out in city or village. It pursued us from the roadside as we jeeped from Chittagong down the Arakan Road toward Dohazari and Cox's Bazaar.

THERE ARE some 250 languages in India. Most of them are in South India. I was never there, so cannot vouch for that part, but "baksheesh" was a word that crossed the language barriers in the northern two-thirds of that great peninsula — as it crossed the deep religious barrier that caused what was India to split into two nations.

We heard it at the doors of Moslem mosques in Dacca, and beside Hindu temples laved by the filthy but holy waters of the Ganges in the sacred city of Benares.

It persisted even at the burning ghats of Calcutta, where the Hindus cremate their dead upon little piles of wood (a minimum of sticks to do the job, for wood is scarce — and costly for a people who cannot even buy enough rice for the living).

Only the inflection changed. In Bihar and the Central Provinces, it oftenest sounded "sah bakSHEESH." Elsewhere it was usually "BAKsheesh sah'b."

At Dulikhet in the United Provinces, 9,000 feet high but only in the foothills of the mighty Himalayas, the word for "mister" became "saheeb."

TO ME, THAT cry came to epitomize overpopulated India and her miseries. It was as all-pervasive as the peculiar stench that always warned of the approach of a village well before one was within eyesight.

Whether or not President Eisenhower heard "baksheesh, sahib" from the roadsides on his visit, he heard its equivalent in more diplomatic language in the halls of state. This was evidenced in his speech, in which he urged a war on hunger and promised action to try to free U.S. foodstuff surpluses to feed the hungry of India and Pakistan — an obvious thing to do, for surely this is a mad world in which the taxpayers of one country pay storage charges on food that cannot be sold while friends in another country are starving.

EISENHOWER TIED the war on hunger to a crusade for peace. In this, he touched a responsive chord in his hosts.

There is another much-heard word in India. It is "salaam" — peace.

When friends meet there, they do not say "hello" or "how do you do." The greeting is "salaam ali kum" — which means, "Peace be with you."

Keep Your Eye On Kefauver To Get Best Dope On Demo Nominee

There is one name you don't want to banish from your mind when you sit down and really try to figure out whom the majority of the delegates to the Democratic convention are going to vote for on the last ballot.

I am most certainly referring to the tall Tennessean who has shaken more hands than Grover Whalen, addressed more party rallies than William Jennings Bryan, and knows intimately more living and voting Democrats than the three latest chairmen of the Democratic National Committee put together.

DON'T GET ME wrong. Sen. Estes Kefauver is not likely to be nominated for the presidency in 1960. He is not asking to be nominated. He is not expecting nomination.

But I suggest that he is going to have more than a little to say about who is going to be nominated. At the right time he is going to say it and it is entirely conceivable that by then the circumstances will be such that what Estes says and does will tilt the balance where he wants it to go.

Come next July at Los Angeles, Kefauver, who won all the primaries in 1952 when Adlai Stevenson wasn't trying and nearly unhorsed him in 1956 when Stevenson was trying, is not going to be on the outside looking in. This time he is going to be on the inside looking in.

THE FACT IS that this man Kefauver has got remarkable reservoirs of political influence.

Everybody knows that this time Estes is not an active, not a passive, hardly even a wistful candidate for the nomination. He figures to have trouble enough — but not too much — being renominated (meaning re-elected) to the Senate. And he can't run for national office without losing his Senate seat.

Despite the evidence that he is clearly out of the running, he continues to get 10 to 12 per cent of the support of the Democrats for the 1960 nomination. This is evidently the hard core of the We-Want-Estes - Under - All - Circumstances support within the Democratic party.

AND WHOM IS the Senator likely to support? He is prudently not saying. It's too soon. It would dilute his later influence.

He promises that his decision will not carry any vindictiveness, though he suffered some painful indignities at the 1952 convention and I have heard it said that Sen. Stuart Symington is the only contender who never visibly did him wrong.

This time Estes is being courted by everybody. It is balm in the wounds.

Marin Sets Pace In United Crusade

Marin County took the lead in the Bay Area United Crusade drive by collecting $160,400, or 106 per cent of its goal.

Alameda County was second with 100 per cent of its goal.

The result of the highly successful campaign means that participating agencies in the five Bay Area counties will share $600,000 more in 1960 than they received in 1959. Campaign chairman Fred C. Whitman said at a meeting today in San Francisco that the 1959 total is the largest amount given to the crusade in its five-year history. The amount collected was $10,501,500, Whitman said, or 95.4 per cent of this year's goal.

In 1960 the Marin United Fund will have $263,219 to work with.

Whitman expressed the crusade's thanks to more than 600,000 individuals and firms who gave to the drive on behalf of the 263 beneficiary agencies and the people they serve.

W. Fuller III of Hillsborough was elected as five-county campaign chairman for 1960 and Mortimer Fleishhacker Jr. of San Francisco was re-elected president of the crusade.

Marin County representatives elected to the new executive committee are Mrs. T. J. Mellon of Kentfield and Mrs. Harrison M. Leppo of Mill Valley. Arthur Hellender, who lives in Sausalito but works in Alameda county, is an Alameda County representative. W. W. Davison, of Kentfield is a San Francisco representative.

Marin County representatives of the new board of governors are Hugh Cassidy Jr. and Merton Jacobs of San Rafael, Harrison M. Leppo of Mill Valley and Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon of Kentfield.

San Francisco representatives of the new board of governors who live in Marin are Warren Burke of Novato, W. W. Davison of Kentfield, Thomas A. Rotell of Corte Madera and William M. Roth of Sausalito.

SANTA'S HELPERS KEPT BUSY BY KID CALLERS

A Marin County squadron of Santa's helpers relayed 4,389 telephone messages to North Pole headquarters in two nights.

Twenty-four members of junior chambers of commerce, using offices of the Independent-Journal in San Rafael, Mill Valley Record in Mill Valley and Western California Telephone Co. in Novato as Arctic outposts, transmitted children's Christmas lists to Santa's main factory last night and the preceding night.

In San Rafael, 2,009 calls were made, in Novato 1,458, and in Mill Valley, 922.

All the childrens' requests got through to the Pole despite a mechanical failure on the Novato line Tuesday night. The jaycees there worked last night after the 9 o'clock closing time accepting calls that had been blocked the previous night.

Sporty New French Auto Makes San Rafael Debut

By RANDALL GOULD

Fresh from France, the sporty new Renault Caravelle went on show for the first time today at International Motors at 615 Francisco boulevard, San Rafael.

It is a hotter, snappier-looking version of the Renault Dauphine, now being advertised as the largest selling four-door import in the United States.

But the model on display had two doors, being a sports coupe with adjustable reclinseats, two-color steering wheel, limited "occasional" room behind with seatback turning down to carry baggage, and such other touches as gold toggle switches on the instrument panel.

Its lines are longer than those of the Dauphine, though the 89.4-inch wheelbase is the same. Its engine is distinctly more punchy.

Contributing to the extra "oomph" are a special Italy-originated Gordini engine head, polished combustion chamber, larger valves and large Solex carburetor with acceleration pump. Detailed specifications haven't arrived but the compression is probably above Dauphine's 7.75 to one.

What this adds up to is 41 horsepower as against the Dauphine's 32.5, though the sports convertible coupe weighs about 250 pounds more than the Dauphine sedan due to reinforced understructure, special seats and other features. Carvelle is to be offered in hardtop and detachable top editions.

Brown Delays Decision On Special Session

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown says he'll wait until Feb. 29 to announce whether he'll call the 1960 Legislature into special session.

Brown, after conferring with six legislative leaders for more than an hour yesterday, agreed that a special session—if any—should be limited to a few items.

The lawmakers, looking ahead to next November's election, don't want the 30-day budget session prolonged by a special call, and have recommended steering clear of controversial issues.

The session starting Feb. 1 is limited by law to consideration of the state budget, but the governor can throw it open to other topics by calling a special session to run concurrently.

With half the 40 senators and all 80 assemblymen up for election in November, most would like to keep the session short. A long session would cut into campaigning time.

Sun Rocket Firing Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal space agency today announced indefinite postponement of an attempt to launch a sun rocket designed to explore space between the Earth and Venus.

Electronic difficulties in the 90-pound space probe, rigged to transmit radio information over interplanetary distances up to 50 million miles, caused the postponement.

POLICE CHIEF URGES CARE BY SHOPPERS

Hang on to your purses, lock your doors, and lock packages in the trunk or keep thim concealed inside the car.

These tips for Christmas shoppers were issued today by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa. He warned that the holiday rush and packed crowds are always conducive to thefts and losses of valuables.

Leaving cars open or packages in plain sight is an open invitation to thefts, the chief explained. "We urge all shoppers to be careful, and a Merry Christmas to you all."

Klan Threat Halts Yule Parade Plans

MONROEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — This southern Alabama town's annual Christmas parade was canceled last night after the Ku Klux Klan allegedly threatened violence if Negro high school bandsmen took part.

The youngsters were to have marched through town today in the yearly parade to spread the yule spirit.

A. B. Blass Jr., Kiwanis Club president, said klansmen threatened bodily harm to Union High School Principal Robert MacMillan if the Negro bandsmen marched in the parade. Union high is a Negro school.

Marin Has Lowest Rate Of Youth Commitments

Marin County had the lowest rate of commitments of first offenders to California Youth Authority camps of any county in the state during the first half of this year.

A report yesterday by Herman G. Stark, CYA director, showed the commitment rate per population of 100,000 was low in Marin at 7.3 per cent. The highest rate in California was 52.3 in Riverside County. The average was 26.7 per cent.

Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich attributed Marin's low rate to policy of the courts. He said it was unusual for Marin judges to commit youngsters to the California Youth Authority.

"We don't like to see young men put in with hardened young criminals. They come out worse than they went in . . . Commitment to Youth Authority is a last resort," said Weissich.

Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher said the low rate "reflects maturity of this community not to pressure courts to send youngsters to the youth authority."

Judges and probation officers stave off sending youngsters to the state institutions because they feel "minor offenders are bruised in the process," said Busher.

The social-economic conditions of Marin do not breed the sophisticated brand of delinquency found in larger counties, the probation officer said.

It is a hotter, snappier-looking version of the Renault Dauphine, now being advertised as the largest selling four-door import in the United States.

But the model on display had two doors, being a sports coupe with adjustable reclinseats, two-color steering wheel, limited "occasional" room behind with seatback turning down to carry baggage, and such other touches as gold toggle switches on the instrument panel.

Its lines are longer than those of the Dauphine, though the 89.4-inch wheelbase is the same. Its engine is distinctly more punchy.

Contributing to the extra "oomph" are a special Italy-originated Gordini engine head, polished combustion chamber, larger valves and large Solex carburetor with acceleration pump. Detailed specifications haven't arrived but the compression is probably above Dauphine's 7.75 to one.

What this adds up to is 41 horsepower as against the Dauphine's 32.5, though the sports convertible coupe weighs about 250 pounds more than the Dauphine sedan due to reinforced understructure, special seats and other features. Carvelle is to be offered in hardtop and detachable top editions.

Brown Delays Decision On Special Session

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown says he'll wait until Feb. 29 to announce whether he'll call the 1960 Legislature into special session.

Brown, after conferring with six legislative leaders for more than an hour yesterday, agreed that a special session—if any—should be limited to a few items.

The lawmakers, looking ahead to next November's election, don't want the 30-day budget session prolonged by a special call, and have recommended steering clear of controversial issues.

The session starting Feb. 1 is limited by law to consideration of the state budget, but the governor can throw it open to other topics by calling a special session to run concurrently.

With half the 40 senators and all 80 assemblymen up for election in November, most would like to keep the session short. A long session would cut into campaigning time.

Sun Rocket Firing Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal space agency today announced indefinite postponement of an attempt to launch a sun rocket designed to explore space between the Earth and Venus.

Electronic difficulties in the 90-pound space probe, rigged to transmit radio information over interplanetary distances up to 50 million miles, caused the postponement.

POLICE CHIEF URGES CARE BY SHOPPERS

Hang on to your purses, lock your doors, and lock packages in the trunk or keep thim concealed inside the car.

These tips for Christmas shoppers were issued today by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa. He warned that the holiday rush and packed crowds are always conducive to thefts and losses of valuables.

Leaving cars open or packages in plain sight is an open invitation to thefts, the chief explained. "We urge all shoppers to be careful, and a Merry Christmas to you all."

Klan Threat Halts Yule Parade Plans

MONROEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — This southern Alabama town's annual Christmas parade was canceled last night after the Ku Klux Klan allegedly threatened violence if Negro high school bandsmen took part.

The youngsters were to have marched through town today in the yearly parade to spread the yule spirit.

A. B. Blass Jr., Kiwanis Club president, said klansmen threatened bodily harm to Union High School Principal Robert MacMillan if the Negro bandsmen marched in the parade. Union high is a Negro school.

Marin Has Lowest Rate Of Youth Commitments

Marin County had the lowest rate of commitments of first offenders to California Youth Authority camps of any county in the state during the first half of this year.

A report yesterday by Herman G. Stark, CYA director, showed the commitment rate per population of 100,000 was low in Marin at 7.3 per cent. The highest rate in California was 52.3 in Riverside County. The average was 26.7 per cent.

Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich attributed Marin's low rate to policy of the courts. He said it was unusual for Marin judges to commit youngsters to the California Youth Authority.

"We don't like to see young men put in with hardened young criminals. They come out worse than they went in . . . Commitment to Youth Authority is a last resort," said Weissich.

Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher said the low rate "reflects maturity of this community not to pressure courts to send youngsters to the youth authority."

Judges and probation officers stave off sending youngsters to the state institutions because they feel "minor offenders are bruised in the process," said Busher.

The social-economic conditions of Marin do not breed the sophisticated brand of delinquency found in larger counties, the probation officer said.

TURNCOAT TURNS ON GRANDMOTHER — La Rance V. Sullivan, 28, sits next to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos today, just before being sent to Napa State Hospital for trying to choke his grandmother. From left: Frank Phillips, 22, a neighbor who saved the grandmother from injury; Mrs. Mary Bell Frost, 80, the grandmother; Sullivan, and Sheriff Mountanos. Sullivan said he turned to drinking because of constant ridicule since he chose Red China in 1953, then decided to return to America last year. (Independent-Journal photo) than 20 pounds, and the lowest has been three poounds.

"I'm even careful about washing the dishes," Mrs. Armsby says. "We've never been without, but we've been mighty low."

Mildred Corbin, past president of the association, said there is no high pressure "at all" on the lower slopes between The Panoramic Highway and the old pipeline trail which is now Edgewood avenue. Some of the homes on the top of the ridge employ pumps at certain times of the day, and during other periods "the well goes dry."

Referring to the directors and officials of the Marin Municipal Water District, Miss Corbin says: "They have been promising to do something for 29 years. Nearly all that time they have promised to put in new mains. Most of the mains are two-inch or smaller. The only thing I can recall they did was put in a new six-inch main along the Panoramic, and that was only because the four-inch main was collapsing.

"Last January when the J. L. Gregory house burned down, the fire fighters were afraid to tap the lines and put on a pump for fear the line would collapse.

"We compained about this at a water board meeting earlier this year and they took no action."

Miss Corbin said the association is now planning to ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to enact an ordinance to prohibit new residential construction in areas not adequately supplied with water.

The Association notes in this connection that several new dwellings are being built in Muir Woods, and that real estate salesmen are selling lots in the area.

The Armsbys take this position on Muir National Monument, which also is served from the La Pachet tank:

Why should busloads of tourists be allowed to use thousands of gallons of water a day when the regular residents of Marin are suffering from lack of water and under a fire hazard? Their claim is that there would be better, although still inadequate, pressure if the monument were closed to the public.

If the state parks were closed there would be a great deal less traffic over the ridge. These tourists and weekend travelers, assert the Armsbys and others, create a fire hazard by carelessly tossing lighted cigarettes from vehicles and littering the roadsides with trash.

Mrs. Armsby said it is fearful to consider that if a fire cut across the ridge there would be only two exits: One along Panoramic Highway to Stinson Beach and the other along the Panoramic to the fork where one road goes into Mill Valley and another into Homestead Valley.

In his redwood-paneled office at the monument, Supt. Fred M. Martischang finds some of the claims by the Muir Woods residents don't stack up against his carefully kept figures of attendance.

Martischang claims the increase in use of water at the monument during the past few months has been neglible compared to the late fall months of last year.

Just a few years ago, he said, an inadequate three-tank system that stored only 4,000 gallons for the monument was replaced with a new steel 40,000-gallon tank. The tank is located just outside the monument property with a pipeline running through an easement of Mt. Tamalpais State Park. The tank is fed from the La Pachet system.

The inn near the monument is served from wells, and that establishment too reportedly has experienced a rapidly dwindling water supply.

"We closed two of our three restrooms the first of the month," Martischang says. "We've closed the water spigots in the picnic area, and we've shut off the main drinking fountain at the main crossing paths of the area. Just about everyone stopped there for a drink."

A restroom and water still is available at a facility at the headquarters building and gift shop. Martischang's residence also is on the monument.

TURNCOAT

from his most recent commitment on Dec. 1.

Separated from his wife, Sullivan lived with his grandmother. He worked for a while as dishwasher at the Lido restaurant in Sausalito.

Mrs. Frost, only 90 pounds, said Sullivan came in drunk about 7:30 p.m. yesterday, grabbed her by the arms and tried to choke her.

Frank Phillips, 22, of House 752, a neighbor and friend of Sullivan, said he heard a ruckus and entered Mrs. Frost's apartment.

Phillips said he heard Sullivan yelling, "Mama, I'm sick and tired of you running my life." Sullivan had grabbed Mrs. Frost and "was shaking the daylights out of her," he related. Phillips pulled Sullivan off, saving Mrs. Frost from injury.

Sheriff's Deputies Edward Klementovich and Harold Sleezer rushed to the house and found Sullivan drunk, lying in the middle of a fire road near House 753.

Phillips, a laborer, is one of the few who has befriended Sullivan. "His main problem is alcoholism," said Phillips. He may have taken to drinking because he has been rejected by everyone as soon as they learn he was one of the turncoats, Phillips added.

"He entered the Army when he was only about 17, and he was only about 19 when captured," Phillips said. "He went only out of curosity more than anything else. He wanted to see what it was like in China. It wasn't exactly what he thought it would be."

Sullivan, a sergeant when captured in Korea, said he is glad he came home. "The only thing I'm sorry for is people don't want to understand me."

Sullivan completed the 10th grade at Santa Barbara before entering the Army. While in Communist China, he said he attended college classes in Peking, where he studied through an interpreter.

Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court signed a 72-hours commitment order to have Sullivan sent to Napa. A hearing will be held, probably next week, to determine whether the commitment should be indefinite.

Sullivan pleaded with his grandmother not to be sent to the hospital.

"I promise you I won't drink no more. Don't send me back to the hospital. Please!" he begged.

The spry Mrs. Frost said she is willing to forgive.

"Yes, he's mine," she said "He's no good, but he's mine."

OBITUARIES

Life-Long Marinite Dies At 69

A life-long resident of Marin County, Mrs. Ida E. Silverthorn, wife of retired railroad engineer Willis A. Silverthorn of Sausalito, died yesterday at a local hospital after nearly three years of failing health. She was 69.

Mrs. Silverthorn and her husband had lived at 412 Johnson street. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Marshall F. Silverthorn of Mill Valley, and by two grandchildren.

Mrs. Silverthorn was born in Olema, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall, who settled in Marin in 1876 after arriving here from Ireland. For many years, her father was the owner of a Point Reyes Station butcher shop.

She attended grammar school in Point Reyes Station.

Her marriage to Willis A. Silverthorn took place Oct. 2, 1915. Silverthorn, who retired four years ago, was a locomotive engineer for 45 years for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, working mainly between Sausalito and Willits, Mendocino County.

Mrs. Silverthorn was a member of Sea Point Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and a past member of the auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Frank J. Keaton mortuary in Sausalito. Interment will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Sorine Pedersen Dies At Age 81

Mrs. Sorine Pedersen, 81, a resident of the Aldersly Danish Home in San Rafael since November, 1953, died yesterday. She had been bedridden for the last six months.

She came to the Danish Home from Los Angeles, where she formerly was in the food business.

Mrs. Pedersen, a widow, is survived by two sons, Raymond of Vallejo and Holger of Denmark, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was a native of Denmark.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Keaton's, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

Frank Vaculin Of Fairfax Dies

Frank Vaculin, 72-year-old retired stonemason of Fairfax and a Marin County resident for nine years, died Tuesday at a local hospital after a brief illness.

Vaculin and his wife, Mary, had lived at 67 Rocca drive.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three daughters and three sons: Mrs. Lydia Cvar, Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Ann Otley, Orange; Mrs. Virginia Bouldin, Denver, Colo.; Frank G. Vaculin, Seattle, aWsh., and Jerry J. and Joseph J. Vaculin, both of Utah, and by 19 grandchildren.

Vaculin had been employed as a stonemason by Kennecott Copper Co. in Utah for 27 years before his retirement nine years ago. He was a native of Austria.

He was a member of St. Rita's Catholic Church, Fairfax.

Funeral services and interment will be in Salt Lake City, later this week. Local arrangements were made by the Harry M. Williams mortuary, San Rafael.

Kathryn Lohmann Final Rites Held

Private funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Kathryn C. Lohmann, 63, of Ross, who died Monday at a local rest home after a long illness.

Mrs. Lohmann had been a resident of Marin County for 39 years. She and her husband, Edward, a retired finance director for Standard Oil Co. of California, lived at 31 Lagunitas road.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Lohmann is survived by a son and a daughter, Edward B. Lohmann of Piedmont and Mrs. Kathryn J. Williams of Redwood City; two sisters, Mrs. Florence C. Briggs of San Francisco and Mrs. Grace C. Volberg of Pasadena, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland, followed by private inurnment.

rency, mostly in $100 denominations, plus $105 in old currency which Philes had been collecting. The latter includes 10 $100 bills, all dated 1913, and one $5 bill dated 1902.

Philes, a San Francisco auto agency executive, also reported the loss of a $2,500 man's three-karat diamond ring in a platinum basket-weave setting and a $600 man's sapphire ring with the principal gem flanked by three-quarter karat diamonds.

Clark said other loot included Mrs. Philes' diamond wedding and engagement ring set, valued at about $300, and a solid gold man's wristwatch, with a solid gold band valued at $800. Total value of the watch was not immediately known, the chief said.

Missing, too, are four $20 gold pieces, a tie pin made of a $5 gold piece and a cuff link set also fashioned from $5 gold pieces, one dated 1910 and the other 1913.

Clark said the burglar also made off with a .38 caliber police-type Smith and Wesson revolver and Philes' wallet containing personal papers and cards.

Officer Jerry Mattos was assisting Clark in the investigation today.

A life-long resident of Marin County, Mrs. Ida E. Silverthorn, wife of retired railroad engineer Willis A. Silverthorn of Sausalito, died yesterday at a local hospital after nearly three years of failing health. She was 69.

Mrs. Silverthorn and her husband had lived at 412 Johnson street. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Marshall F. Silverthorn of Mill Valley, and by two grandchildren.

Mrs. Silverthorn was born in Olema, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall, who settled in Marin in 1876 after arriving here from Ireland. For many years, her father was the owner of a Point Reyes Station butcher shop.

She attended grammar school in Point Reyes Station.

Her marriage to Willis A. Silverthorn took place Oct. 2, 1915. Silverthorn, who retired four years ago, was a locomotive engineer for 45 years for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, working mainly between Sausalito and Willits, Mendocino County.

Mrs. Silverthorn was a member of Sea Point Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, and a past member of the auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Frank J. Keaton mortuary in Sausalito. Interment will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Sorine Pedersen Dies At Age 81

Mrs. Sorine Pedersen, 81, a resident of the Aldersly Danish Home in San Rafael since November, 1953, died yesterday. She had been bedridden for the last six months.

She came to the Danish Home from Los Angeles, where she formerly was in the food business.

Mrs. Pedersen, a widow, is survived by two sons, Raymond of Vallejo and Holger of Denmark, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was a native of Denmark.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Keaton's, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

Frank Vaculin Of Fairfax Dies

Frank Vaculin, 72-year-old retired stonemason of Fairfax and a Marin County resident for nine years, died Tuesday at a local hospital after a brief illness.

Vaculin and his wife, Mary, had lived at 67 Rocca drive.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three daughters and three sons: Mrs. Lydia Cvar, Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Ann Otley, Orange; Mrs. Virginia Bouldin, Denver, Colo.; Frank G. Vaculin, Seattle, aWsh., and Jerry J. and Joseph J. Vaculin, both of Utah, and by 19 grandchildren.

Vaculin had been employed as a stonemason by Kennecott Copper Co. in Utah for 27 years before his retirement nine years ago. He was a native of Austria.

He was a member of St. Rita's Catholic Church, Fairfax.

Funeral services and interment will be in Salt Lake City, later this week. Local arrangements were made by the Harry M. Williams mortuary, San Rafael.

Kathryn Lohmann Final Rites Held

Private funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Kathryn C. Lohmann, 63, of Ross, who died Monday at a local rest home after a long illness.

Mrs. Lohmann had been a resident of Marin County for 39 years. She and her husband, Edward, a retired finance director for Standard Oil Co. of California, lived at 31 Lagunitas road.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Lohmann is survived by a son and a daughter, Edward B. Lohmann of Piedmont and Mrs. Kathryn J. Williams of Redwood City; two sisters, Mrs. Florence C. Briggs of San Francisco and Mrs. Grace C. Volberg of Pasadena, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Chapel of the Chimes, Oakland, followed by private inurnment.

rency, mostly in $100 denominations, plus $105 in old currency which Philes had been collecting. The latter includes 10 $100 bills, all dated 1913, and one $5 bill dated 1902.

Philes, a San Francisco auto agency executive, also reported the loss of a $2,500 man's three-karat diamond ring in a platinum basket-weave setting and a $600 man's sapphire ring with the principal gem flanked by three-quarter karat diamonds.

Clark said other loot included Mrs. Philes' diamond wedding and engagement ring set, valued at about $300, and a solid gold man's wristwatch, with a solid gold band valued at $800. Total value of the watch was not immediately known, the chief said.

Missing, too, are four $20 gold pieces, a tie pin made of a $5 gold piece and a cuff link set also fashioned from $5 gold pieces, one dated 1910 and the other 1913.

Clark said the burglar also made off with a .38 caliber police-type Smith and Wesson revolver and Philes' wallet containing personal papers and cards.

Officer Jerry Mattos was assisting Clark in the investigation today.

Mill Valley Council Overrules Planners

The Mill Valley City Council voted 4-to-1 last night to allow the General Petroleum Corp. to erect a Mobilgas service station at the southeast corner of East Blithedale avenue and Camino Alto.

Only Councilman Elizabeth Rodman opposed the commercial addition at the traffic-crowded corner.

Recently the council turned thumbs down on a no-left-turn provision for that intersection. The plan was to prohibit left turns during the heavy commute traffic hours. The proposal was set aside until a more complete street plan can be worked out.

Mrs. Rodman moved to deny granting a use permit for the station but her motion died. The council's action overruled a planning commission request that the permit be denied. The planners have held lengthy hearings on the application.

A corporation attorney, Edward R. Fitzsimmons talked to the council at length on the matter, and other members of the firm presented site sketches and architectural drawings. The plan is to have a "rustic" station rather than the familar painted metal station.

Mrs. Rodman said she could not vote for the station inasmuch as there is a "critical traffic" situation. She said she would not be opposed to other commercial uses that would "not bring about this conflict."

Councilman Peter H. Behr said he agreed there is a traffic problem, but could not disapprove the permit because a gas station use is specifically permitted under the zoning for the area.

Fitzsimmons said the company is ready to build immediately. First the planning commission will have to review his plans.

The council also:

1. Overruled protests on the charges in the Bolsa Avenue Assessment District and approved all assessments in the district.
2. Agreed to send back to the planning commission proceedings in the annexation of Enchanted Knolls unit four, so the planners, presently hearing plans for a restaurant, can include the proceedings for the whole area in recommendations to the council.
3. Held over to Jan. 6 first reading of the amended subdivision ordinance, giving council members time to review the ordinance for possible changes.
4. Appointed Frank Lam, an insurance broker, to the planning commission, to replace R. Lannert Iglehart, whose term expired.
5. Reappointed Harold Henry as Mill Valley member of the mosquito abatement district board.
6. Held off for another meeting the appointment of another architectural advisory commissioner.
7. Agreed to allow Almonte Sanitary District to pay off its shares of costs of using the Mill Valley sewage treatment plant at a 30-year rate for the remainder of this fiscal year, changing to a 20-year rate next fiscal year.

Buy Gum

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans chewed 250 million pounds of gum last year and paid $306 million for it, according to Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, a trade publication.

This amounts to more than 200 sticks for every man, woman and child in the country, or one stick of gum 1,500,000 miles long, the publication noted.

City Engineer Ends Services To Mill Valley

Albert H. Siemer snuffed out a big stogie at his table near the Mill Valley City Council rostrum last night, and said goodby to all.

Last night was the final appearance of Siemer at the meeting as city engineer. He has served the city for 13 years.

His resignation had been discussed for some time and tentatively approved. The city already is looking for a successor and the council members have had informal chats with several prospects. It is City Manager A. E. Almcrants' right to appoint a successor, but he has said the council should have a hand in naming the person to take Siemers' place.

Mayor Robert D. Huber lauded Siemer's work with the city and said he spoke for past councils as well as the present one.

"You have handled your assignments capably and successfully," he said.

Huber presented Siemer with a certificate of appreciation from the people of Mill Valley, and a letter signed by all members of the council telling of their appreciation.

Then the council and Siemer exchanged season greetings.

And Siemer received one other thing from the council:

S.F. Socialite Plans To Wed Spanish Prince

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dorothy Marguerite (Dolly) Fritz, beautiful San Francisco socialite heiress to a nine-million-dollar fortune, will marry Prince Gonzalo de Borbon of Spain next April, their mothers announced yesterday.

Miss Fritz, 24, is heiress to the Nob Hill real estate holdings of her father, the late Eugene Fritz.

Her 29-year-old fiance is the second son of Infante Don Jaime of Spain and a nephew of Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish throne.

The prince studied in Switzerland and was a medical student at the University of Madrid before coming to Californie last summer.

The engagement was announced by Miss Fritz' mother, Mrs. Laurence Hanna Tharp of San Francisco, and the prince's mother, Duchess Vittoria Emanuela de Dampierre, at her palace in Milan, Italy.

The announcement said the couple would be married in the Vatican late in April. Mrs. Tharp said Pope John XXIII is a close friend of Queen Victoria Eugenie, the prince's grandmother.

Second Novato Council Candidate Quits Race

One less candidate for Novato City Council will be on hand tonight at Olive School for the third of four candidates' nights staged by the Novato Home Rule Committee.

Announcing his withdrawal yesterday as a contender in the Jan. 12 election was Richard Marinovich, a salesman of 505 Arlington circle.

Another candidate, H. Randall Bechtel, stepped out of the race last week. The remaining candidates total 25.

Marinovich said his reason for withdrawing is his pending transfer by his employer, Libby's Frozen Foods, to Yakima, Wash.

Marinovich did not endorse any single remaining candidate. He said there were "at least 20" competent contenders in the race.

"Novato would make a serious mistake if it fails to vote for incorporation on Jan. 12," the former candidate said.

County Clerk George S. Jones said the names of both Marinovich and Bechtel will appear on the ballot, however.

Tonight's meeting at 8 o'clock will hear six hopefuls state their views and answer questions of the public. They are Charles Johnson, William Loewen, Allen Marks, Clayton Payne, Harvey Vicchio and Charles Coniglio.

The last of the candidates' nights will be held Jan. 6 at the Lynwood School.

Next Tuesday night the candidates will hear Arthur H. Brandow, Corte Madera town manager, speak at Novato High School in another educational session, also sponsored by the home rule committee.

Babe Ruth earned $80,000 in 1930, at the time the highest salary ever paid to a baseball player.

Ex-Convict Held For Contra Costa

Ex-convict Richard Leo Olson, 33, a laborer living at 102 C street, San Rafael, was arrested by San Rafael police Tuesday for Contra Costa officers who want him on suspicion of robbery.

Inspector Lincoln Borba and Officer John Kingston arrested Olson on an arrest warrant from Contra Costa County.

Olson denied he was involved in any crime, but accompanied police to the jail quietly. He was held in jail in lieu of $5,250 bail.

Police said Olson served time in San Quentin for robbery committed in Marin in 1949. In 1956 he was convicted of burglary.

Iraq is planning to spend 27 million dollars on expansion of facilities at Baghdad's airport.

Radio Panel Splits On Bolinas Housing

Taking care of elder citizens is about the hottest question in the United States today, William Voorhees, retired builder of San Rafael, said on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today.

"They have been the forgotten part of our civilization," he said, "and now with senior housing projects taking hold all over the U. S., senior citizens will be coming into their own."

The panel discussion, to be re-broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m., was on Alcan Pacific Co.'s proposed senior citizens' home project in Bolinas.

Members of the panel were Sherman Smith, long-time Bolinas resident; Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of the Marin County Planning Commission; architect Felix Warburg; Lester Burdett, vice president of Alcan Pacific, and Voorhees, who took the place of Supervisor Vera L. Schultz who was unable to appear. Kitty Oppenheimer moderated.

Some of the problems considered were planning, Bolinas weather, transportation, voting habits, views of summer vs. all-year-round inhabitants.

Warburg, who owns property in Bolinas but does not live there all year around, said the project should be discussed from the principles of good planning.

He said that people should decide whether they want, in 20 years, an urban, a suburban or a rural community. "One thing that disturbs me," Warburg said, "is that in putting in 300 dwelling units you end up with six dwelling units per acre or—with the people who operate the kitchens and facilities—about 650 people. The effect on Bolinas could be serious."

Warburg said that there are now 400 people all year around, about 1,200 in the summer.

Warburg said too, that older people require proximity to shopping and recreation areas and that the location of the project, two miles from town, would not be too advantageous in this respect.

Mrs. Azevedo, in favoring the project, said Bolinas' weather and the business side of the project were Alcan's problems.

"I don't think it (the Alcan project) will produce babies for the schools and it would be a plus from the tax standpoint," she said.

Smith said the proposed homes would not change the feeling of the town. He asked how anyone can deny the right of anyone to live in Bolinas if he chooses.

Warburg said that most of the questions bring up this question: What happens if for various reasons the place is not successful?

Burdett answered, "I assure you that my comapny will not enter into any project that doesn't have a very good chance of success."

Regarding the Bolinas weather, Smith said that it is more nearly constant than in any other part of Marin County.

Answering a question about the Mission Inn, a comparable senior citizens home which Voorhees set up at Boyes Springs, Voorhees said the inn has been slow in filling but he doesn't doubt that it will fill up. He said residents there do not have anything to do in the line of work and that may be responsible for its not being full.

Smith, speaking on transportation for residents of Hacienda Bolinas, said that this problem was primarily one of roads. He said that he came to San Rafael this morning from Bolinas in 45 minutes. He said it takes him one hour to go from Bolinas to San Francisco.

Smith said that he thinks that most of the citizens who live in Bolinas the year around are in favor of the plan.

"This is a very general statement," retorted Warburg.

Marin Publisher Indicted On Tax Charges

Marin County publisher John M. Harlan, 49, of 108 Santa Rosa avenue, Sausalito, was indicted by a federal grand jury in San Francisco yesterday on six counts of failing to keep a separate bank deposit for withholding taxes taken out of the wages of his 12 employees.

He also was indicated on a charge of making a false statement to Internal Revenue Service investigators.

FIRST PROSECUTION

The six counts of failing to deposit taxes set the stage for the first prosecution west of the Mississippi under a law which went into effect last year. It requires withholding taxes be kept in a trust fund. Maximum penalty for failure to do so is one year in jail and a $5,000 fine for each count.

Asst. U. S. Atty. James Schnake said Harlan told investigators he did not have the money to make up the delinquencies in his withholding payments.

DENIES ALLEGATION

Harlan denied today Schnake's allegation that at the time Harlan actually had assets of $345,000.

The Sausalito man, publisher of the weekly Marin News and Marin Guide, a shopping news, and the Haight-Cole Shopping Guide in San Francisco, said he does not have and never has had assets in any such amount.

According to Schnake, penalty and interest added to Harlan's $8.500 delinquency would make his total debt about $43,000.

Giant Space Balloon Falls In Mississippi

FULTON, Miss. (UPI) — The world's biggest balloon fell to earth in a woods near here today, and startled residents thought it was a Christmas snowfall.

The unmanned balloon, taller than a 31-story building, floated down after a three-day maiden voyage from Rapid City, S. D. It was carrying an 1,800-pound payload of scientific instruments for cosmic ray exploration.

Police and national guardsmen set up a security guard around the huge balloon, the joint property of the U. S. government and Winzen Research, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn.

"I got up this morning to turn out the chickens and saw it," Mrs. Eupal Thornberry, an English teacher at Itawamba Junior High School, said. "I was the first one to see it, but I didn't know what on earth it was. It looked like the tree tops were covered with snow at Christmas time."

Mrs. Thornberry called a neighbor. Both approached the strange object and found it was brilliant white nylon.

Mrs. Thornberry's brother, Philip A. Sheffield Jr., 18, searched the nylon and found a tag telling the finder whom to call.

Condition Of Gunshot Victim 'Satisfactory'

Mrs. Anna Bihr, 39-year-old San Anselmo resident who suffered a gunshot wound at her home Monday, today was reported in satisfactory condition and continuing to show improvement at Marin General Hospital.

Mrs. Bihr was injured when a .38 caliber revolver being cleaned by her husband, Joseph, discharged at their home at 12 Allyn avenue. The bullet lodged in her hip.

Distillery Files Formal Protest To Rail Petition

The American Distilling Co. of Sausalito today filed a formal protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the proposed abandonment of seven and one-half miles of railroad track in southern Marin.

The Southern Pacific Co. has filed a petition with the I.C.C. requesting abandonment of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad freight line between a point called Detour above the Corte Madera grade tunnel and Sausalito.

The railroad claims freight business is falling off in Sausalito and it faces a large repair bill estimated from $500,000 to one million dollars at the tunnel under the Corte Madera grade.

Charles Beck, secretary-treasurer of A. G. Schoonmaker Co. in Sausalito, said virtually every businessman in Marinship plans to enter a protest.

Grain 'Banks'

NEW YORK (UPI) — It is estimated that there are from 1,200 to 1,500 grain "banks" scattered throughout the Midwest handling transactions not in money but in corn, oats and barley. Mostly operated by feed mills, the "banks" accept farmers' deposits of grain and make regular statements showing the amounts in storage.

MARIN VISITOR

Founder Of Holy City Has All The Answers

A man with solutions to everything from why Lorna Lax was murdered to how to assure world peace was a Marin caller yesterday.

The only trouble was that the visitor was extremely chary about disclosing his solutions. He has 'em, though, insisted William E. Riker, founder of Holy City and peripatetic politician. And they're "guaranteed."

Riker, who identifies himself as "Father Riker" because "I'm in the father business," declined to disclose "the true solution" to the murder of 12-year-old Lorna Lax "until I have informed Clifford Fortner's parents." Clifford has admitted the slaying and is now in Marin Juvenile Hall awaiting trial. Riker said the senior Fortners are out of town so he could not talk with them during his visit.

He was just a bit more informative about what he said was a "100 per cent solution for perfect government."

"It relates to the heart and blood of government," said Riker, cryptically. "The blood is typical of money and the heart typical of government."

But whether this meant the government heart would send financial blood coursing to one and all, Riker did not say.

Riker was an also-ran in last year's gubernatorial race. At that time, his proposals for government failed to arouse great enthusiasm among California voters.

As for world peace, Riker said cautiously, that is most important. He wouldn't like to give his plan off-the-cuff. It might be misinterpreted. He promised to send it to an Independent-Journal interviewer in the form of a document.

"I'm going to see Governor Brown in Sacramento," he announced, picking up his sturdy cane. "I'll be back in 10 days."

AEC Explodes Blast In Mine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two small non-clear high explosive charges were set off in a Louisiana salt mine early today as part of new studies on detecting underground nuclear tests.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the two explosions were touched off shortly after midnight about 800 feet below the earth's surface in the mine of the Carey Salt Co. at Winnfield, La.

An AEC spokesman said the blasts were the first of a total of 10 scheduled from time to time at the mine as part of the study program. The maximum charge to be exploded will be about five tons.

Film actor Sterling Hayden will become a Belvedere resident in January when he and his four children will move into the Thomas Fleming home on top of Belvedere Island.

The residence, originally the clubhouse for a nine-hole golf course, has a tennis court. It is located at the corner of Madrona and Golden Gate avenues. Leasing arrangements were handled by the Belvedere Land Co.

Hayden's four children will start school Jan. 4 in the Reed Union School District. Matthew, the youngest, will attend Belvedere School's second grade. Gretchen, Thor and Christian will attend Reed School's fourth, fifth and seventh grades respectively. Christian will complete the sixth grade in January and is expected to enter the seventh as a mid-term student.

IKE, DE GAULLE TO AIR NATO DISPUTE

North Atlantic Allies Unable To Settle Deadlock Over Unification Of Defense

PARIS (AP)—The 15 North Atlantic Allies today tossed the U. S.-French deadlock over unified defense to Presidents Eisenhower and Charles de Gaulle for solution.

Defense ministers of the Allies made a last stab today at reaching agreement on integration at least of their European air defenses under command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But France for the third day of NATO'S annual ministerial review held firm against the 14 other allies, refusing to pass control of any more of her forces to the central command.

Informed sources confirmed that the issue was now firmly on the schedule for discussion when de Gaulle and Eisenhower meet privately Saturday, in a session accompanying the Western summit meeting this week end.

It appeared the NATO allies did not want to risk an open row with de Gaulle and had declared a temporary truce. But the truce was likely to be of short duration.

"We are determined to get this thing settled," one NATO diplomat said with conviction.

France doesn't want to contribute even to the unified air defense system being pushed as a face-saving compromise. The United States has been leading a campaign for over-all integration of armed forces—under unified command—to defend Western Europe.

De Gaulle insists on a loosely linked alliance, with each nation retaining control of its land, sea and air forces.

Eisenhower is expected to remind de Gaulle that U. S. forces were pledged to the continent under the principle of integrated NATO forces. Without this concept, the United States feels there is little if any reason for being in Europe.

Lagunitas To Name School Tax Chairman

Appointment of a chairman for a citizens' committee for Lagunitas School District's Jan. 12 tax increase election is expected at a meeting of the district's board of trustees at 8 o'clock tonight in Lagunitas School.

A proposed $2 maximum general purpose tax rate for a five-year period was approved at the Nov. 5 board meeting. Residents will vote on the proposal at the January election.

At an election last March voters approved a $2 rate for the 1959-60 fiscal year only. If the proposal should fail to win a majority vote in the election, the district would have to revert next year to a tax limit of 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Santa Lists Hours For Novato Visit

Santa Claus today urged all Novato small fry who want to talk to him Saturday at the main firehouse to try to arrange their visits before 11 a.m. or after 1 p.m.

This would avoid the rush during the hours between the morning cartoon festival and the afternoon matinee at the Novato Theater, Santa said.

He will be on hand at the firehouse from 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the annual party staged by the Novato Volunteer Firemen.

Novato's On The Map In Magazine Feature

Novato is on the map this week.

On page 94 of the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, the town appears in the Post's regular feature, "Where do you think you are?"

The feature is a guessing game in which small portions of maps are displayed, asking the reader to locate the area geographically.

Pope Confers Red Hats On New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today conferred the red hats of their rank on seven new cardinals in the second pre-Christmas consistory of his reign.

Two Americans were among the seven, Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer, archbishop of Chicago, and Alois Cardinal Muench, until now bishop of Fargo, N. D., and apostolic nuncio to Germany.

An eighth new prince of the church, Paolo Cardinal Marella, is in Paris as apostolic nuncio to France. He will receive his red hat — the broad-brimmed galero—upon his return to the Vatican in a few days.

A hushed throng of thousands watched in St. Peter's Basilica as the new cardinals one by one climbed the red-carpeted steps to the pope's throne.

IKE, DE GAULLE TO AIR NATO DISPUTE

North Atlantic Allies Unable To Settle Deadlock Over Unification Of Defense

PARIS (AP)—The 15 North Atlantic Allies today tossed the U. S.-French deadlock over unified defense to Presidents Eisenhower and Charles de Gaulle for solution.

Defense ministers of the Allies made a last stab today at reaching agreement on integration at least of their European air defenses under command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But France for the third day of NATO'S annual ministerial review held firm against the 14 other allies, refusing to pass control of any more of her forces to the central command.

Informed sources confirmed that the issue was now firmly on the schedule for discussion when de Gaulle and Eisenhower meet privately Saturday, in a session accompanying the Western summit meeting this week end.

It appeared the NATO allies did not want to risk an open row with de Gaulle and had declared a temporary truce. But the truce was likely to be of short duration.

"We are determined to get this thing settled," one NATO diplomat said with conviction.

France doesn't want to contribute even to the unified air defense system being pushed as a face-saving compromise. The United States has been leading a campaign for over-all integration of armed forces—under unified command—to defend Western Europe.

De Gaulle insists on a loosely linked alliance, with each nation retaining control of its land, sea and air forces.

Eisenhower is expected to remind de Gaulle that U. S. forces were pledged to the continent under the principle of integrated NATO forces. Without this concept, the United States feels there is little if any reason for being in Europe.

Lagunitas To Name School Tax Chairman

Appointment of a chairman for a citizens' committee for Lagunitas School District's Jan. 12 tax increase election is expected at a meeting of the district's board of trustees at 8 o'clock tonight in Lagunitas School.

A proposed $2 maximum general purpose tax rate for a five-year period was approved at the Nov. 5 board meeting. Residents will vote on the proposal at the January election.

At an election last March voters approved a $2 rate for the 1959-60 fiscal year only. If the proposal should fail to win a majority vote in the election, the district would have to revert next year to a tax limit of 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Santa Lists Hours For Novato Visit

Santa Claus today urged all Novato small fry who want to talk to him Saturday at the main firehouse to try to arrange their visits before 11 a.m. or after 1 p.m.

This would avoid the rush during the hours between the morning cartoon festival and the afternoon matinee at the Novato Theater, Santa said.

He will be on hand at the firehouse from 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the annual party staged by the Novato Volunteer Firemen.

Novato's On The Map In Magazine Feature

Novato is on the map this week.

On page 94 of the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, the town appears in the Post's regular feature, "Where do you think you are?"

The feature is a guessing game in which small portions of maps are displayed, asking the reader to locate the area geographically.

ARLEIGH WILLIAMS, former College of Marin coach pictured as a star halfback at California in 1934, today was honored by Sports Illustrated Magazine in its Silver Anniversary All-America team. See story below.

Arleigh Williams On 25-Year 'Star' Team

Arleigh Williams, dean of men at University of California and former football coach and director of athletics at College of Marin, has been named to the 1959 Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-American team.

The full roster of 25 winners was featured in the Dec. 21 issue of the magazine which hit the newsstands today.

Nomination for the Silver Anniversary All-America is made by the college for which the candidate played football in his senior year 25 years ago. Winners, selected on the basis of successful living in the intervening quarter century, are picked by a board of judges composed of some of the nation's most distinguished citizens.

Williams was All-American halfback at California in 1934.

Other winners from this state are Mike Frankovich of UCLA, a moving picture producer; and Wallace Johnson of California Institute of Technology, president of a manufacturing concern.

Of Williams, Sports Ilustrated says: "Twenty-five seasons ago Arleigh Williams, a 158-pound tailback, pounded the center of a rugged Stanford line. 'That game had everything you could ask for,' recalls Williams. 'Everything except victory.' Stanford won 9-7, and the Cal tailback went on to become assistant football coach at Richmond Union High, then dean of boys. Williams took to the dean's job immediately: 'I like working with boys and have a good ear.' Two decades later, Williams was back at California as dean of men, a highly important job at one of the world's largest universities. Into Dean Williams' office have filed thousands of students. He does not believe that boys have changed over the past quarter century. 'There are different techniques and more knowledge nowadays,' he says, 'but basically the problems are similar and they require a firm, just touch.'"

Williams was a member of the College of Marin faculty from 1946 to 1957 when he became California's Dean of Men.

The twenty-five 1959 All-America winners represent almost as many different varieties of endeavor. Sports Illustrated has found that their average starting salaries were just over $1,000. Twenty-five years later their average income is close to $50,000 a year and they are working an average of 65 hours a week to earn it. All love their work, and money appears to be very much a secondary incentive. Today, the magazine notes, they all feel that a liberal arts education is of fundamental value and that their participation in collegiate football was a telling influence in their lives.

The complete list of winners is as follows: Donald Hutson, University of Alabama; Kendall K. DeBevoise, Amherst; Dr. Robert John Anicetti, Bates; Wallace Johnson, Cal Tech; Arleigh Williams, California; Mike Frankovich, UCLA; Ellmore Patterson, University of Chicago; Joseph Bogdanski, Colgate; Donald Hagerman, Dartmouth; Wayne W. Hayes, Denison; Dr. Ernest Dunlap, Duke; E. Davis Wilcox, Georgia Tech; John C. Brown, Georgia; Barton Cummings, University of Illinois; George Cobb, University of Maine; Governor Robert Stafford, Middlebury College; Rep. Gerald Ford, University of Michigan; "Pug" Lund, University of Minnesota; Benjamin Blackford, St. Lawrence University; General Odell M. Conoley, Texas A & M; Charles Coats, University of Texas; General Robert Morris Stillman, U. S. Military Academy; Captain Slade Cutter, U. S. Naval Academy; Dr. H. Leo Dickison, Vanderbilt; Sidney Towle, Yale.

Awards Presented To Drake High's JV, Frosh Stars

Sir Francis Drake High School junior varsity and freshman footballers were honored last night at an annual awards dinner provided by the Drake Benchwarmers.

Parents of the players also attended the event, held at the Sleepy Hollow School All-purpose room.

Syd Russell, prep sports editor for the San Francisco Examiner, was the speaker.

Harry Sannar of San Anselmo, president of the Benchwarmers — an organization of parents lending support to the Drake High sports program—was master of ceremonies.

Winners of junior varsity awards were: outstanding lineman—Steve Purcell; most valuable back — Rich Bottini; most determined player — Dennis White, a back; most improved player—Jim Sannar, a back; sportsmanship—Dave Manuel, back and end; best scholar—Glynn Gregory, quarterback; and co-captains—George Picken, quarterback, and Dale Thompson, center.

All except Picken, a junior, are sophomores, and all are from San Anselmo.

Freshman award winners were: outstanding lineman — Rick Lais, center, San Anselmo; outstanding back—Tom Tanzi, Fairfax; most determined player—Jim Duff, San Anselmo, back; most improved player—Don O'Brien, Fairfax; best sportsman — Roger Bovard, San Anselmo, lineman; and co-captains —Jerry Sheets, back, formerly San Anselmo but recently moved to San Rafael, and Hamish Tyler, quarterback San Geronimo.

M. V. BOYS TRIUMPH

Mike Hellmer scored 10 points and Chris Schuepbach contributed 9 as they led the Mill Valley Boys Club basketball team to a 30-25 victory over Mt. Carmel of Mill Valley last night.

Pete Kelly scored 10 for the losers.

CINCY TRADE

Lane Happy, But Players All Shook Up

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians predicted yesterday that Johnny Temple's defensive ability at second base will make up for the loss of 19-game winning pitcher Cal McLish in the last-minute trade with Cincinnati.

Lane, who gave up McLish, infielder Billy Martin, and rookie first baseman Gordon Coleman to get the veteran Temple, called the ex-Redleg "the best second baseman in the National League—possibly the best in either league."

"With Vic Power at first base, Temple at second, Woody Held at shortstop and Bubba Phillips at third, the 1960 Indians will present the finest defensive infield the club has had for a long time," Lane predicted.

PENNANT DREAMS

Lane, who just beat the midnight deadline on inter-league trades and actually didn't announce the swap until an hour-and-a-half after it, said that dreams of the pennant prompted the move.

"Whenever a club finishes a strong second as we did in 1959, it must think in terms of winning the pennant the following year," said Lane. "With this objective in mind, we went after Temple."

If Lane was delighted, and he obviously was, some of the principals involved in the swap were a little more restrained.

"I'm all shook up," said Temple at his home in Tampa, Fla. "I guess after being with one organization for 11 years, you figure to be traded. Still, it's hard to believe."

The always outspoken Martin blamed bitterness between himself and Indians' Manager Joe Gordon for his departure.

MARTIN MIFFED

"What this amounts to is that I'm out of the American League because Gordon doesn't like me," said Martin in Cleveland. "I'm not going to knock him the way he knocked me. I'll be in the majors longer than he will, no matter how much he condemns me. It's not going to be half as bad for me as for Joe, if he has any conscience."

McLish, 34-year-old father of five kids, was worried whether the Reds will be as generous salary-wise as the Indians.

"I was hoping I wouldn't be traded, and I didn't want to leave the league," said McLish. "I may not have many years left: I've got five kids to feed and the other club (Cincinnati) might not understand what I did the way that Frank Lane would."

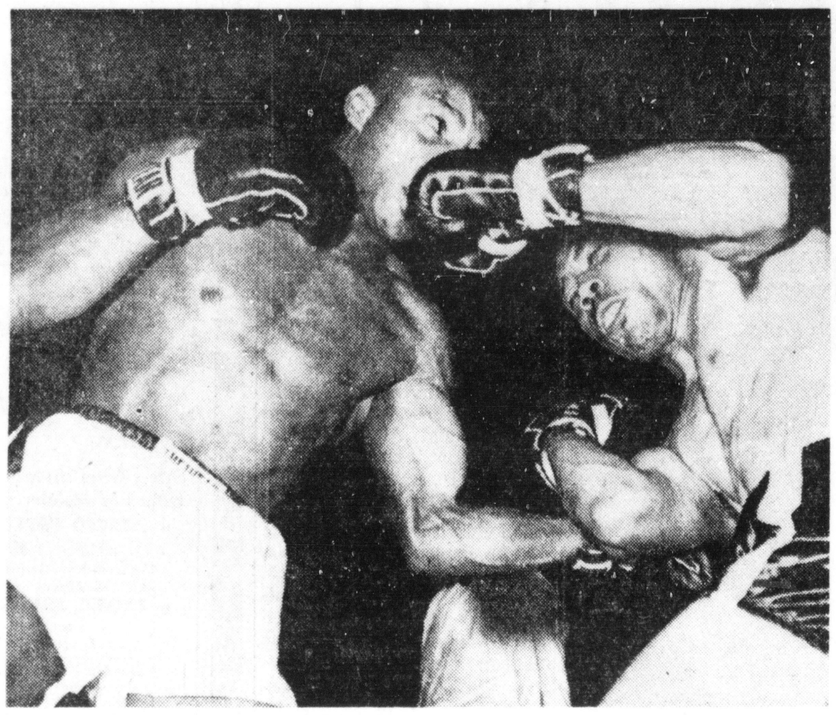

Temple batted .311 last season, his best in the majors. His lifetime average is .292 and he is regarded as a whiz at double plays.

Cincinnati made one other last-minute move, selling outfielder-first baseman Johnny Powers to Baltimore. The Orioles made room for him by giving Chico Carrasquel, once considered the top shortstop in the American League, his unconditional release.

Canadian Exhibitions

NORTH BAY, Ont. (AP)—Pointing for a still-to-be arranged world heavyweight title fight with champion Ingemar Johansson, No. 1 challenger Floyd Patterson continued his Ontario-Quebec exhibition tour with a pair of two-rounders before 600 fans here last night.

Punching in flurries, Patterson floored Ritchie Nordan with a left-right combination in the closing rounds of one bout. The other was against Billy Tisdale.

Dressen Vows Braves Will Show More Zip

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Charlie Dressen, the Milwaukee Braves' new manager, promised last night that his ball club "will have more zip next year and win a few games earlier in the year."

"The boys in the dugout are going to talk a little more baseball this summer and see if we can't steal a few signs once in a while," he said at a news conference and in a speech before a sports club at nearby Waukesha.

Dressen said he had "quite a talk" with Wes Covington, Milwaukee outfielder, recently and will have him start exercising before coming down to spring training.

Covington was a disappointment to the Braves early in the season before he injured his knee and sat out the closing weeks of the baseball year.

"That big fellow can mean a lot to this baseball club if he hits the way he did two seasons ago," Dressen said. "I told him I want to see him back in the groove and Wes assured me he's in good shape and anxious to return to his early form."

Once 'Dead' Neves Starts Comeback With A Victory

SAN MATEO (AP)—"Those spills couldn't have been too bad . . . I'm still here."

So declared tough little Ralph Neves, a jockey once declared dead, who returned to riding yesterday and crossed the line with a winner at Bay Meadows. His skull was fractured in a spill last May 30.

"I wanted to win in the worst way. Sure I was nervous. I didn't sleep good last night," the 38-year-old rider said after bringing home the filly Pez Vela in the third race.

Just before that, tears filled his eyes as he was presented a plaque with his picture engraved along with notations listing his 40 big stakes victories of a quarter-century career.

"I thought I was tough and wouldn't cry," he admitted. "But there was something wonderful about knowing I had so many many friends." Trainer Noble Threewitt named Neves to ride the favorite Pez Vela fulfilling a promise of three months ago that when Ralph was ready to come back, he'd put him on a good horse.

She won by three and one-half lengths to return $4, $3.80 and $2.60 for the two-dollar bettors. Comedian Jimmy Durante, master of ceremonies at the presentation, waged $15 "for sentimental reasons."

It was in 1936 that Neves was declared dead here after spilling and it was at Hollywood Park last spring when his mount, Rhin, tripped on another horse's heels and went down. Neves suffered a fractured skull and two fractured vertebrae.

In an emergency operation, doctors drilled a hole in his skull, but five days later Neves wondered when he could return to racing.

"The doctor looked at me and I figured he was thinking: This impudent guy. Here we've been trying to save his life and he's worried about returning to racing."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

CAMDEN, N.J. — Gene "Ace" Armstrong, 155½, Elizabeth, N.J., outpointed Rudy Ellis, 156, Chicago, 10.

NORTH BAY, Ont. — Bobby Hughes, Erie, Pa., knocked out Al Hogan, Toronto, 1, Lightheavyweights.

Ellis Flunks TV Test With Armstrong

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Rudy Ellis failed last night to live up to his billing as a hard hitter and dropped a 10-round decision to Ace Armstrong in a nationally-televised middleweight fight.

Ellis, a 22-year-old Chicago hopeful who slugged his way into a No. 10 ranking with a victory over Rory Calhoun, was unable to cope with the left hand Armstrong showed. Nor was he able to solve the cover-up tactics of the Elizabeth, N. J. boxer.

"I just couldn't get up any steam," Ellis said after the fight. "It was one of those nights when I couldn't get started."

Referee Paul Cavalier, the only official with a vote under the New Jersey system of scoring, awarded the eighth-ranked Armstrong seven rounds. Ellis was given the third and seventh rounds. The first was scored as a draw by Cavalier.

Ellis, who at 156 had a half pound edge over Armstrong, suffered a cut inside his mouth in the second as a result of a hard right by Armstrong. Another hard right by Armstrong in the fourth inflicted more damage to Ellis' mouth. From the fifth on he fought without a mouthpiece.

There were no knockdowns.

It was Armstrong's 18th triumph in 19 fights. Ellis now is 17-3-1.

Wilt Headed For NBA Scoring Mark In Rookie Year

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Wilt Chamberlain is on his way to a National Basketball Assn. scoring record in his freshman year as a professional.

The Philadelphia flipper tallied 43 points last night in leading the Warriors to a 114-105 triumph over the Cincinnati Royals. Wilt now has 917 points in his first 27 games. At this rate, he will wind up the season with approximately 2,500 points.

Bob Pettit set the NBA's scoring standard last season with 2,105 points.

In other action, Cliff Hagan's free throw with 30 seconds remaining gave St. Louis a 107-106 verdict over Detroit and Syracuse made it four out of five against New York with a 116-113 triumph over the Knicks.

Stoneham's Trading Ranks Him As Shrewdest Operator In Baseball

HANLEY

Horace Stoneham is the shrewdest trader operating in baseball today. Baseball trading requires rare skill. The president of the Giants has it coupled with a sound knowledge of the game and its players.

This is a distinct advantage over other club owners whose chief talents are directed toward gum or beer or other operations, with baseball as a pleasant sideline conducted through a general manager.

Stoneham's main busness is baseball which also is his hobby and 24-hour topic of conversation. He goes to the ball park every day whether in spring training or during the season. Not infallible, he can be wrong in his judgment of a player, but not as often as other club owners.

Equipped wth this knowledge of the game, Stoneham knew as well as Manager Bill Rigney that the Giants needed pitching help before the 1959 campaign started. However, like a good poker player he betrayed no symptoms of distress.

Last spring he let it be known through his vice president and nephew, Charles Stoneham (Chub) Feeney, the Giants had a surplus of outfielders and the best of them might be had for proper consideration. St. Louis needed an outfielder and dispatched the Cardinal personnel director, Eddie Stanky, to the Giant training camp at Phoenix.

BILL WHITE was put on display for Stanky, both in the outfield and at first base where the Cardinals needed help for their great but aging Stan Musial. After watching White in action for two weeks, Stanky finally recommended to Cardinal General Manager Bing Devine that White was the man St. Louis needed.

There was no question that the Giants wanted Sam Jones, the 1958 National League strikeout king. Stoneham tried to get him on a one-for-one trade, finally making it two-for-one: White and Jablonski.

JONES ALMOST pitched the Giants into a pennant with 21 wins, but his brilliant personal contribution was not enough because the Giant bullpen was horribly weak and the team could not make the double play consistently. Pittsburgh with 165 DPs led the N.L., San Francisco brought up the rear with 118.

Thus, Stoneham took up both problems but one at a time after the close of the '59 season. When the Florida winter trade talks started three weeks ago, he again passed the word he still had a surplus of outfielders. Baltimore listened.

The Orioles wanted Jackie Brandt. Stoneham wanted Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes. He offered Brandt and Gordon Jones for the two Oriole pitchers with the straight face of a superb poker player, finally sweetening the deal on a 3-for-2 basis by throwing in Roger McCardell.

THAT TOOK care of the pitching department for '60. So Stoneham directed his attention to the DP division. His ardor for Daryl Spencer cooled when Big D booted a critical double play against the Los Angeles Dodgers Sept. 19, allowing a flood of five runs, and costing the Giants the N.L. lead.

Stoneham again passed the word he had a fine second baseman for trade. Again he tried a one-for-one deal, Spencer for Don Blasingame. By now, Bing Devine and his boss, August Busch, knew Stoneham's first offer was not his best and waited. Finally, he sweetened the pot and agreed to toss in Leon Wagner, making Devine and Busch feel they out-traded him.

Stoneham doesn't feel that way. In Blasingame, he got a reliable DP man and also one of the best lead-off men in the business—another department where the Giants were hurting.

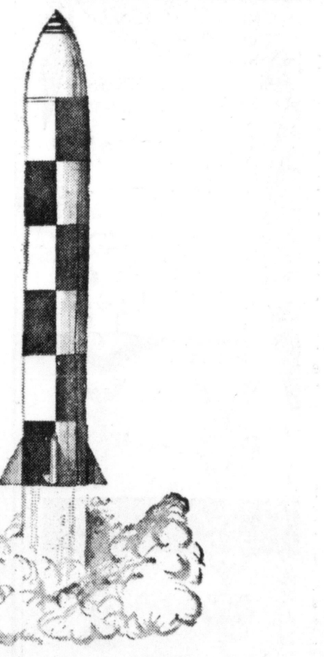

But Stoneham never would let on about his satisfied feeling. A good trader lets the other fellow believe he got the best of the bargain.

ARLEIGH WILLIAMS, former College of Marin coach pictured as a star halfback at California in 1934, today was honored by Sports Illustrated Magazine in its Silver Anniversary All-America team. See story below.

Arleigh Williams On 25-Year 'Star' Team

Arleigh Williams, dean of men at University of California and former football coach and director of athletics at College of Marin, has been named to the 1959 Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-American team.

The full roster of 25 winners was featured in the Dec. 21 issue of the magazine which hit the newsstands today.

Nomination for the Silver Anniversary All-America is made by the college for which the candidate played football in his senior year 25 years ago. Winners, selected on the basis of successful living in the intervening quarter century, are picked by a board of judges composed of some of the nation's most distinguished citizens.

Williams was All-American halfback at California in 1934.

Other winners from this state are Mike Frankovich of UCLA, a moving picture producer; and Wallace Johnson of California Institute of Technology, president of a manufacturing concern.

Of Williams, Sports Illustrated says: "Twenty-five seasons ago Arleigh Williams, a 158-pound tailback, pounded the center of a rugged Stanford line. 'That game had everything you could ask for,' recalls Williams. 'Everything except victory.' Stanford won 9-7, and the Cal tailback went on to become assistant football coach at Richmond Union High, then dean of boys. Williams took to the dean's job immediately: 'I like working with boys and have a good ear.' Two decades later, Williams was back at California as dean of men, a highly important job at one of the world's largest universities. Into Dean Williams' office have filed thousands of students. He does not believe that boys have changed over the past quarter century. 'There are different techniques and more knowledge nowadays,' he says, 'but basically the problems are similar and they require a firm, just touch.'"

Williams was a member of the College of Marin faculty from 1946 to 1957 when he became California's Dean of Men.

The twenty-five 1959 All-America winners represent almost as many different varieties of endeavor. Sports Illustrated has found that their average starting salaries were just over $1,000. Twenty-five years later their average income is close to $50,000 a year and they are working an average of 65 hours a week to earn it. All love their work, and money appears to be very much a secondary incentive. Today, the magazine notes, they all feel that a liberal arts education is of fundamental value and that their participation in collegiate football was a telling influence in their lives.

The complete list of winners is as follows: Donald Hutson, University of Alabama; Kendall K. DeBevoise, Amherst; Dr. Robert John Anicetti, Bates; Wallace Johnson, Cal Tech; Arleigh Williams, California; Mike Frankovich, UCLA; Ellmore Patterson, University of Chicago; Joseph Bogdanski, Colgate; Donald Hagerman, Dartmouth; Wayne W. Hayes, Denison; Dr. Ernest Dunlap, Duke; E. Davis Wilcox, Georgia Tech; John C. Brown, Georgia; Barton Cummings, University of Illinois; George Cobb, University of Maine; Governor Robert Stafford, Middlebury College; Rep. Gerald Ford, University of Michigan; "Pug" Lund, University of Minnesota; Benjamin Blackford, St. Lawrence University; General Odell M. Conoley, Texas A & M; Charles Coats, University of Texas; General Robert Morris Stillman, U. S. Military Academy; Captain Slade Cutter, U. S. Naval Academy; Dr. H. Leo Dickison, Vanderbilt; Sidney Towle, Yale.

Awards Presented To Drake High's JV, Frosh Stars

Sir Francis Drake High School junior varsity and freshman footballers were honored last night at an annual awards dinner provided by the Drake Benchwarmers.

Parents of the players also attended the event, held at the Sleepy Hollow School All-purpose room.

Syd Russell, prep sports editor for the San Francisco Examiner, was the speaker.

Harry Sannar of San Anselmo, president of the Benchwarmers — an organization of parents lending support to the Drake High sports program — was master of ceremonies.

Winners of junior varsity awards were: outstanding lineman—Steve Purcell; most valuable back — Rich Bottini; most determined player — Dennis White, a back; most improved player—Jim Sannar, a back; sportsmanship—Dave Manuel, back and end; best scholar—Glynn Gregory, quarterback; and co-captains—George Picken, quarterback, and Dale Thompson, center.

All except Picken, a junior, are sophomores, and all are from San Anselmo.

Freshman award winners were: outstanding lineman — Rick Lais, center, San Anselmo; outstanding back—Tom Tanzi, Fairfax; most determined player—Jim Duff, San Anselmo, back; most improved player—Don O'Brien, Fairfax; best sportsman — Roger Bovard, San Anselmo, lineman; and co-captains —Jerry Sheets, back, formerly San Anselmo but recently moved to San Rafael, and Hamish Tyler, quarterback San Geronimo.

M. V. BOYS TRIUMPH

Mike Hellmer scored 10 points and Chris Schuepbach contributed 9 as they led the Mill Valley Boys Club basketball team to a 30-25 victory over Mt. Carmel of Mill Valley last night.

Pete Kelly scored 10 for the losers.

Girls Know Signals

CENTER CROSS, Va. (AP) — Lights blinked on the Rappahannock River. They were seen by girls of Troop 71 of the Girl Scouts, who had been studying signals at their Camp Shangri-La. They recognized the distress signal and guided two lost men ashore with flashlights.

CINCY TRADE

Lane Happy, But Players All Shook Up

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians predicted yesterday that Johnny Temple's defensive ability at second base will make up for the loss of 19-game winning pitcher Cal McLish in the last-minute trade with Cincinnati.

Lane, who gave up McLish, infielder Billy Martin, and rookie first baseman Gordon Coleman to get the veteran Temple, called the ex-Redleg "the best second baseman in the National League—possibly the best in either league."

"With Vic Power at first base, Temple at second, Woody Held at shortstop and Bubba Phillips at third, the 1960 Indians will present the finest defensive infield the club has had for a long time," Lane predicted.

PENNANT DREAMS

Lane, who just beat the midnight deadline on inter-league trades and actually didn't announce the swap until an hour-and-a-half after it, said that dreams of the pennant prompted the move.

"Whenever a club finishes a strong second as we did in 1959, it must think in terms of winning the pennant the following year," said Lane. "With this objective in mind, we went after Temple."

If Lane was delighted, and he obviously was, some of the principals involved in the swap were a little more restrained.

"I'm all shook up," said Temple at his home in Tampa, Fla. "I guess after being with one organization for 11 years, you figure to be traded. Still, it's hard to believe."

The always outspoken Martin blamed bitterness between himself and Indians' Manager Joe Gordon for his departure.

MARTIN MIFFED

"What this amounts to is that I'm out of the American League because Gordon doesn't like me," said Martin in Cleveland. "I'm not going to knock him the way he knocked me. I'll be in the majors longer than he will, no matter how much he condemns me. It's not going to be half as bad for me as for Joe, if he has any conscience."

McLish, 34-year-old father of five kids, was worried whether the Reds will be as generous salary-wise as the Indians.

"I was hoping I wouldn't be traded, and I didn't want to leave the league," said McLish. "I may not have many years left: I've got five kids to feed and the other club (Cincinnati) might not understand what I did the way that Frank Lane would."

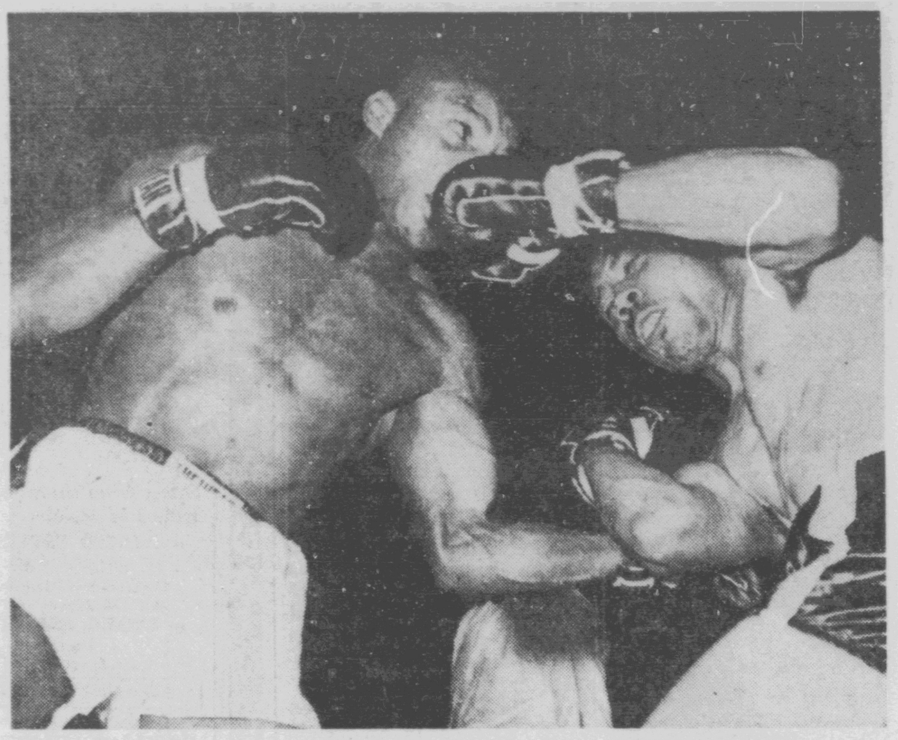

Temple batted .311 last season, his best in the majors. His lifetime average is .292 and he is regarded as a whiz at double plays.

Cincinnati made one other last-minute move, selling outfielder-first baseman Johnny Powers to Baltimore. The Orioles made room for him by giving Chico Carrasquel, once considered the top shortstop in the American League, his unconditional release.

Canadian Exhibitions

NORTH BAY, Ont. (AP)—Pointing for a still-to-be arranged world heavyweight title fight with champion Ingemar Johansson, No. 1 challenger Floyd Patterson continued his Ontario-Quebec exhibition tour with a pair of two-rounders before 600 fans here last night.

Punching in flurries, Patterson floored Ritchie Nordan with a left-right combination in the closing rounds of one bout. The other was against Billy Tisdale.

Dressen Vows Braves Will Show More Zip

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Charlie Dressen, the Milwaukee Braves' new manager, promised last night that his ball club "will have more zip next year and win a few games earlier in the year."

"The boys in the dugout are going to talk a little more baseball this summer and see if we can't steal a few signs once in a while," he said at a news conference and in a speech before a sports club at nearby Waukesha.

Dressen said he had "quite a talk" with Wes Covington, Milwaukee outfielder, recently and will have him start exercising before coming down to spring training.

Covington was a disappointment to the Braves early in the season before he injured his knee and sat out the closing weeks of the baseball year.

"That big fellow can mean a lot to this baseball club if he hits the way he did two seasons ago," Dressen said. "I told him I want to see him back in the groove and Wes assured me he's in good shape and anxious to return to his early form."

Once 'Dead' Neves Starts Comeback With A Victory

SAN MATEO (AP)—"Those spills couldn't have been too bad . . . I'm still here."

So declared tough little Ralph Neves, a jockey once declared dead, who returned to riding yesterday and crossed the line with a winner at Bay Meadows. His skull was fractured in a spill last May 30.

"I wanted to win in the worst way. Sure I was nervous. I didn't sleep good last night," the 38-year-old rider said after bringing home the filly Pez Vela in the third race.

Just before that, tears filled his eyes as he was presented a plaque with his picture engraved along with notations listing his 40 big stakes victories of a quarter-century career.

"I thought I was tough and wouldn't cry," he admitted. "But there was something wonderful about knowing I had so many many friends." Trainer Noble Threewitt named Neves to ride the favorite Pez Vela fulfilling a promise of three months ago that when Ralph was ready to come back, he'd put him on a good horse.

She won by three and one-half lengths to return $4, $3.80 and $2.60 for the two-dollar bettors. Comedian Jimmy Durante, master of ceremonies at the presentation, waged $15 "for sentimental reasons."

It was in 1936 that Neves was declared dead here after spilling and it was at Hollywood Park last spring when his mount, Rhin, tripped on another horse's heels and went down. Neves suffered a fractured skull and two fractured vertebrae.

In an emergency operation, doctors drilled a hole in his skull, but five days later Neves wondered when he could return to racing.

"The doctor looked at me and I figured he was thinking: This impudent guy. Here we've been trying to save his life and he's worried about returning to racing."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

CAMDEN, N.J. — Gene "Ace" Armstrong, 155½, Elizabeth, N.J., outpointed Rudy Ellis, 156, Chicago, 10.

NORTH BAY, Ont. — Bobby Hughes, Erie, Pa., knocked out Al Hogan, Toronto, 1, Lightheavyweights.

Ellis Flunks TV Test With Armstrong

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Rudy Ellis failed last night to live up to his billing as a hard hitter and dropped a 10-round decision to Ace Armstrong in a nationally-televised middleweight fight.

Ellis, a 22-year-old Chicago hopeful who slugged his way into a No. 10 ranking with a victory over Rory Calhoun, was unable to cope with the left hand Armstrong showed. Nor was he able to solve the cover-up tactics of the Elizabeth, N. J. boxer.

"I just couldn't get up any steam," Ellis said after the fight. "It was one of those nights when I couldn't get started."

Referee Paul Cavalier, the only official with a vote under the New Jersey system of scoring, awarded the eighth-ranked Armstrong seven rounds. Ellis was given the third and seventh rounds. The first was scored as a draw by Cavalier.

Ellis, who at 156 had a half pound edge over Armstrong, suffered a cut inside his mouth in the second as a result of a hard right by Armstrong. Another hard right by Armstrong in the fourth inflicted more damage to Ellis' mouth. From the fifth on he fought without a mouthpiece.

There were no knockdowns.

It was Armstrong's 18th triumph in 19 fights. Ellis now is 17-3-1.

Wilt Headed For NBA Scoring Mark In Rookie Year

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Wilt Chamberlain is on his way to a National Basketball Assn. scoring record in his freshman year as a professional.

The Philadelphia flipper tallied 43 points last night in leading the Warriors to a 114-105 triumph over the Cincinnati Royals. Wilt now has 917 points in his first 27 games. At this rate, he will wind up the season with approximately 2,500 points.

Bob Pettit set the NBA's scoring standard last season with 2,105 points.

In other action, Cliff Hagan's free throw with 30 seconds remaining gave St. Louis a 107-106 verdict over Detroit and Syracuse made it four out of five against New York with a 116-113 triumph over the Knicks.

Stoneham's Trading Ranks Him As Shrewdest Operator In Baseball

HANLEY

Horace Stoneham is the shrewdest trader operating in baseball today. Baseball trading requires rare skill. The president of the Giants has it coupled with a sound knowledge of the game and its players.

This is a distinct advantage over other club owners whose chief talents are directed toward gum or beer or other operations, with baseball as a pleasant sideline conducted through a general manager.

Stoneham's main busness is baseball which also is his hobby and 24-hour topic of conversation. He goes to the ball park every day whether in spring training or during the season. Not infallible, he can be wrong in his judgment of a player, but not as often as other club owners.

Equipped wth this knowledge of the game, Stoneham knew as well as Manager Bill Rigney that the Giants needed pitching help before the 1959 campaign started. However, like a good poker player he betrayed no symptoms of distress.

Last spring he let it be known through his vice president and nephew, Charles Stoneham (Chub) Feeney, the Giants had a surplus of outfielders and the best of them might be had for proper consideration. St. Louis needed an outfielder and dispatched the Cardinal personnel director, Eddie Stanky, to the Giant training camp at Phoenix.

BILL WHITE was put on display for Stanky, both in the outfield and at first base where the Cardinals needed help for their great but aging Stan Musial. After watching White in action for two weeks, Stanky finally recommended to Cardinal General Manager Bing Devine that White was the man St. Louis needed.

There was no question that the Giants wanted Sam Jones, the 1958 National League strikeout king. Stoneham tried to get him on a one-for-one trade, finally making it two-for-one: White and Jablonski.

JONES ALMOST pitched the Giants into a pennant with 21 wins, but his brilliant personal contribution was not enough because the Giant bullpen was horribly weak and the team could not make the double play consistently. Pittsburgh with 165 DPs led the N.L., San Francisco brought up the rear with 118.

Thus, Stoneham took up both problems but one at a time after the close of the '59 season. When the Florida winter trade talks started three weeks ago, he again passed the word he still had a surplus of outfielders. Baltimore listened.

The Orioles wanted Jackie Brandt. Stoneham wanted Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes. He offered Brandt and Gordon Jones for the two Oriole pitchers with the straight face of a superb poker player, finally sweetening the deal on a 3-for-2 basis by throwing in Roger McCardell.

THAT TOOK care of the pitching department for '60. So Stoneham directed his attention to the DP division. His ardor for Daryl Spencer cooled when Big D booted a critical double play against the Los Angeles Dodgers Sept. 19, allowing a flood of five runs, and costing the Giants the N.L. lead.

Stoneham again passed the word he had a fine second baseman for trade. Again he tried a one-for-one deal, Spencer for Don Blasingame. By now, Bing Devine and his boss, August Busch, knew Stoneham's first offer was not his best and waited. Finally, he sweetened the pot and agreed to toss in Leon Wagner, making Devine and Busch feel they out-traded him.

Stoneham doesn't feel that way. In Blasingame, he got a reliable DP man and also one of the best lead-off men in the business—another department where the Giants were hurting.

But Stoneham never would let on about his satisfied feeling. A good trader lets the other fellow believe he got the best of the bargain.

PIN TOURNEY OPENS TOMORROW

Hamilton '5' Vs. Unbeaten O.C. Tomorrow

A top flight basketball game will be played tomorrow night at the Redwood High Gym when the undefeated Olympic Club meets dangerous Hamilton Air Force Base at 8:45 p.m.

The "Winged O" have knocked off eight straight opponents and Coach Carl Minetti is again expecting to take his team to the National AAU tournament for the third time in four years. Minetti, nationally known coach of amateur teams, took the runner-up spot in the Denver tourney in 1957 and placed fourth last year.

This year's team is perhaps better than any he has coached since the 1955 group. In the forward line, Minetti has the pick of Charley Bogle, a 6-9 giant from Southern Oregon; Duane Asplund, the 6-8 center from California; Jack Allain, a 6-8½ post man from the Buchan Bakers and Wayne Moss, a 6-9 forward who won the NCAA high jump championship at Oregon State.

The guards are equally impressive. Back for his sixth season is veteran Phil Vukicevich, who has been Minetti's floor leader in more than 150 wins. Vukicevich has great support from Bob Blake, the converted California forward, Bill Aires, all-Conference guard from S.F. State; Dennis Fitzpatrick, the leading scorer on California's 1959 NCAA basketball championship team and Dan Sullivan, former "prep of the year" in San Francisco.

Hamilton has always proved to be a dangerous opponent against the OC. This year's team led by Lee Easley, a 6-5 center, is a fast-breaking team. The guards are Jim Wood, at 6-2, and Bill McFarland at 6-1.

MVP Banks Picks S.F. Team To Beat

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Francisco Giants will be the ones to beat . . . The Cubs strengthened themselves through trades . . . next to helping the Cubs win the pennant, his goal is a better batting average . . . Chicago is a wonderful town in which to play baseball.

These were just some of the observations of Ernie Banks, the National League's most valuable player the last two years, as he completed a three-day tour of New York City in interest of the Boys' Clubs of America.

"Those Giants are going to be real tough next year," said the slim Chicago shortstop. "They look like the ones to beat. They got a good infield, good pitching. Blasingame (Don), O'Dell (Billy) and Loes (Billy) should make them a real threat. We'll all be straining to beat Los Angeles."

Asked what is the goal of a man who clouted 45 homers and knocked in 143 runs last year but was buried in the second division with the Cubs for six years, Banks replied without hesitation: "A pennant."

Ernie admitted he is sick of it, but "not of the Cubs," he said quickly.

"It's the most wonderful place in the world to play baseball," he said. "Every player would love to play in Chicago, just to play in the daytime. I know. They talk to me about it. Stan Musial said he could hit .400 if he played 100 games a year the way we do."

He is not predicting a pennant for the Cubs in 1960, but he thinks the club definitely strengthened itself during the inter-league trading period. The Cubs obtained Frank Thomas, third baseman-outfielder; first baseman Dick Gernert and pitcher Al Schroll. They also picked up catcher Del Rice as a free agent.

Banks, whose best batting average was .313 in 1958, always is looking for a way to improve at the plate. He credits Ralph Kiner with steering him to the right size bat. He uses a feather-weight model with a toothpick handle.

"I was using a 35-ouncer," Banks recalled, "and it got a little heavy along around July. Kiner noticed and told me to try one of 31 ounces."

That was in 1954. Banks hit 19 homers. The next spring he ordered plenty of 31 ouncers and hit 44 homers.

'Ski Tips' Film At Marin Jewish Center Tonight

"Ski Tips," a full-color motion picture on skiing safely, will be shown at a meeting of the Marin Lodge No. 1327, B'nai B'rith at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Narrated by Lowell Thomas, well-known radio commentator, the film outlines basic skiing safety rules for both expert and novice and portrays the work of the National Ski Patrol System. All action in the 22 minute production takes place on the scenic slopes of Franconia Notch, one of New Hampshire's leading ski areas.

Phil Ruby, president, stated that this film is being shown in line with their general athletic program. Plans will be made for ski and snow trips and eventually it is hoped to have inter-lodge ski competition. A discussion will also be held about joining the Central California Council B'nai B'rith Bowling League.

Afterwards a business meeting will be held in order to elect new officers for 1960 and to discuss other business.

Stockton Fight Set

STOCKTON (AP)—Benny Casing, 18-year-old Stockton bantamweight, will fight Billy Peacock, 28, of Los Angeles in a 10-round match Dec. 29.

Matchmaker Billy Hunefeld announced the card for Stockton Auditorium today.

Sports Celeb Fete Set In Santa Rosa

Santa Rosa's seventh annual Soprts Celebrity Banquet for the March of Dimes has been scheduled for Feb. 7 at Santa Rosa's Flamingo Hotel.

The announcements was made today by Dan Galvin, general chairman for the event.

The affair, sold out annually, probably attracts the largest single gathering of nationally known sports figures than any other event of its kind in California.

More tickets will be available than in previous years, Galvin said. Consequently, two sections of reserved seats will be sold at $10 and $7.50. General admission ducats will go at $5 each.

Tickets are now available at Hotel Santa Rosa, Flamingo Hotel and Lings Home Furnishings. The committee suggests that tickets will make ideal Christmas gifts for the male members of the household.

Seven 49ers Named On West Squad

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Seven players from the Champion Baltimore Colts including Quarterback Johnny Unitas and an equal number from the San Francisco 49ers, were named yesterday to the Western Conference All-Star team opposing the Eastern Conference in the Pro Bowl Game here Jan. 17.

Unitas will have help from Quarterback Y. A. Tittle of the 49ers, and his favorite receiver, Colt end Ray Berry also will be on hand.

Forty-Niner tackle Leo Nomellini will be playing in his eighth pro bowl game.

The West offense squad:

Ends: Ray Berry, Colts; Del Shofner, Rams; Bill Wilson, 49ers. Tackles: Jim Parker, Colts; Forrest Gregg, Packers; Bob St. Clair, 49ers. Guards: Art Spinney, Colts; Harley Sewell, Lions; Stan Jones, Bears. Centers: Jim Ringo, Packers; Les Richter, Rams (also linebacker). Quarterbacks: John Unitas, Colts; Y. A. Tittle, 49ers. Halfbacks: Lenny Moore, Colts; Paul Hornung, Packers; Jon Arnett, Rams. Fullbacks: Rick Casares, Bears; J. D. Smith, 49ers.

The defense squad:

Colt Fans Go To Court To Get Title Tilt Ducats

BALTIMORE (AP)—A group of Baltimore Colt fans has gone to court in an effort to get seats for the National Football League championship game.

The Colts play the New York Giants for the title here Dec. 27.

The West Baltimore Sportsman's Club Inc. brought the suit yesterday against John Shipley, a tavernkeeper, and Baltimore Football Inc.

The club claims Shipley has been buying season tickets for club members for the past six years. But the suit says he refused to sell them the title game tickets made available to all season ticket holders.

Ex-Lion Aide To Coach Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The new coach of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League isn't sure what offense the team will use, but it won't be a dull one.

Garrard "Buster" Ramsey, ex-defensive coach of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, was named to head the Bills' coaching staff yesterday by owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr. of Detroit.

"I don't like dull play and I know professional football spectators don't like it," said Ramsey, who signed a three-year contract.

PIN TOURNEY OPENS TOMORROW

MVP Banks Picks S.F. Team To Beat

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Francisco Giants will be the ones to beat . . . The Cubs strengthened themselves through trades . . . next to helping the Cubs win the pennant, his goal is a better batting average . . . Chicago is a wonderful town in which to play baseball.

These were just some of the observations of Ernie Banks, the National League's most valuable player the last two years, as he completed a three-day tour of New York City in interest of the Boys' Clubs of America.

"Those Giants are going to be real tough next year," said the slim Chicago shortstop. "They look like the ones to beat. They got a good infield, good pitching. Blasingame (Don), O'Dell (Billy) and Loes (Billy) should make them a real threat. We'll all be straining to beat Los Angeles."

Asked what is the goal of a man who clouted 45 homers and knocked in 143 runs last year but was buried in the second division with the Cubs for six years, Banks replied without hesitation: "A pennant."

Ernie admitted he is sick of it, but "not of the Cubs," he said quickly.

"It's the most wonderful place in the world to play baseball," he said. "Every player would love to play in Chicago, just to play in the daytime. I know. They talk to me about it. Stan Musial said he could hit .400 if he played 100 games a year the way we do."

He is not predicting a pennant for the Cubs in 1960, but he thinks the club definitely strengthened itself during the inter-league trading period. The Cubs obtained Frank Thomas, third baseman-outfielder; first baseman Dick Gernert and pitcher Al Schroll. They also picked up catcher Del Rice as a free agent.

Banks, whose best batting average was .313 in 1958, always is looking for a way to improve at the plate. He credits Ralph Kiner with steering him to the right size bat. He uses a feather-weight model with a toothpick handle.

"I was using a 35-ouncer," Banks recalled, "and it got a little heavy along around July. Kiner noticed and told me to try one of 31 ounces."

That was in 1954. Banks hit 19 homers. The next spring he ordered plenty of 31 ouncers and hit 44 homers.

'Ski Tips' Film At Marin Jewish Center Tonight

"Ski Tips," a full-color motion picture on skiing safely, will be shown at a meeting of the Marin Lodge No. 1327, B'nai B'rith at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Narrated by Lowell Thomas, well-known radio commentator, the film outlines basic skiing safety rules for both expert and novice and portrays the work of the National Ski Patrol System. All action in the 22 minute production takes place on the scenic slopes of Franconia Notch, one of New Hampshire's leading ski areas.

Phil Ruby, president, stated that this film is being shown in line with their general athletic program. Plans will be made for ski and snow trips and eventually it is hoped to have inter-lodge ski competition. A discussion will also be held about joining the Central California Council B'nai B'rith Bowling League.

Afterwards a business meeting will be held in order to elect new officers for 1960 and to discuss other business.

Stockton Fight Set

STOCKTON (AP)—Benny Casing, 18-year-old Stockton bantamweight, will fight Billy Peacock, 28, of Los Angeles in a 10-round match Dec. 29.

Matchmaker Billy Hunefeld announced the card for Stockton Auditorium today.

Ex-Lion Aide To Coach Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The new coach of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League isn't sure what offense the team will use, but it won't be a dull one.

Garrard "Buster" Ramsey, ex-defensive coach of the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, was named to head the Bills' coaching staff yesterday by owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr. of Detroit.

"I don't like dull play and I know professional football spectators don't like it," said Ramsey, who signed a three-year contract.

Sports Celeb Fete Set In Santa Rosa

Santa Rosa's seventh annual Soprts Celebrity Banquet for the March of Dimes has been scheduled for Feb. 7 at Santa Rosa's Flamingo Hotel.

The announcements was made today by Dan Galvin, general chairman for the event.

The affair, sold out annually, probably attracts the largest single gathering of nationally known sports figures than any other event of its kind in California.

More tickets will be available than in previous years, Galvin said. Consequently, two sections of reserved seats will be sold at $10 and $7.50. General admission ducats will go at $5 each.

Tickets are now available at Hotel Santa Rosa, Flamingo Hotel and Lings Home Furnishings. The committee suggests that tickets will make ideal Christmas gifts for the male members of the household.

Colt Fans Go To Court To Get Title Tilt Ducats

BALTIMORE (AP)—A group of Baltimore Colt fans has gone to court in an effort to get seats for the National Football League championship game.

The Colts play the New York Giants for the title here Dec. 27.

The West Baltimore Sportsman's Club Inc. brought the suit yesterday against John Shipley, a tavernkeeper, and Baltimore Football Inc.

The club claims Shipley has been buying season tickets for club members for the past six years. But the suit says he refused to sell them the title game tickets made available to all season ticket holders.

Seven 49ers Named On West Squad

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Seven players from the Champion Baltimore Colts including Quarterback Johnny Unitas and an equal number from the San Francisco 49ers, were named yesterday to the Western Conference All-Star team opposing the Eastern Conference in the Pro Bowl Game here Jan. 17.

Unitas will have help from Quarterback Y. A. Tittle of the 49ers, and his favorite receiver, Colt end Ray Berry also will be on hand.

Forty-Niner tackle Leo Nomellini will be playing in his eighth pro bowl game.

The West offense squad:

Ends: Ray Berry, Colts; Del Shofner, Rams; Bill Wilson, 49ers. Tackles: Jim Parker, Colts; Forrest Gregg, Packers; Bob St. Clair, 49ers. Guards: Art Spinney, Colts; Harley Sewell, Lions; Stan Jones, Bears. Centers: Jim Ringo, Packers; Les Richter, Rams (also linebacker). Quarterbacks: John Unitas, Colts; Y. A. Tittle, 49ers. Halfbacks: Lenny Moore, Colts; Paul Hornung, Packers; Jon Arnett, Rams. Fullbacks: Rick Casares, Bears; J. D. Smith, 49ers.

The defense squad:

Ends: Gino Marchetti, Colts; Doug Atkins, Bears; Lamar Lundy, Rams. Tackles: Leo Nomellini, 49ers; Gene Lipscomb, Colts; Fred Williams, Bears. Linebackers: Joe Schmidt, Lions; Bill George, Bears; Bill Forester, Packers; Les Richter, Rams (also center). Halfbacks: Erick Barnes, Bears; Jim David, Lions; Abe Woodson, 49ers. Safeties: Dave Baker, 49ers; Yale Lary, Lions.

Hamilton '5' Vs. Unbeaten O.C. Tomorrow

A top flight basketball game will be played tomorrow night at the Redwood High Gym when the undefeated Olympic Club meets dangerous Hamilton Air Force Base at 8:45 p.m.

The "Winged O" have knocked off eight straight opponents and Coach Carl Minetti is again expecting to take his team to the National AAU tournament for the third time in four years. Minetti, nationally known coach of amateur teams, took the runner-up spot in the Denver tourney in 1957 and placed fourth last year.

This year's team is perhaps better than any he has coached since the 1955 group. In the forward line, Minetti has the pick of Charley Bogle, a 6-9 giant from Southern Oregon; Duane Asplund, the 6-8 center from California; Jack Allain, a 6-8½ post man from the Buchan Bakers and Wayne Moss, a 6-9 forward who won the NCAA high jump championship at Oregon State.

The guards are equally impressive. Back for his sixth season is veteran Phil Vukicevich, who has been Minetti's floor leader in more than 150 wins. Vukicevich has great support from Bob Blake, the converted California forward, Bill Aires, all-Conference guard from S.F. State; Dennis Fitzpatrick, the leading scorer on California's 1959 NCAA basketball championship team and Dan Sullivan, former "prep of the year" in San Francisco.

Hamilton has always proved to be a dangerous opponent against the OC. This year's team led by Lee Easley, a 6-5 center, is a fast-breaking team. The guards are Jim Wood, at 6-2, and Bill McFarland at 6-1.

Blue Birds Have White Holiday Party

Blue Birds from Larkspur, Corte Madera, Kentfield and Greenbrae held a White Christmas party on Tuesday at the Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera.

All Blue Birds from Camp Fire Girls District II had a celebration truly exemplifying the spirit of Christmas. Each group attending the party brought a food basket of canned goods to be given to a needy family in Marin County. Several groups already know of families to whom they will designate their baskets. Other baskets will be given to the County Welfare Department for distribution.

After bringing packages for those less fortunate, the Blue Birds had an hour of singing Christmas carols around the Yule tree, refreshments of cookies and chocolate milk, and ended the day with the Blue Bird Friendship Circle.

Groups joining in the festivities were under the leadership of Mesdames G. Stanleigh Arnold, Philip McCoy, M. M. Tompkins, E. B. Pile, John F. Smith, Charles O. Jones, Alan Kreuzberger and W. D. Walmsley, all of Kentfield; Robert C. Goethe and Ed Cala of Greenbrae; W. W. Nichols, Aubrey H. Williams, Leonard Kralka, William Hansen, A. B. Cardy, E. D. Crisp and Harry Black, all of Corte Madera; A. P. Clark, F. R. Mahood and Mervin Bain, of Larkspur.

Almonte Caravan Will Sing Carols Monday Evening

The Almonte Christmas caravan will roam the hills of the Almonte Improvement Club District Monday evening singing carols and bringing words of greeting to shut-ins in the area.

Trucks will leave the clubhouse at Almonte boulevard and Wisteria way at 7 p.m.

After the caroling, parents and children will return to the clubhouse for mulled wine, cocoa, hot dogs and cookies.

Entertainment will be provided by the Almonte Accordion Band, under the direction of Mrs. Jack Shapiro; the third grade class of Marin Terrace School, which will give an exhibition of square dancing; and the Ramrods Quartet, who will play "Christmas Jazz."

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Robert Alexander, and other chairmen are Mesdames Paul White, entertainment; Chris Mulvany, food; Ervin Cox, decorations; and Ralph Parlette, reservations.

Knights of Columbus Kids' Party Sunday

Mill Valley's Robert A. MacKenzie Council 3829, Knights of Columbus, will give its Christmas party for members' children Sunday at 3 p.m. in the lower hall of the Mt. Carmel school.

Children up to the age of 11 years are invited.

Santa Claus will be on hand to distribute presents and refreshments will be served.

Pi Phi Party In Mill Valley

The Pi Phi buffet held Sunday evening at the Mill Valley home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan was attended by a group of 50.

Serving on the committee with the alumnae president, Mrs. Charles R. Stuart, were Mesdames Morgan, William L. Berzman, John R. George Jr., Marion Scott, Clifford Von Kaesborg, Donald Morgan and J. G. Herrman.

The meeting on Jan. 20 will be an evening program when a movie of "European Gardens" will be shown.

Jolly Roger Party Concluded With Carols

A crisp December evening created the proper holiday atmosphere as members and their husbands of the Jolly Rogers chapter of the Children's Home Society arrived at the Cabana Club at Hamilton Field Saturday night for their annual Christmas party.

Gaily colored Christmas trees decorated each table. The trees were sold and the proceeds used to buy Christmas toys for the children at the home.

Everyone gathered early in the evening for the get-acquainted cocktail hour, followed by a steak dinner. The group then danced, and closed the evening with everyone joining in to sing favorite Christmas carols.

The Children's Home Society is a member of the United Crusade.

Tamelpa Parlor Holiday Party Planned Tuesday

Tamelpa Parlor 231, Mill Valley Unit of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, will have its annual Christmas party Tuesday evening at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse.

Secret Pals will be revealed and new ones picked for the coming year.

Clothing, groceries, turkey and all the trimmings were donated by members for a needy family in Mill Valley for Thanksgiving, and a Christmas bundle is being prepared for another family. Many repairable toys have already been collected.

Plans will be discussed for an official visit to be held at the Corte Madera Recreation Center on Jan. 19.

Latest In Hats

The hats the models in New York's garment district are wearing with the new spring clothes indicate we women are in for another spring of losing face. Emme's hats for the Maurice Rentner show were white, black, or natural straw "bee-hives." About the only part of the mannequin's face showing beneath the dome was her chin.

PARTY FETES NEWLYWEDS

Mr. and Mrs. Spero Pete Spiliotis were feted at a cocktail party recently, given by administration staff members of the Dixie School District at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lennon in Novato. Mr. and Mrs. Spiliotis were married Nov. 27 and will reside in Fairhills in San Rafael. Mrs. Spiliotis, the former Lorraine Lafranchi, has been employed by the Dixie School District for several years. Mr. Spiliotis is in the contracting business locally.

Gathered to honor the newlyweds were Messrs. and Mesdames Lennon, Dennie Willis, Joseph Goff, John King, Harry Dinubilo, Elmer F. Muhly, Mrs. June Blennerhassett, Mrs. Betty Nicol, Mrs. Barbara Cain, Mrs. Alice Allair, Miss Robin Brisco, Miss Sondra Dennis, Raymond Riley and Henry Smith.

Mistletoe

Marion School Yule Program To Be Tonight

Again this year parents of children of Marion School, Novato, will have an opportunity to watch their youngsters perform, as the annual Christmas Program is presented at the P-TA meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the school multi-purpose room.

Kindergarten youngsters will open the program with a series of songs. First graders will also sing for their parents. Some folk dances will be performed by fourth grade children. A group of sixth graders will present a skit entitled "The Night Before Christmas."

Carols will be sung by the sixth grade chorus, and the school band will perform.

Harmony Sewing Club Has Annual Dinner

Recently 39 members of the Harmony Sewing Club of Mill Valley had their annual Christmas party and turkey dinner at the home of the president, Mrs. Fred Heidinger.

Upstairs her home was decorated in a pink and white theme, and in the rumpus room traditional Christmas colors and motifs were used in the decor.

Members exchanged gifts, and Mrs. Agnes Davis of Strawberry, who is celebrating her 85th birthday, and Mrs. Peer L. Bladh of Mill Valley were honored with a surprise birthday cake and handkerchief shower.

Mrs. H. A. Coles of Mill Valley has been chosen to serve as the club president for the coming year.

A Musicale Follows Book Club's Lunch

A delightful experience was appreciated by the Monday Book Club this week when Mrs. Samuel Gardiner entertained at the annual Christmas luncheon and gift exchange.

Miss Carol Solo, twice a Marin Music Chest scholarship winner, was presented in a group of soprano solos. Her accompanist was Mrs. Marion Colburn.

Carol, a beautiful young woman of 20, pleased with six numbers, "A Brown Bird Singing," "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair," "The Spirit Flower," "Jesus Babe" and "Oh Holy Night." In each she gave a flawless performance. As an encore she sang the theme song from The Firestone Hour, "If I Couud Tell You."

Miss Solo chose a simple white frock of bouffant style and made a beautiful appearance standing by an old fashioned Christmas tree. Her accompanist added to the performance.

Earlier Mrs. Gardiner's fellow club members had been served a Christmas luncheon at small tables, each centered by a miniature Christmas tree.

Books were selected for pleasure reading with the members to meet in January at the home of Mrs. Richard Tissot when Mrs. A. L. Stewart will resume the studies of the American Indian, chosen as this year's program.

Other members are Mesdames Jordan Martinelli, A. H. Dewees, Harry Surratt, Gordon Thomson, Earl Bethards, Charles Stone, Herbert Chamberlain, P. S. Harless and Roy A. Brown.

Two of the number will spend the holidays out of town, the Tissots in Southern California, and the Stones in Phoenix, Arizona.

Santa To Arrive In Fire Engine For School Visit

When Santa Claus arrives at Deer Park School, tomorrow, he will be aboard the gleaming white Fairfax fire engine. The lower grades will be on hand at 10:30 a.m. to give him a big welcome and a few gentle hints as to what they would like to find under the tree Christmas morning. He will make a second visit around 1:45 p.m. to complete the afternoon Kindergarten Christmas party.

All classes have been provided with a tree which the children decorated. They will all exchange gifts and receive refreshments supplied by the P-TA and parents.

Serving are Mesdames Marion Vannie, Samuel Irving, Jean Lestanquet, Albert Conta, Jack Ecton, James Certy, Jack Garrison, kindergarten; Robert Petersen and Fred La Belle, first grade; Robert Steele and Jack Madigan, second grade; Darrell Williamson and Gerald Bozzio, third grade; Don Blair and Benny Lazzarino, four grade; John O'Brien, fifth grade; Arthur Whittemore and Glen Retka, sixth grade; and Myron Brown and Robert Riddle, seventh grade.

Sixth Grade Pupils Have Holiday Dance

A Christmas dance party was enjoyed recently by Sausalito's sixth grade dance pupils and their parents. The Junior Dance Leagues of Marin, directed by Mrs. Bobbie Moore, is sponsored by the Sausalito Women's Club and meets weekly at Central School.

The boys and girls were in charge of refreshments under the chairmanship of Karen Zile, assisted by Margaret Smith. There were dance games, in which the parents participated, and a grab bag.

Assisting Mrs. Moore as chaperons for the event were Capt. and Mrs. Glen Zile, and Sgt. and Mrs. Hubert Lambeth.

Marinites Will Host Visitors At Holidays

Christmas festivities of many kinds for visiting foreign students and teachers are being planned by International Hospitality Center members and their friends.

Family holiday dinners and parties are being expanded and guests rooms are being readied to include guests from Iran, Ghana, Denmark, Pakistan, Brazil and many other countries in the homes of Dr. and Mrs. James Dawson, San Rafael; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Niggeman, San Anselmo; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon, Mill Valley; Dr. and Mrs. Frank Rossman, Sausalito; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Daggett, Belvedere; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Milam, Kentfield; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Watkin, Kentfield; Dr. and Mrs. M. Judon Mackby, Kentfield, and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Ross.

Volunteer hosts and hostesses who will drive on "personalized" sightseeing tours are Mr. H. O. Milam, Mrs. William Ballard, Mrs. William Joost, Mrs. W. P. Ramey and Mrs. John Berryman. In many cases, the 49 mile drive and the Muir Woods tour will end in the driver's apartment or home, and international goodwill will be toasted with a cup of tea or a cocktail.

Visitors who have special interests, such as the 35 foreign agricultural students who will be here for two weeks and who have been referred to the Center by the U.S. Foreign Agricultural Service, will be treated to extensive specialized programming arranged by the Center and the University of California College of Agriculture. Tours will include Stanford University, the Napa Valley, the Big Trees, the Bay Area, and interesting private ranches and farms. Laurence W. Taylor, Assistant to the Director of the College of Agriculture, has planned field trips and seminars, some of which will be held in the Center lounge.

A group of 50 teachers who have been referred by the U.S. Office of Education in Washington will also participate in the Christmas activities.

Letters arrive daily at the Center office from foreign exchange students in Western colleges in the states of New Mexico, Wyoming, Montanta, Oregon, Washington, Colorado, Utah, Texas and California, who would like overnight hospitality, a Christmas welcome, and new friends on their first visit to San Francisco. Further information about International Hospitality Center membership and activities may be obtained by phoning the office.

Glen Plaid

It looks like a glen plaid spring coming up. The plaid is shown in all prices, fabrics and styles. There are separates, dresses, costumes, coats and suits. The glens appear in unusual shades — plus beige, brown, navy, black and grey.

Catherine Abbott Moretti Bride Of Joseph C. Hickingbotham III

In a six o'clock candlelight service yesterday at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael, Catherine Abbott Moretti became the bride of Joseph Cameron Hickingbotham III.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ramon Moretti of San Rafael, and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham of San Rafael.

The Rev. Harold E. Hallett officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of white peau de soie fashioned with a becoming rolled portrait neckline, long sleeves and basque bodice. Hand run Alencon lace applique bordered the neckline. The full bell-shaped skirt ended in a chapel length train. Her dainty coronet of seed pearls was attached to a fingertip length silk illusion veil. She carried white elf roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. William Stuart Fagan, the bride's sister of Novato, was matron of honor and another sister, Anne Moretti, was maid of honor. Heidi Hickingbotham, the bridegroom's sister, was bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical gowns of American Beauty satin styled with scoop necklines, short sleeves, and full cocktail length skirts. Their matching headdresses were twisted coronets of American beauty satin. They carried pink roses.

Shirley and Anne Fagan as flower girls, wore delicate pink organdy dresses with val-lace edging the Peter Pan collars and short sleeves. They carried pink rosebud nosegays.

Schuyler Spence of Piedmont was best man and Gerald Swamton of San Francisco, William Callaher of Coronado, and Dennis Murphy of Palm Springs, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Moretti chose a gown of Jade green silk chiffon with a draped V neckline and pleated skirt.

The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of navy satin with an off white d'sprit hat.

A reception at the Meadow Club followed the ceremony. Arrangements were in a Christmas motif. Diana Vest was in charge of the guest book.

For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a navy blue ensemble with silver fox fur.

The bride attended Dominican Convent and was graduated from Castilleja. She also studied at Willamette University in Oregon. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Henry Dixon of Tracy are her grandparents.

The bridegroom attended San Rafael Military Academy and was graduated from Menlo School for Boys. He is the grandson of Mrs. R. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont and the late Mr. Dollar and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham.

The newlyweds will make their home in Glendale, Ore., where the bridegroom is with the Robert Dollar Co.

Holidaying With Ease In Marin Displayed In Luncheon Fashions

"Make Mine a Country Christmas,
Red and Green and Gay—
Merry and Bright from Morn
'til Night—
An old fashioned holiday."

So said the enthusiastic Ross Hospital Volunteers on Tuesday as they promenaded at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon in delightful holiday fashions from a Kentfield store guaranteed to turn the most tired Christmasite into a glamorous Yuletide sprite!

The attractive Ross Hospital Volunnteers, familiarly called Rainbow Ladies, are most noted for their cheery smiles, sunny dispositions and capable volunteer service which has helped to earn for Ross Hospital the name of "Hospitality Hospital."

Sharing Christmas honors with them on Tuesday were the Alpha Omicron Pi Aluumnae Chapter of Marin, who have adopted the Endowed Bed Fund at Ross Hospital as their county philanthropy. The Endowed Bed Fund, brainchild of the Ross Hospital Volunteers, offers hospital care to patients of Marin County physicians when hospitalization would mean a financial hardship on their families.

Christmas dollars from Tuesday's special holiday surprises and gaily wrapped "What's in it" gift packages will be added to the Endowed Bed Fund as a Christmas present from the Ross Hospital Volunteers and the Alpha O'c.

Tuesday's fashionable audience was prepared for a happier, less hectic holiday the nicest way; by viewing 24 holiday fashions to be on friendly terms in any Christmas wardrobe. Holidaying with ease from Marin to Palm Springs, Carmel or Hawaii; sitting by the fire, hostessing at home or caroling at the corner were distinctive tapesr teamed with handsome shirts, silk shirtmakers, versatile knits, printed silks, linens and shantungs suggesting a Christmas cruise to warmer climates.

Happy Halos of holiday hair were created by a Corte Madera salon to show eight charming Christmas styles to complement the Yuletide fashions.

Brass candlesticks with white candles, snowy greens and white trees, Christmas music and a festive smorgasbord added to the holiday mood.

"Make Mine a Country Christmas"

"Time to Trim the Tree, brightening the scene, Mrs. David Cederquist in slim tapers of persimmon velveteen, accented with a hand-blocked paisley stripe cotton shirt and a beige silk cummerbund to cinch a tiny waist.

"Take a Christmas Cruise," Mrs. Helen Spears, agreeing it would be fun in a lovely pale blue linen sun dress with a jacket of indigo spiced with sharp white trim.

"Arrival by Jet: Christmas Eve," the answer to the travel problem, Mrs. George Herrero suited in British import of primrose wool; the skirt slim; the jacket boxy and buttoned to a polite collar, plus a Roger Van S. bag and handsome silk shirt in stripes of gold, whipped cream and taffy.

"Over the River and Through the Wood," perfect for a Christmas drive, Rhoda Pack's whipped cream leather; a slim, trim skirt and matching jacket brightened with a red scarf at the neckline of Mrs. Robert Rodden.

"Hang the Holly Wreath, and look pretty doing it, Mrs. Norris Seastrom sporting red wool jersey tapers, a bulky white cardigan with brass buttons and a bright Christmas scarf.

"Come for Christmas Cheer," Mrs. John Hickerson a beauteous Christmas hostess, blacked in an Italian knit sheath with scooped neck and long sleeves; a double Christmas rose at the waistline.

"Sing Carols by the Fire," Mrs. William Healy in a gem of a holiday classic, silk shantung Christmas shirtmaker in shocking turquoise with jeweled buttons from tip to top.

"Christmas Dinner at Five," more dazzling than the feast, Mrs. Gordon Phillips sheathed in champagne Italian silk chaperoned by a luxurious cashmere with a cascade of matching fox forming a detachable shawl collar.

"Fashion Focus" wished its many friends the happiest of holidays, remindng them that the popular series resumes on Jan. 12, when The Marin Volunteers say "Start the New Year Right."

MRS. ROBERT ELDER seemed really impressed when she learned that Ralph D. Walters, valedictorian of last Saturday's (December 15th) graduating class at Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., was working toward his doctorate degree. Even Raven, Walter's newly acquired Labrador retriever guide, looked amazed at the news. Walters, who lives at 5609 College Avenue in Oakland, was an airline worker before he lost his sight. Mrs. Elder, a member of the Marin Hi-Twelvettes, was hostess at Saturday's ceremonies which, by the way, were held indoors for the first time in 17 years.

'Night Before Christmas' Given At Garden Group Party

Seventy-four members and guests of the Garden Group of the Novato Community Club gathered in the club ball room for the group's recent Christmas dinner and party.

Egg nog was passed prior to the dinner.

Choir boys and girls were made by Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Royal Duplantis, Mrs. Harry Eide, Mrs. James Ruhlman, Mrs. Robert Listman, Mrs. Earl Larson, Mrs. Ben Collier, and Mrs. W. L. VonTagen. The heavenly trio at the head table was made by Mrs. Fred Anderson. The Junior Gardeners, under the direction of Mrs. Duplantis, their leader, made the favors

Throughout the dinner taped recordings were played by Sebastian Tallitsch. These were taped especially for the occasion by Don Tallitsch.

The program opened with Mrs. Ben Collier reading "The Night Before Christmas" while club members enacted the parts in pantomime: Papa, Mrs. Sebastian Tallitsch; Mama, Mrs. Fred Anderson; creature, Mrs. James Ruhlman; children, Mrs. Royal Duplanti, Mrs. Robert Dean; Mrs. Harry Eide and Santa Claus, Mrs. Robert Listman.

Santa Claus presented gifts to all after which Mrs. Tallitsch introduced the three chipmunks: Mrs. Listman, Mrs. Duplantis, and Mrs. Ruhlman and their leader, Mrs. Anderson. These women quickly changed costumes and for the next number became the Bugeta Gals who sang original words to the familiar tune of "Deck the Halls." This parody was written by the singers.

Mrs. Frank Scott was pianist for the singing of Christmas carols by the audience.

Mrs. Ruhlman, club president, was toastmistress at the dinner; Mrs. Fred Anderson was chairman of decorations and program, and Mrs. Royal Duplantis, dinner.

Emerson Twins Are Honored At Surprise Birthday Party

A real surprise was the 17th birthday party Friday night of Vickie and Bill Emerson, twin son and daughter of the Lyman Emersons of Mill Valley. The twins are both seniors at Tamalpais High School.

The Emersons took them with their seven-year-old sister, Cindy, to dinner at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito, and when they returned, a group of 16 friends was waiting to surprise them.

Vickie is vice president of the student body, and Bill is business manager of the yearbook, president of the Lettermen's Club, and a member of the varsity swimming team.

Highlight of refreshments were two huge birthday cakes, one decorated with a swimmer for Bill, and the other with a Girl Scout for Vickie, who has been prominent in Girl Scout activities since she was a Brownie.

She expects to learn in January whether she is a successful candidate for the house party given in March at the Chalet International House in Switzerland. This is an international friendship project sponsored by the International Girl Scout Organization.

Mrs. Emerson is in her second two-year term as president of the Marin Girl Scout Council.

At the birthday party the evening was spent in dancing and playing games. Gulzarin Aga, the exchange student from Pakistan, also entertained by performing some of her national dances.

Other guests helping the twins celebrate their birthday were the Misses Georgine Perry, secretary of the student body, Winnie Watkins, a yell leader, Alexandra Allen, Norrie Allen, Jennifer Herman, Pamela Tresnon, Virginia Cunningham and Kathy George.

Boys present were Kirk Laurie, a yell leader, David Cavagnaro, editor of the yearbook, Larry Bibbens, student information commissioner, and Jim Barnes, Brian Muth, Albert Maisac and Bob Mosher.

Boots And Booties Christmas Dance Tomorrow Night

A graduation Christmas party complete with presents, diplomas, and refreshments will be celebrated tomorrow night at 9 o'clock in the Star Hall, San Anselmo, by the Buzzin' Boots and their beginners class, the Buddin' Booties.

Following the evening of dancing to Bill Owen's calling, refreshments of Christmas cake, snowball ice cream and coffee will be served by Stimmie and Tom Bianco and Brenna and Bob Cooper, president.

Claire and Bob McDermitt will preside at the Christmas tree.

The beginners receiving diplomas of graduation are Margaret and Fred Hicks, Frank King, Marvene and Harrison Krueger, Boots and B. G. Pool, Elsie and Karl Reavell, Georgia and Clyde Ross, Wanda Shaffer, Mickey and Bill Shirley, Peggy and Bill Stewart, Marge and Frank Van Courvenberghe, Trixie and Ed Williams, Bev and Art Tisdale, Arthur and Margery Sell, and Elaine and Jay Pearce.

Motion Picture Council Views Film, 'Career'

The Marin Motion Picture Council held its recent December meeing under the leadership of new president Mrs. Paul A. Hammer at the Tamalpais Theatre in San Anselmo.

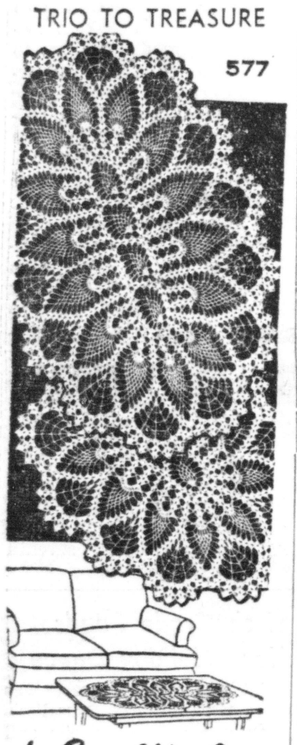

After a short business meeting, the members were treated to a presentation of the movie, "Career."

Mrs. Hammer urged members to watch the Independent-Journal movie advertisements for the Marin Motion Picture Council's endorsement of films. Recently "Gigi" was advertised with the seal of approval.

The purpose of the Council is to promote better family motion pictures, to consider the welfare of children and young people in selecting and approving films for their entertainment, and to educate parents to their own responsibilities in selecting for their children suitable movies, and radio and television programs. Individual memberships are reasonable, and people from all over the county are welcome to join.

Four of the meetings are held at the Tamalpais Treatre at which time a preview or current movie is viewed. Very informative meetings, usually with a guest speaker, are held in the intervening months. All meetings are held during the day on the second Tuesday of the month.

Holidaying With Ease In Marin Displayed In Luncheon Fashions

"Make Mine a Country Christmas,
Red and Green and Gay—
Merry and Bright from Morn
'til Night—
An old fashioned holiday."

So said the enthusiastic Ross Hospital Volunteers on Tuesday as they promenaded at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon in delightful holiday fashions from a Kentfield store guaranteed to turn the most tired Christmasite into a glamorous Yuletide sprite!

The attractive Ross Hospital Volunnteers, familiarly called Rainbow Ladies, are most noted for their cheery smiles, sunny dispositions and capable volunteer service which has helped to earn for Ross Hospital the name of "Hospitality Hospital."

Sharing Christmas honors with them on Tuesday were the Alpha Omicron Pi Aluumnae Chapter of Marin, who have adopted the Endowed Bed Fund at Ross Hospital as their county philanthropy. The Endowed Bed Fund, brainchild of the Ross Hospital Volunteers, offers hospital care to patients of Marin County physicians when hospitalization would mean a financial hardship on their families.

Christmas dollars from Tuesday's special holiday surprises and gaily wrapped "What's in it" gift packages will be added to the Endowed Bed Fund as a Christmas present from the Ross Hospital Volunteers and the Alpha O'c.

Tuesday's fashionable audience was prepared for a happier, less hectic holiday the nicest way; by viewing 24 holiday fashions to be on friendly terms in any Christmas wardrobe. 158 Attend 'Snow Ball' Of ONIPAA

Mill Valley's ONIPAA Club transformed the Outdoor Art Clubhouse into a ski lodge for its "Snow Ball" Saturday night. The affair was attended by 158 members and guests.

Greeting everyone in the foyer was a model Santa Claus on skis coming down a ski slide. In the main room decor was carried out with snow and green bows, and tables were were set with festive cloths.

All ladies were presented with Christmas corsages.

Planned by general chairman Reginald De Maeyer, the ball opened with cocktails at 8 preceding the 8:30 p.m. dinner, and the evening was spent dancing to orchestra music.

The Fred Heidingers were in charge of the guestbook.

Open Door Club Elects New Officers

The Open Door Club enjoyed its annual Christmas dinner on Friday, in Trevitt Hall. Mrs. Gilbert Halvorson was in charge of the program.

"The Child Christ," a pianologue, giving a series of seldomtold stories in the life of Jesus from His birth to His entering the temple in Jerusalem, was given by Mrs. Halvorson, reader, with Mrs. Charles Douglas at the piano. Trios were sung by Philip Dickinson, Jack Dale and Charles Douglas. Mrs. Philip Dickinson was soloist and also led the club in the singing of Christmas carols.

Tables were decorated in red berries, pine and candles by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Titus and the Christmas birthday cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. N. S. Halsey.

During the business meeting, the final report of the "Up in Grandma's Attic" sale was given showing $414.90.

Election of officers resulted in: Robert F. Merritt, president; Mrs. Robert F. Merritt, vice president; Mrs. Sebastian Tallitsch, secretary; Mrs. Susan L. Waidely, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Schmidt, treasurer; and Lawrence Schmidt, keeper of the door.

As a prelude to the February meeting which will be called "Ed McDermed Night," honoring the club's oldest member who will be 91 on Feb. 24, Mr. McDermed gave four short selections, each with an inspiration for the new year.

Tamakwa Club Has Party In Fairfax

Nineteen members of Tamakwa Sewing Club gathered recently for the annual Christmas luncheon and gift exchange, at the home of Mrs. Della Cline, in Fairfax.

Co-hostess with Mrs. Cline was Mrs. William Meagor. The tables were arranged with holly, "Santa" and reindeer. A huge red bell swung above the tables. At each place was a tiny red card, bearing Christmas wishes.

A brief business period followed the luncheon, at which Mrs. Meagor presided. A special gift, in the form of a check, was presented to Mrs. Meagor for her efforts throughout the year. She then presented it to the Club to be sent to the Blood Bank.

The Jan. 7 meeting of the Club will be held in Novato, at the home of Mrs. Veryl Sanford and election of officers for 1960 will take place.

Tunic Skirts

London shops will be full of slim middy tunic skirts in heavy linen-type fabrics next spring. Designers of the London Fashion Group favored the tunic style in recent showings. Shirtwaist dresses, either full or slim, and draped silk prints also were shown. Many of the clothes will turn up in American shops, too.

158 Attend 'Snow Ball' Of ONIPAA

Mill Valley's ONIPAA Club transformed the Outdoor Art Clubhouse into a ski lodge for its "Snow Ball" Saturday night. The affair was attended by 158 members and guests.

Greeting everyone in the foyer was a model Santa Claus on skis coming down a ski slide. In the main room decor was carried out with snow and green bows, and tables were were set with festive cloths.

All ladies were presented with Christmas corsages.

Planned by general chairman Reginald De Maeyer, the ball opened with cocktails at 8 preceding the 8:30 p.m. dinner, and the evening was spent dancing to orchestra music.

The Fred Heidingers were in charge of the guestbook.

Open Door Club Elects New Officers

The Open Door Club enjoyed its annual Christmas dinner on Friday, in Trevitt Hall. Mrs. Gilbert Halvorson was in charge of the program.

"The Child Christ," a pianologue, giving a series of seldom-told stories in the life of Jesus from His birth to His entering the temple in Jerusalem, was given by Mrs. Halvorson, reader, with Mrs. Charles Douglas at the piano. Trios were sung by Philip Dickinson, Jack Dale and Charles Douglas. Mrs. Philip Dickinson was soloist and also led the club in the singing of Christmas carols.

Tables were decorated in red berries, pine and candles by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Titus and the Christmas birthday cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. N. S. Halsey.

During the business meeting, the final report of the "Up in Grandma's Attic" sale was given showing $414.90.

Election of officers resulted in: Robert F. Merritt, president; Mrs. Robert F. Merritt, vice president; Mrs. Sebastian Tallitsch, secretary; Mrs. Susan L. Waidely, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Schmidt, treasurer; and Lawrence Schmidt, keeper of the door.

As a prelude to the February meeting which will be called "Ed McDermed Night," honoring the club's oldest member who will be 91 on Feb. 24, Mr. McDermed gave four short selections, each with an inspiration for the new year.

Tamakwa Club Has Party In Fairfax

Nineteen members of Tamakwa Sewing Club gathered recently for the annual Christmas luncheon and gift exchange, at the home of Mrs. Della Cline, in Fairfax.

Co-hostess with Mrs. Cline was Mrs. William Meagor. The tables were arranged with holly, "Santa" and reindeer. A huge red bell swung above the tables. At each place was a tiny red card, bearing Christmas wishes.

A brief business period followed the luncheon, at which Mrs. Meagor presided. A special gift, in the form of a check, was presented to Mrs. Meagor for her efforts throughout the year. She then presented it to the Club to be sent to the Blood Bank.

The Jan. 7 meeting of the Club will be held in Novato, at the home of Mrs. Veryl Sanford and election of officers for 1960 will take place.

Tunic Skirts

London shops will be full of slim middy tunic skirts in heavy linen-type fabrics next spring. Designers of the London Fashion Group favored the tunic style in recent showings. Shirtwaist dresses, either full or slim, and draped silk prints also were shown. Many of the clothes will turn up in American shops, too.

CENTENNIAL EVENT

Pony Express To Run Again; Schedule Told

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

At 9 p. m. next July 19, a rider with a saddlebag containing 20 pounds of mail will swing his leg across a horse in St. Joseph, Mo., and take off westward on the first leg of a re-run of America's most romantic mail route.

Two hours later—at 9 p. m. Pacific time — another rider will do the same in Sacramento, heading east.

Exactly nine days later—at 9 p. m. on July 28, if all has been on schedule, the westbound mail will reach Sacramento and that going east will arrive at St. Joseph.

En route, the mail each way will have traveled 1,919 miles, being carried by some 100 riders on nearly 300 horses.

This schedule for the run which will duplicate that of the Pony Express 100 years ago was announced today by Waddell F. Smith of San Rafael, president of the National Pony Express Centennial Assn. It has been approved by state chairmen of the centennial throughout the route, Smith said, and is to be confirmed by the association's board of directors at a meeting next month in Reno.

The nine-day schedule is one day faster than that which the firm of Russell, Majors and Waddell adopted for the Pony Express 100 years ago. At that, the ponies clipped 13 days off the time of the Overland Mail from the Missouri River to California.

The ponies of 1960 will cross one mile of Missouri, 130 miles of Kansas, 450 miles of Nebraska, 40 miles of Colorado, 505 miles of Wyoming, 275 miles of Utah, 410 miles of Nevada and 108 miles of California.

From the terminus of the route at Sacramento, the saddlebag of mail will be carried by river boat to San Francisco, the same as was done during Pony Express days, Smith said.

There'll be celebrations, of course, along the route. Celebration sites to be designated by the National Pony Express Centennial Assn. in accordance with Smith's schedule are at St. Joseph, Mo.; Cottonwood and Marysville, Kan.; Scott's Bluff, North Platte and Fort Kearney, Neb.; Julesburg, Colo.; Fort Bridger, South Pass, Fort Casper and Fort Laramie, Wyo.; Salt Lake City Utah; Stateline, Genoa, Carson City and Fort Churchill, Nev., and Placerville and Sacramento, Calif.

Eastbound and westbound ponies, which under the original Pony Express schedule were supposed to meet at Salt Lake City, will meet at South Pass, Wyo., on the Continental Divide, under the nine-day schedule for the re-run.

There'll be no scalp-hunting Indians along the route as the 1960 Pony Express rides hell-for-leather with the mail. But the Indians held little terror, anyhow, for the fast-running ponies of 1860-61.

In the 18 months of its existence, the Pony Express of Russell, Majors and Waddell lost only one rider—and one saddlebag of mail — to the redskins. During that time 308 runs were made, covering a total distance of 616,000 miles and carrying 34,753 letters.

The letter rate was $5 per pound when the Pony Express started on April 3, 1860. It was reduced to $2 the next year, and finally to $1 in the dying months of the pony mail.

Even at that, the venture lost some $100,000 for its proprietors, William H. Russell, Alexander Majors and William Bradford Waddell (great-grandfather of the Pony Express Centennial president).

When the ponies run next July, they'll carry the mail at four cents an ounce—the standard domestic rate. There'll be little chance for a letter to be carried by pony, however, unless arranged far in advance—for the centennial "covers" will be at great demand among collectors.

The Post Office Department has already authorized a special four-cent stamp in honor of the occasion, and is considering also issuing a special four-cent envelope.

Business Started In Chicken Coop Now's A $2 Million Enterprise

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some men start their own business on a shoestring. Some start with an oak-paneled office and pretty secretary.

Some don't start at all if the going looks tough. But two decades ago George A. Starbird had such an ache to be his own boss that—broke but brave—he started in an abandoned chicken coop. He proceeded to run the coop into a two-million-dollar business.

"I figure my big break came back there in 1938 when I decided to be my own boss," he said. "I was working in Los Angeles for $35 a week, my wife was expecting a child, and we were living in a little house in the backyard of another house.

"One day I found myself thinking, 'You're going to start your own business. You're broke now—things can't get any worse.'

"There was a little chicken coop in the yard, an 8-by-10-foot shack, and I cleaned it out and moved in a drill press that I had and a lathe that I borrowed $600 to buy. I started making radio parts."

The firm that grew out of the coop is the Meletron Corp. of Hollywood. Starbird, 54, is its president. It is the only company in the United States that makes a specialty of pressure actuated switches, gadgets that act as a safety device on such diverse things as atomic submarines, escalators, airplanes, missiles, oil pipelines, and surgical irrigation machines.

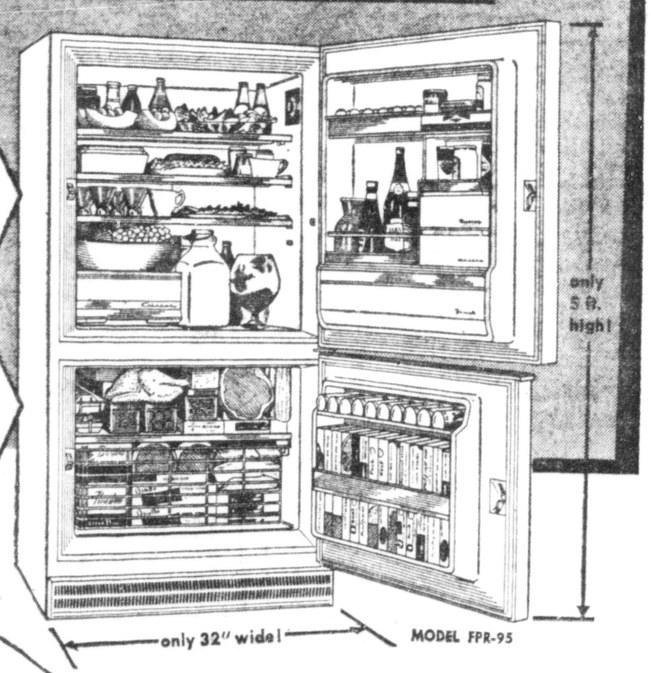

Starbird thought up the name Meletron himself when he found people didn't seem to remember the firm name he originally had chosen, Electro-Mechanical Products. He picked some syllables out of the old name and shaped them into the new.

A pressure actuated switch, probably the most common mechanical safety device in use, is sensitive to any liquid or gas pressure change. It can be set, for instance, to keep rocket fuels at the right pressure, airplane cabins properly pressurized, or to make a parachute pop out of a falling body automatically at a specified altitude.

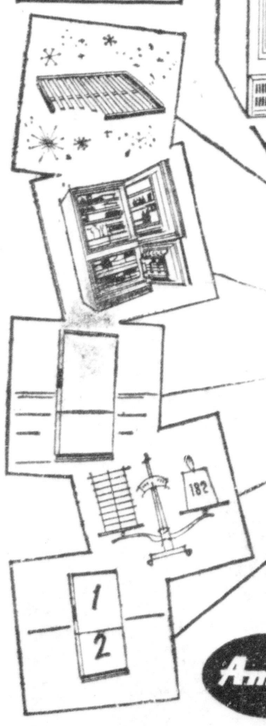

Starbird's pressure switch business is worldwide. He was interviewed here while on an Eastern business swing.

Pony Express To Run Again; Schedule Told

KATHY MEETS CHRISTMAS CLOWN

Tests Show Crankcase Culprit In Auto Smog

DETROIT (UPI)—A lot of Los Angeles civic leaders may be concentrating too much on one end of the car in attempts to eliminate the cause of smog.

Until recently the car's exhaust system was considered the only major source of smog-causing fumes.

But recent developments show that the exhaust system may be responsible for as little as one-third of the emissions from some cars.

The auto industry wasn't just trying to pacify Los Angeles officials with a toy instead of a weapon recently when it announced a device was available to control fumes from a car's crankcase.

That might have been the case a year ago, but in the meantime the industry developed a new means of measuring the contamination from the crankcase of a car.

The results of more accurate measurements surprised even the auto industry engineers who developed the new measuring device.

It showed crankcase emissions account for anywhere from less than 20 to more than 65 per cent of the total emissions from a car, depending on the age and condition of the car and the conditions under which it is driven.

Unlike emissions from the exhaust system, which become higher as the car grows older, fumes from the crankcase of a new car are often greater than those from a car which has been driven through the break-in period.

Engineers explain that the pistons of a new car may not fit perfectly in the car's cylinders. This allows fumes to seep past the piston on the compression stroke of the engine and flow into the crankcase. The fumes escape into the atmosphere through a vent in the crankcase which is necessary to prevent too much back pressure from building up.

After the car has been broken in the pistons wear to a point where they conform with the contours of the cylinder, or, in engineering terms, they become "seated." The fumes are then retained better in the cylinder until most of them have been burned or ejected through the exhaust system.

When the car has been driven three to six years, piston wear may become excessive and fumes again seep past the piston into the crankcase, making crankcase fumes a severe problem again.

Engineers long have been aware of fumes in the crankcase and even developed a device to return unburned "blow-by" to the cylinder for complete burning. This was done to avoid oil contamination in the crankcase, however, not to eliminate air contamination.

Once the industry found how serious the fumes from the crankcase were, however, it was a simple matter to develop more devices to feed them back into the cylinder. These are the devices the industry recently announced it would have ready for installation on 1961 model cars as smog control items.

In many areas this simple device, which retails for anywhere from $2 to $10, will eliminate enough of the fumes from a car to solve the area's air pollution problems, an Automobile Manufacturers Assn. spokesman said.

Abraham Lincoln delivered his Gettysburg Address on Nov. 19, 1863, more than four months after the battle.

Mosquito's Really Splendid Creature (Drat The Beast!)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some day if you take a swipe at a mosquito and miss, don't let it shake you.

You were mis-matched. You were fighting out of your class.

Take comfort, the Smithsonian Institution said yesterday, in the fact that you were dealing with a superbly equipped 'flying beast.'"

It was the second Smithsonian report in recent weeks on mosquito research by Dr. R. E. Snodgrass, a research associate of the institution.

In the first report, the Smithsonian said the mosquito is a "really elegant" flying machine. Yesterday it elaborated.

"Wing muscles of the pestiferous, blood-drinking females of some species of mosquito comprise as much as 35 per cent of the total body weight."

Wings of these females may vibrate more than 300 times a second, pushing the owner at a speed of 100 inches a second.

But the males, "inferior creatures in almost every other respect," are even better fliers. Their wing vibration hits a rate as high as 587 a second.

In addition to having faster reflexes, mosquitos can do a lot of things a human swatter can't. Example: They can walk up and down window panes.

Pennsylvania State University's summer school has grown from 146 students to more than 7,000 in 50 years.

KATHY MEETS CHRISTMAS CLOWN

Stars in her eyes, Kathy Klein pauses before a towering clown as she wanders through one of Santa's warehouses while contemplating what she will ask the good St. Nick to leave under her Christmas tree. Tests Show Crankcase Culprit In Auto Smog

DETROIT (UPI)—A lot of Los Angeles civic leaders may be concentrating too much on one end of the car in attempts to eliminate the cause of smog.

Until recently the car's exhaust system was considered the only major source of smog-causing fumes.

But recent developments show that the exhaust system may be responsible for as little as one-third of the emissions from some cars.

The auto industry wasn't just trying to pacify Los Angeles officials with a toy instead of a weapon recently when it announced a device was available to control fumes from a car's crankcase.

That might have been the case a year ago, but in the meantime the industry developed a new means of measuring the contamination from the crankcase of a car.

The results of more accurate measurements surprised even the auto industry engineers who developed the new measuring device.

It showed crankcase emissions account for anywhere from less than 20 to more than 65 per cent of the total emissions from a car, depending on the age and condition of the car and the conditions under which it is driven.

Unlike emissions from the exhaust system, which become higher as the car grows older, fumes from the crankcase of a new car are often greater than those from a car which has been driven through the break-in period.

Engineers explain that the pistons of a new car may not fit perfectly in the car's cylinders. This allows fumes to seep past the piston on the compression stroke of the engine and flow into the crankcase. The fumes escape into the atmosphere through a vent in the crankcase which is necessary to prevent too much back pressure from building up.

After the car has been broken in the pistons wear to a point where they conform with the contours of the cylinder, or, in engineering terms, they become "seated." The fumes are then retained better in the cylinder until most of them have been burned or ejected through the exhaust system.

When the car has been driven three to six years, piston wear may become excessive and fumes again seep past the piston into the crankcase, making crankcase fumes a severe problem again.

Engineers long have been aware of fumes in the crankcase and even developed a device to return unburned "blow-by" to the cylinder for complete burning. This was done to avoid oil contamination in the crankcase, however, not to eliminate air contamination.

Once the industry found how serious the fumes from the crankcase were, however, it was a simple matter to develop more devices to feed them back into the cylinder. These are the devices the industry recently announced it would have ready for installation on 1961 model cars as smog control items.

In many areas this simple device, which retails for anywhere from $2 to $10, will eliminate enough of the fumes from a car to solve the area's air pollution problems, an Automobile Manufacturers Assn. spokesman said.

HAPPY LANDING — This dummy, like Humpty Dumpty, had a great fall. But unlike the storybook character, his noggin remained in one piece—thanks to a new type protective helmet developed for the Air Force and Navy by H. Koch and Sons, Inc., of Corte Madera.

Marin Firm Develops New Helmet For Pilots

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

What's good for an anthropometric dummy should be good for a man.

The Air Force is discovering this in tests of a new type of pilot's protective helmet developed by H. Koch and Sons, Inc., of Corte Madera.

The molded plastic helmet shell is reinforced with Fiberglas. A second new type, for use by Navy pilots, also has been developed by Koch's aeronautical hardware division.

The Air Force version, mounted on a dummy, was successfully tested against severe wind blast conditions recently at Hurricane Mesa, Utah. Placed on a sled, the dummy was ejected when the sled reached a speed of 720 miles per hour.

It was catapulted over a 1,500-ft. cliff, separating from the ejection seat one second after leaving the rocket sled.

Sierra Engineering Co., which conducted the test, reported that "almost immediately . . . the dummy started excessive tumbling and flailing."

Five second later, it was on its way to a normal parachute landing on the side of the steep-walled canyon. The dummy and 'chute were found about halfway between the top of the mesa and the valley floor.

Inspection of the helmet showed it had sustained no damage, the test report declared.

Success of the experiment is credited by Koch officials to the company's new "multi-compress" process for molding complex Fiberglas shapes.

"It provides a stronger, lighter item than those molded by matched metal die, rubber 'plug' bag molding or vacuum molding processes," said Norris H. Murray, manager of the aeronautical hardware division.

"Also, production is faster than by these other processes, only one of which can be used successfully to mold complex shapes on a high production basis."

Murray said multi-compress also results in the production of parts having a constant thickness throughout. It may involve the use of either glass cloth or glass mat, or combinations of both.

In conjunction with the newly developed process, the Koch firm also has evolved a technique of eliminating "flash" marks when shaping items on a split mold, Murray reported. He said this further speeds production and enhances the appearance of the molded item.

"In addition to the various military applications of multi-compress," he said, "H. Koch and Sons plans to utilize the process in manufacturing commercial headgear, such as police and racing helmets, and in molding many other consumer items."

Balloon Tossed From Hotel Goes 150 Miles

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Ed Beoshanz—That toy balloon you let fly two weeks ago from atop a Chicago hotel has been found by a Michigan farmer across Lake Michigan and 150 miles away.

Farmer William Bolton of East Leroy wanted you to know because the shredded, red balloon he found in his corn field yesterday had this note attached: "California was here. Write Ed Boeshanz, Rt. 1, Box 237, Davis, Calif."

Investigation revealed the helium-filled balloon was released by the 20-year-old Beoshanz from atop the Conrad Hilton Hotel at Chicago Dec. 3, while he was attending the national 4-H congress.

Beoshanz plucked the balloon from amid decorations at a 4-H banquet and turned it loose "just to see where it would go and if anybody would write."

Beoshanz is a student at Sacramento City College and was a tractor award winner at the 4-H congress.

HE KNOWS NOW THAT HIS CAR IS CAT'S MEOW

FRESNO (AP)—If he never knew it before, City Clerk Elwood D. Roughton of Fresno is now aware his beloved Cadillac is the cat's meow.

En route home from his office, Roughton heard noises. He stopped once to investigate, but all was quiet.

At home the noise started again and became raucous. Roughton lifted the hood.

There was a multi-colored alley cat, in all its sound and fury.

Mrs. Roughton tried to placate him with food. But all the cat wanted was distance from the car. And he got it.

WORD TO WISE: DON'T PARK IN SHERIFF'S LOT

Take heed, all you Christmas shoppers and county employees: don't try to park in the courthouse's east side parking lot. The sheriff is going to start issuing parking citations there.

But the county board of supervisors isn't going to send out a warning for him. He's got to do it himself.

The county administrator presented a request from the sheriff's office that the board notify all departments of the county about the crackdown.

"That's the sheriff's job," growled chairman Walter R. Castro. "Let him send out the notices."

Army Paratrooper

Army 2nd Lt. Richard L. Gaffney, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Gaffney, 865 Pine lane, San Rafael, recently completed the officer airborne course at the Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga. He received his paratrooper wings after completing four weeks of intensive ground and aerial training.

The Federal Park Service says that only 240 miles of the 3,700-mile-long Atlantic and Gulf coastlines are publicly owned.

Consumer Counsel Hits Meat Weight Proposal

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A plan to allow food processors more leeway in stating the weights on certain frozen food and meat packages came under blistering attack yesterday from the state's new office of consumer counsel.

It's like asking consumers "to play roulette at the frozen food bin and the meat counter," declared Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson of Mill Valley at a Department of Agriculture hearing. It was her first public testimony

The proposal under consideration by the department would allow a weight deficiency of one ounce for every two pounds or fraction thereof in 32 varieties of frozen foods.

On meat products, the deficiency could be no greater than one-half ounce for each two pounds or fraction thereof.

The packages could weigh over the stated amount, also. All the packages in a lot would be expected to average out at the stated weight.

Some processors have contended shrinkage in unavoidable from the time the product is packaged to the time a consumer buys it in a store.

But Mrs. Nelson used "legalized short-weighing" and "hidden price increases" to describe the proposal.

She noted that in the case of frozen foods, most packages are not in two-pound sizes, but in eight, nine or 10-ounce sizes.

Thus to allow a deficiency of one ounce on an eight-ounce package is to allow a short-weight of 12½ per cent, she said.

She continued:

"I do not believe the Department of Agriculture or any other state agency should be party to such backdoor pricing practices.

"As consumers, we have watched our rights in the grocery store being steadily whittled away. As a result of deceptive packaging and disuse of grade labeling, we already find ourselves in a game of blind man's bluff when we seek to distinguish quality.

"We oppose this ultimate affront of being told to take our chances hereafter between short weight or long weight but that we can't have net weight any longer."

Reservists Elect At Hamilton

Lt. Col. J. Paul Sibbitt of 81 Cambridge Heights, Novato, has been elected president of the Hamilton Air Force Base Chapter of the Reserve Officers Assn., replacing Lt. Col. James P. Jennings, who organized the chapter.

Official ceremonies for Sibbitt, who is chief of the Electronics Division, Western Air Defense Force, will take place in January.

Jennings will retire from active duty after more than 32 years service.

Other officers elected were Capt. Leroy R. Hyde, who will replace Col. Russell R. Bessom as vice president, and Capt. Onufry J. Broll, who will replace Capt. Perry Baldwin as secretary-treasurer.

The area of land under irrigation for agriculture in Turkey has increased 300 per cent since 1950.

Reservists Elect At Hamilton

Lt. Col. J. Paul Sibbitt of 81 Cambridge Heights, Novato, has been elected president of the Hamilton Air Force Base Chapter of the Reserve Officers Assn., replacing Lt. Col. James P. Jennings, who organized the chapter.

Official ceremonies for Sibbitt, who is chief of the Electronics Division, Western Air Defense Force, will take place in January.

Jennings will retire from active duty after more than 32 years service.

Other officers elected were Capt. Leroy R. Hyde, who will replace Col. Russell R. Bessom as vice president, and Capt. Onufry J. Broll, who will replace Capt. Perry Baldwin as secretary-treasurer.

Marin Firm Develops New Helmet For Pilots

By WILLIAM L. EARLE

What's good for an anthropometric dummy should be good for a man.

The Air Force is discovering this in tests of a new type of pilot's protective helmet developed by H. Koch and Sons, Inc., of Corte Madera.

The molded plastic helmet shell is reinforced with Fiberglas. A second new type, for use by Navy pilots, also has been developed by Koch's aeronautical hardware division.

The Air Force version, mounted on a dummy, was successfully tested against severe wind blast conditions recently at Hurricane Mesa, Utah. Placed on a sled, the dummy was ejected when the sled reached a speed of 720 miles per hour.

It was catapulted over a 1,500-ft. cliff, separating from the ejection seat one second after leaving the rocket sled.

Sierra Engineering Co., which conducted the test, reported that "almost immediately . . . the dummy started excessive tumbling and flailing."

Five second later, it was on its way to a normal parachute landing on the side of the steep-walled canyon. The dummy and 'chute were found about halfway between the top of the mesa and the valley floor.

Inspection of the helmet showed it had sustained no damage, the test report declared.

Success of the experiment is credited by Koch officials to the company's new "multi-compress" process for molding complex Fiberglas shapes.

"It provides a stronger, lighter item than those molded by matched metal die, rubber 'plug' bag molding or vacuum molding processes," said Norris H. Murray, manager of the aeronautical hardware division.

"Also, production is faster than by these other processes, only one of which can be used successfully to mold complex shapes on a high production basis."

Murray said multi-compress also results in the production of parts having a constant thickness throughout. It may involve the use of either glass cloth or glass mat, or combinations of both.

In conjunction with the newly developed process, the Koch firm also has evolved a technique of eliminating "flash" marks when shaping items on a split mold, Murray reported. He said this further speeds production and enhances the appearance of the molded item.

"In addition to the various military applications of multi-compress," he said, "H. Koch and Sons plans to utilize the process in manufacturing commercial headgear, such as police and racing helmets, and in molding many other consumer items."

HE KNOWS NOW THAT HIS CAR IS CAT'S MEOW

FRESNO (AP)—If he never knew it before, City Clerk Elwood D. Roughton of Fresno is now aware his beloved Cadillac is the cat's meow.

En route home from his office, Roughton heard noises. He stopped once to investigate, but all was quiet.

At home the noise started again and became raucous. Roughton lifted the hood.

There was a multi-colored alley cat, in all its sound and fury.

Mrs. Roughton tried to placate him with food. But all the cat wanted was distance from the car. And he got it.

The Federal Park Service says that only 240 miles of the 3,700-mile-long Atlantic and Gulf coastlines are publicly owned.

Don't Regard The Children As Second-Rate Members Of Family

Do your children have an honored place in your home? Or are they second-rate members of the family? How do you treat them?

For example, do they eat alone in the kitchen so you can dine in childless dignity later? Mealtimes are important. They can make or break the spirit of your family. Share your meals with your children, even though they may cause confusion.

When you have guests, do you hide your children? Make them stay out of sight? I hope you'll trot them out. Let them do a little talking. They should not monopolize things, but they're too important to ignore. Their feelings matter. They're curious and they want to be seen.

How about traveling? Do you park your children with their grandparents when you take off? Sometimes you must, but when possible take them along. They'll profit greatly by going places and doing thing with you.

In restaurants do you order a $5 steak and make the children get 50-cent hamburgers? Some folks do. Of course, if your youngsters prefer the hamburgers, it's another matter.

See what I mean by second-rate member of the family?

Most of us have our children because we want them. We love them and we're glad they are with us. Let's not treat them as though we were ashamed of them. Show them we're proud of them. They'll respond.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Dec. 17, the 351st day of the year, with 14 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1807, New England poet and journalist John Greenleaf Whittier was born.

In 1878, the term "Solid South" was used for the first time when Sen. Morgan of Alabama uttered it in a speech on the floor of the Senate.

In 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first successful airplane flights in history as they soared over the sand dunes near Kitty Hawk, N.C.

In 1925, Gen. Billy Mitchell, outspoken critic of the War and Navy Departments, was found guilty by a court-martial of conduct prejudicial to the good of the armed forces.

In 1936, the famed dummy Charlie McCarthy, with Edgar Bergen doing the talking, made his first appearance on a national radio program.

A thought for today: English writer William McFee said: "The world belongs to the enthusiast who keeps cool."

Theresa in Latin means a girl who carries ears of corn during a harvest.

No Smoke, But Fire

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (UPI)—Lumberjacks got the surprise of their lives recently when they felled an old cedar which burst into flames as it shattered to the ground.

Foresters discovered the tree was little more than a hollow shell and that a spark from a nearby fire late last year apparently had smoldered inside it for five months, burning out more than 60 feet of the core of the trunk without producing enough smoke to be noticed.

Hamilton Squadron Gets Top Rating

The 8500th Air Force Reserve Navigation Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base has topped all 17 similar units across the nation in operational readiness, it was announced today by Continental Air Command headquarters in New York.

The local unit has attained a near-perfect 97.1 average in operational or combat readiness, the announcement said.

Earlier this year the 8500th, one of two West Coast navigation squadrons in the 4th Air Force, was voted the nation's outstanding Air Force Reserve navigation squadron.

General Gets His Flag

CAMP McCOY, Wis. (AP) — Pfc, Jerry Rubin of Chicago earned the title of "Betsy Ross' during a two-week Army Reserve encampment.

When it was discovered that no flag was available to denote the rank of a major general who was coming for a review, Rubin was told to devise one.

Rubin found two of the one-star flags used for brigadier generals, removed the stars and then sewed them both on a pillow case.

RESOLUTION NO. 2281

RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO CITY OF SAN RAFAEL OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "CYPRESS POINT ANNEXATION" AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, a petition signed by owners of all of the land in the territory described in Exhibit "A," which said exhibit is attached hereto and by reference is incorporated herein and made a part hereof, by area and by assessed valuation as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin, was filed with the Council of the City of San Rafael on December 7, 1959, requesting annexation of said territory to said city; and

WHEREAS, prior to the circulation, signing and filing, and acceptance of said petition, a written description of the said proposal for annexation had been filed with the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin, State of California, and said Commission has prepared a report to the proponents upon the said annexation proposal with respect to the definiteness and certainty of the proposed boundaries, the non-conformance of proposed boundaries with lines of assessment or ownership, the creation of islands or corridors of unincorporated territory and other similar matters affecting the proposed boundaries and has also prepared and transmitted to the Clerk of this Council a copy of a report containing a list of all districts in which the property proposed to be annexed is situated.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, HEREBY RESOLVES:

(1) That Monday, the 18th day of January, 1960, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock p.m. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory described in Exhibit "A" and having any protests or objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before this Council and show cause why said territory, or any part thereof, should not be annexed to the City of San Rafael as petitioned for. All protests must be in writing and may be filed with the Clerk of this Council at any time before the hour set herein for hearing of said objections, and shall state the name of the owner of the property affected and a description and area of the property in general terms. Protests may be made on behalf of property owners by their duly authorized agents.

(2) That the City Clerk be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, published in said City of San Rafael, said publication to be completed at least twenty (20) days prior to the date herein set for the hearing of protests.

(3) That said City Clerk be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to cause a written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin not less than twenty (20) days before the date herein set for hearing of objections.

Adopted this 7th day of December, 1959, by the following vote:
AYES: Aby, Baar, Jensen, Menary and Mayor McInnis
NOES: None
ABSENT: None

Don't Regard The Children As Second-Rate Members Of Family

Do your children have an honored place in your home? Or are they second-rate members of the family? How do you treat them?

For example, do they eat alone in the kitchen so you can dine in childless dignity later? Mealtimes are important. They can make or break the spirit of your family. Share your meals with your children, even though they may cause confusion.

When you have guests, do you hide your children? Make them stay out of sight? I hope you'll trot them out. Let them do a little talking. They should not monopolize things, but they're too important to ignore. Their feelings matter. They're curious and they want to be seen.

How about traveling? Do you park your children with their grandparents when you take off? Sometimes you must, but when possible take them along. They'll profit greatly by going places and doing thing with you.

In restaurants do you order a $5 steak and make the children get 50-cent hamburgers? Some folks do. Of course, if your youngsters prefer the hamburgers, it's another matter.

See what I mean by second-rate member of the family?

Most of us have our children because we want them. We love them and we're glad they are with us. Let's not treat them as though we were ashamed of them. Show them we're proud of them. They'll respond.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Dec. 17, the 351st day of the year, with 14 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1807, New England poet and journalist John Greenleaf Whittier was born.

In 1878, the term "Solid South" was used for the first time when Sen. Morgan of Alabama uttered it in a speech on the floor of the Senate.

In 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright made the first successful airplane flights in history as they soared over the sand dunes near Kitty Hawk, N.C.

In 1925, Gen. Billy Mitchell, outspoken critic of the War and Navy Departments, was found guilty by a court-martial of conduct prejudicial to the good of the armed forces.

In 1936, the famed dummy Charlie McCarthy, with Edgar Bergen doing the talking, made his first appearance on a national radio program.

A thought for today: English writer William McFee said: "The world belongs to the enthusiast who keeps cool."

Theresa in Latin means a girl who carries ears of corn during a harvest.

No Smoke, But Fire

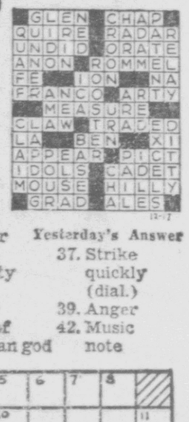

SPRINGFIELD, Ore. (UPI)—Lumberjacks got the surprise of their lives recently when they felled an old cedar which burst into flames as it shattered to the ground.

Foresters discovered the tree was little more than a hollow shell and that a spark from a nearby fire late last year apparently had smoldered inside it for five months, burning out more than 60 feet of the core of the trunk without producing enough smoke to be noticed.

Hamilton Squadron Gets Top Rating

The 8500th Air Force Reserve Navigation Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base has topped all 17 similar units across the nation in operational readiness, it was announced today by Continental Air Command headquarters in New York.

The local unit has attained a near-perfect 97.1 average in operational or combat readiness, the announcement said.

Earlier this year the 8500th, one of two West Coast navigation squadrons in the 4th Air Force, was voted the nation's outstanding Air Force Reserve navigation squadron.

General Gets His Flag

CAMP McCOY, Wis. (AP) — Pfc, Jerry Rubin of Chicago earned the title of "Betsy Ross' during a two-week Army Reserve encampment.

When it was discovered that no flag was available to denote the rank of a major general who was coming for a review, Rubin was told to devise one.

Rubin found two of the one-star flags used for brigadier generals, removed the stars and then sewed them both on a pillow case.

RESOLUTION NO. 2281

RESOLUTION GIVING NOTICE OF PROPOSED ANNEXATION TO CITY OF SAN RAFAEL OF UNINHABITED TERRITORY DESCRIBED HEREIN AND DESIGNATED "CYPRESS POINT ANNEXATION" AND GIVING NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR HEARING OF PROTESTS THERETO.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939, a petition signed by owners of all of the land in the territory described in Exhibit "A," which said exhibit is attached hereto and by reference is incorporated herein and made a part hereof, by area and by assessed valuation as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the County of Marin, was filed with the Council of the City of San Rafael on December 7, 1959, requesting annexation of said territory to said city; and

WHEREAS, prior to the circulation, signing and filing, and acceptance of said petition, a written description of the said proposal for annexation had been filed with the Boundary Commission of the County of Marin, State of California, and said Commission has prepared a report to the proponents upon the said annexation proposal with respect to the definiteness and certainty of the proposed boundaries, the non-conformance of proposed boundaries with lines of assessment or ownership, the creation of islands or corridors of unincorporated territory and other similar matters affecting the proposed boundaries and has also prepared and transmitted to the Clerk of this Council a copy of a report containing a list of all districts in which the property proposed to be annexed is situated.

NOW, THEREFORE, THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, HEREBY RESOLVES:

(1) That Monday, the 18th day of January, 1960, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock p.m. in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, is hereby fixed as the time and place when and where any person owning real property within the uninhabited territory described in Exhibit "A" and having any protests or objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before this Council and show cause why said territory, or any part thereof, should not be annexed to the City of San Rafael as petitioned for. All protests must be in writing and may be filed with the Clerk of this Council at any time before the hour set herein for hearing of said objections, and shall state the name of the owner of the property affected and a description and area of the property in general terms. Protests may be made on behalf of property owners by their duly authorized agents.

(2) That the City Clerk be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to cause a copy of this resolution to be published at least twice, but not oftener than once a week, in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, published in said City of San Rafael, said publication to be completed at least twenty (20) days prior to the date herein set for the hearing of protests.

(3) That said City Clerk be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to cause a written notice of such proposed annexation to be mailed to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin not less than twenty (20) days before the date herein set for hearing of objections.

Adopted this 7th day of December, 1959, by the following vote:
AYES: Aby, Baar, Jensen, Menary and Mayor McInnis
NOES: None
ABSENT: None

THE MOST WONDERFUL CHRISTMAS FOR MEN WITH $5
AND A PROBLEM

Problem: How to buy the perfect gift for the No. 1 girl in your life . . . and stay solvent.
Suggestion: Take that $5 to your Singer Sewing Center and leave it there . . . as a layaway deposit on a sparkling new Singer. We'll help you decide the right model and the right terms. Our prices start with the new Spartan at $59.50. Terms run to 30 months—so the most wonderful Christmas ever for her can be the most painless ever for you!
(Confidentially, she'll save more doing her own sewing than you'll be putting up for the machine.) She doesn't sew? Think nothing of it — with most models she gets a six-lesson, 15-hour sewing course, free, from one of our expert teachers. Even you could sew after that.

Lighthouse For Blind Renews Fund Drive

The Lighthouse for the Blind is renewing its fund drive this week in its "Be Grateful You Can See" seal campaign, which, according to Marin County chairman Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham Jr. of San Rafael, is considerably short of its goal. Contributions sought are for the 1960 operating fund.

Seals may be purchased, Mrs. Hickingbotham says, by writing to her at 1408 Mission avenue or by writing to the Lighthouse at 1097 Howard street, San Francisco.

The glass container is believed to be man's oldest kind of package. The Egyptians used sand molds to form jars and bottles 4,000 years ago.

Lawmaker Calls Hearings On New Cigarette Tax

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Thomas J. MacBride (D-Sacramento) has called a meeting of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee to discuss California's new three-cents-a-pack tax on cigarettes.

MacBride, who authored the tax bill in the 1959 Legislature, said the hearings here Jan. 20 and 21 may result in legislation to amend the cigarette tax.

He said the main point of contention is the method of collecting the tax. The present method of affixing stamps to the packages is costing the state about $1,800,000 a year, he said.

MacBride said this point of the law is "objectionable" and the committee would consider collecting the tax from wholesalers on an invoice method so that each package need not be handled.

Gen. Clark To Speak At Resources Session

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark has been selected as keynote speaker at a national defense resources conference to be held in Bakersfield Jan. 18-29.

The conference is sponsored by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

'PHOENIX TOO FREQUENT'—Ruth Rideout and William Graham appear in scene from Christopher Fry comedy which is to be presented tomorrow and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon at Tiburon Playhouse as UNICEF benefit.

3 Performances Set Of Comedy At Tiburon

The Improviso Touring Company will present three performances of Christopher Fry's comedy "A Phoenix Too Frequent," this weekend at the Tiburon Playhouse.

A major portion of the proceeds will go to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, it was announced.

Performances will be at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow and Saturday, and 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Improviso was formed a few months ago to tour Northern California. The Fry comedy recently completed a six-week run in Palo Alto and will move to San Francisco from Tiburon.

The cast members have all appeared in Bay Area productions before. Included are Ruth Rideout, Sandra Archer, William Graham and Henry Stein.

Arrangements for turning part of the proceeds over to UNICEF have been made by the Marin County Chapter of the American Assn. for the United Nations.

Brown Lays Down Policy On Time Off

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The days before Christmas and New Year's Days will not be holidays, but it will be all right if some employees get the afternoons off.

This was the advice given state department heads by Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday. He said arrangements have been made by department bosses in the past for part of their staffs to take the afternoons off. He suggested similar arrangements this year.

But the governor added a warning note:

There must be no alcoholic beverages at any informal gathering of workers on state-occupied premises. It's against the law.

Brown also reminded officers and employees of the impropriety of accepting gifts from persons or firms with whom the state does business.

Trustees To Let Sewer Plant Job

A special meeting of Reed Union School District trustees will be held at 6 o'clock tonight at the Tiburon boulevard district office to award the contract for installation of a sewer treatment plant at Reed School, according to Supt. Paul R. Stouffer.

Eight bids have been received for the project, which was estimated by engineers to cost $11,500, Stouffer said.

Also to be signed is a contract to include Reed School in the Tiburon Sanitary District.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

Chorus Can Take It Easy In This Concert

DETROIT (UPI) — The "Hush Label" record organization will mark its first anniversary next month by presenting a "silent concert" featuring the 65-voice University of Detroit chorus.

They will not sing.

Henry Morgan, radio and television humorist, will be master of ceremonies for the first annual Hush Label silent record concert and recording session. Morgan will talk.

The "concert" planned for Jan. 10 at the Cass Theater will follow "National Silent Record Week," which will be observed the first seven days after New Year's Eve.

Hush Label's silent records shot to national prominence a year ago when they first were introduced on the university student union juke box in retaliation against rock 'n' roll. You pay a dime for a record of silence.

Hush Label was formed by students to publish silent records in both regular and stereophonic silence (twice as silent as regular silence).

Hush announced (in a low voice) its most recent product is its own version of the old Christmas favorite, "Silent Night."

Boomtown

SARALAND, Ala. (AP) — It was like the minnow eating the shark. This small south Alabama community is suddenly 16 times as large as it was, thanks to a favorable annexation vote by residents of unincorporated areas surrounding the town. Population grew from 300 to 5,000 because of the vote.

Lawmaker Calls Hearings On New Cigarette Tax

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assemblyman Thomas J. MacBride (D-Sacramento) has called a meeting of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee to discuss California's new three-cents-a-pack tax on cigarettes.

MacBride, who authored the tax bill in the 1959 Legislature, said the hearings here Jan. 20 and 21 may result in legislation to amend the cigarette tax.

He said the main point of contention is the method of collecting the tax. The present method of affixing stamps to the packages is costing the state about $1,800,000 a year, he said.

MacBride said this point of the law is "objectionable" and the committee would consider collecting the tax from wholesalers on an invoice method so that each package need not be handled.

Lighthouse For Blind Renews Fund Drive

The Lighthouse for the Blind is renewing its fund drive this week in its "Be Grateful You Can See" seal campaign, which, according to Marin County chairman Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham Jr. of San Rafael, is considerably short of its goal. Contributions sought are for the 1960 operating fund.

Seals may be purchased, Mrs. Hickingbotham says, by writing to her at 1408 Mission avenue or by writing to the Lighthouse at 1097 Howard street, San Francisco.

The glass container is believed to be man's oldest kind of package. The Egyptians used sand molds to form jars and bottles 4,000 years ago.

Gen. Clark To Speak At Resources Session

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark has been selected as keynote speaker at a national defense resources conference to be held in Bakersfield Jan. 18-29.

The conference is sponsored by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

'PHOENIX TOO FREQUENT'—Ruth Rideout and William Graham appear in scene from Christopher Fry comedy which is to be presented tomorrow and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon at Tiburon Playhouse as UNICEF benefit.

3 Performances Set Of Comedy At Tiburon

The Improviso Touring Company will present three performances of Christopher Fry's comedy "A Phoenix Too Frequent," this weekend at the Tiburon Playhouse.

A major portion of the proceeds will go to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, it was announced.

Performances will be at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow and Saturday, and 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Improviso was formed a few months ago to tour Northern California. The Fry comedy recently completed a six-week run in Palo Alto and will move to San Francisco from Tiburon.

The cast members have all appeared in Bay Area productions before. Included are Ruth Rideout, Sandra Archer, William Graham and Henry Stein.

Arrangements for turning part of the proceeds over to UNICEF have been made by the Marin County Chapter of the American Assn. for the United Nations.

Brown Lays Down Policy On Time Off

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The days before Christmas and New Year's Days will not be holidays, but it will be all right if some employees get the afternoons off.

This was the advice given state department heads by Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday. He said arrangements have been made by department bosses in the past for part of their staffs to take the afternoons off. He suggested similar arrangements this year.

But the governor added a warning note:

There must be no alcoholic beverages at any informal gathering of workers on state-occupied premises. It's against the law.

Brown also reminded officers and employees of the impropriety of accepting gifts from persons or firms with whom the state does business.

Trustees To Let Sewer Plant Job

A special meeting of Reed Union School District trustees will be held at 6 o'clock tonight at the Tiburon boulevard district office to award the contract for installation of a sewer treatment plant at Reed School, according to Supt. Paul R. Stouffer.

Eight bids have been received for the project, which was estimated by engineers to cost $11,500, Stouffer said.

Also to be signed is a contract to include Reed School in the Tiburon Sanitary District.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

Chorus Can Take It Easy In This Concert

DETROIT (UPI) — The "Hush Label" record organization will mark its first anniversary next month by presenting a "silent concert" featuring the 65-voice University of Detroit chorus.

They will not sing.

Henry Morgan, radio and television humorist, will be master of ceremonies for the first annual Hush Label silent record concert and recording session. Morgan will talk.

The "concert" planned for Jan. 10 at the Cass Theater will follow "National Silent Record Week," which will be observed the first seven days after New Year's Eve.

Hush Label's silent records shot to national prominence a year ago when they first were introduced on the university student union juke box in retaliation against rock 'n' roll. You pay a dime for a record of silence.

Hush Label was formed by students to publish silent records in both regular and stereophonic silence (twice as silent as regular silence).

Boomtown

SARALAND, Ala. (AP) — It was like the minnow eating the shark. This small south Alabama community is suddenly 16 times as large as it was, thanks to a favorable annexation vote by residents of unincorporated areas surrounding the town. Population grew from 300 to 5,000 because of the vote.

Four Europeans Ask Mercy For Chessman

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A group of prominent Frenchmen and two Greek princesses have asked Gov. Edmund G. Brown to change his mind and commute the death sentence of Caryl Chessman.

The governor's office released the cable yesterday without comment. Brown previously rejected pleas for the convicted sex terrorist. The U. S. Supreme Court Monday turned down an appeal for Chessman, who has spent 11½ years in San Quentin Prison Death Row.

The wire from Paris appealed for mercy "in view of the long expectation of death of Caryl Chessman and of the traditions of humanity of the American people."

Signers included Francois Mauriac of the French Academy, author Andre Maurois, journalist Raymond Cartier, Prof. Raymond Aaron and Princesses Eugenie and George of Greece.

Arab Christians make up about 12 per cent of the population of predominantly Moslem Jordan.

New Chessman Death Date Due

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Caryl Chessman, sex bandit who has eluded the gas chamber more than 11 years, will be sentenced to death for the eighth time next Monday.

The Supreme Court a few days ago turned down Chessman's latest legal maneuver.

The execution date will be set by Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker.

Chessman was convicted in May of 1948 of 17 felonies, including two punishable by death.

Bolinas Parents Guests At Party

The Stinson Beach Parent-Teachers Club Tuesday was host to members of the Bolinas Parents group at a Christmas party at the Stinson Beach School.

Mrs. Audre Sankey, president of the Stinson Beach organization said members of the two groups exchanged gifts around the tree, then enjoyed refreshments.

School Christmas parties will be held Friday afternoon at the Stinson Beach and Bolinas schools.

Mrs. Sankey said the Stinson Beach group will hold a mothers' March of Dimes march Jan. 19, and that on Jan. 29 the group will sponsor a March of Dimes dance.

Vandals Wreck Tree At Lagunitas Home

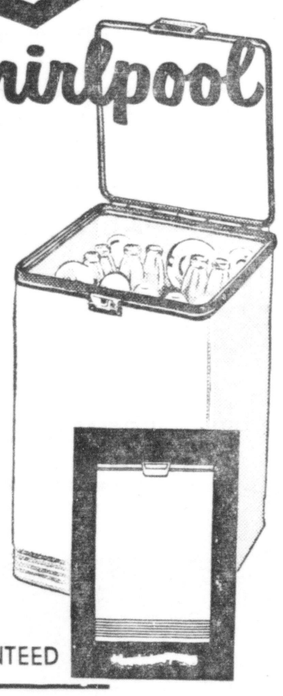

A Christmas tree was wrecked and a bottle of liquor and records stolen from a Lagunitas home Monday night, sheriff's deputies reported today.

John O. Holmes of Maple Brook road, Lagunitas, said he and his wife arrived home about 11:30 p.m. to find their home in a mess. Drawers and cabinets had been pulled out, and records scattered about the floors. The thief had entered through a back door.
